ANGRY MOB OF MINERS AT BAY

Fear Felt for Safety of the Sheriff and Deputies at Hands of Strikers

West Virginians Flee to the Mountains; Battle Is Reported Near

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Feb. 8.—Governor Glasscock, Adjutant-General D. D. Elliott and other State officers await this afternoon with anxiety information from Mucklow concerning the fate of Sheriff Bonner Hill and twenty-five deputies of Kanawha county, who at an earlier hour were reported to be facing an angry mob of striking miners in the little mountain village.

With Sheriff Bonner Hill and his men were Captain L. Guy Levy and a small party of mine guards, and it was their belief that they could maintain their position for an indefinite period. They are armed with modern rifles and a rapid-fire gun.

At 11 o'clock Sheriff Hill reported to the military authorities that he and his men had been unable to enter the miners' camp and up to that time had been unable to ascertain whether the firing last night had resulted in death or injury to any of the campers.

CONDITIONS CRITICAL.

Conditions are critical in Paint and Cabin creeks, Kanawha county, where a coal strike has been on over a year. A Chesapeake and Ohio passenger train was fired on late yesterday, the town of Mucklow, W. Va., was riddled with bullets and a physician, accompanied by a dying patient driving through the district, was fired upon. When the physician with his patient arrived at a hospital the patient was dead.

The train ran for half a mile under fire. The engineer and two passengers were injured. At Mucktown a majority of the houses bear bullet marks, but no one was injured there.

MINERS GATHERING.

At midnight striking miners gathered from Paint and Cabin creeks in the vicinity of Muctow. There is anxiety here as to the next move of the strikers

Deputy sheriffs waiting for such an attack as occurred last night were prepared. The officers fired at the miners' camp with rapid fire guns and rifles, but whether the shots were effective is not known.

TAKES SERIOUS TURN.

The situation took a more serious turn soon after noon when Govefnor Glasscock instructed Adjutant General Elliott to assemble the three Huntington troops, two Charleston companies and the Fayetteville company of the First regiment, West Virginia National Guard. According to the order the men are to be held under arms.

The legislature will assemble at 3 o'clock this afternoon, when, it is stated, the Governor will send to both houses a special message saying the situation in the coal country is before them and asking them to formally declare martial law.

Should the legislature refuse to take this action the Governor's friends say he will order the companies now under arms into the disturbed district. In any event the soldiers should be on duty by midnight.

FLEE TO MOUNTAINS.

Information this afternoon from Mucklow is that the miners have deserted the camp and gone into the mountains. Similar news came from Eskdale, where a large camp of miners was established several months ago.

It was also stated that before the rioting yesterday all the women and children had been sent from the Mucklow camp. The military authori-

Girl Aids Police To Capture Two Daylight Burglars

Miss E. Hooper Watches Thugs Enter Perkins Home and Follows Fugitives.

The police this afternoon captured two bold daylight burglars through the clever work of Miss E. Hooper, 17 years old, who resides at Eleventh avenue and Bella Vista avenue in East Oakland. Miss Hooper saw two men enter the home of GGeorge C. Perkins, Jr., son of Senator Perkins, at 1100 Eleventh avenue, after they had jimmied the window of the residence with a large chisel. She hurried to the telephone and notified the police, then she stood guard at the window of her home.

Before the police arrived on the scene the watching girl say the two burglars come out of the window again and hurry away. Realizing that they would escape unless she prevented them from so doing, Miss Hooper hurried after the fleeing men, leaving word with the people she met to apprise the police of the direction they were to take At Fourteenth avenue and East Twenty-fourth street he police auo, carrying Inspectors McSorley, Amigh and Wood, overtook the burglars, whom Miss Hooper pointed out the officers, and placed them under arrest.

Spring Lamb Sells at One Dollar a Pound

Housewives Are Given Shock at Washington, D. C., Market.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Housewives who visited the center market this morning uttered cries of dismay on discovering that spring lamb of the crop of 1913 was retailing at $1 a pound. This would make a leg of lamb cost from $6 to $8 and the price is said to be the highest ever recorded at this time of the year. The "trimmings" that generally accompany the succulent spring lambs—mint and green peas—retailed at 10 cents a bunch and 15 cents a quart, respectively. Prices of nearly all commodities are advancing and dealers regard the outlook for any decrease in the immediate future as not encouraging.

Found Dead With Violin in Hands

Seattle Musician Plays on Valuable Instrument When Death Comes.

SEATTLE, Feb. 8.—F. Elmore Rice, 46 years old, a violinist known in musical circles of Boston, New York and other eastern cities as O. Zamona, was found dead with his violin in his hands in his studio here late last night He was last seen by friends yesterday morning.

The violin which he was playing when he died was valued at $3000 and was made in Italy. He had been in the northwest several years. Death was caused by hemorrhage of the lungs. His wife and three children live in Tacoma.

Throws Child to Curb Before Auto Strikes

Mother Will Die of Injuries, but Child Escapes With Safety.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Realizing that she could not escape the wheels of an onrushing automobile which was approaching her, Mrs. Harry C. Langemo, 24 years old, threw her 18-month-old baby to the curbing of a downtown street and was herself crushed beneath the machine. She was fatally injured, but her child was saved. The driver was arrested.

Huge Bucket Falls; Thirteen Men Die

MANCHESTER, Eng., Feb. 8.—Thirteen men were killed and a number injured at the Bolzover colliery by the snapping of a chain to which was suspended a bucket containing 800 gallons of water. The bucket crashed down the 500-foot shaft onto the workers, crushing them into an unrecognizable mass. Only a few, who happened to be in shelter holes, at the sides of the shaft, escaped death.

15,000 DIE IN GREAT BATTLE

Bulgarians Administer Crushing Defeat in Conflict on Gallipoli Peninsula

Soldiers of Porte Routed in Fight at Scutari; Battleships Sunk

LONDON, Feb. 8.—Fifteen thousand Turks killed and ten thousand taken prisoners was the reported result of a terrible battle fought on the peninsula of Gallipoli today.

The sensational report of the Turkish defeat at the hands of Bulgarian troops was published in Berlin this morning. but received no official confirmation.

It is doubted here whether such a battle could have been fought and such a victory won without Bulgarian headquarters hastening officially to notify the world.

Montenegro, like all the rest of the belligerents in the Balkan war, is badly in need of funds. The government at Cettinje is now trying to place a small short term issue here, but their financiers have barred their doors and resolutely refuse to give any assistance which might prolong the fighting.

TO RESUME NEGOTIATIONS.

SOFIA, Feb. 8.—The negotiations between Bulgaria and Roumania on the frontier question will be resumed here. Dr. Daneff, who was head of the Bulgarian peace delegation in London, and M. Sarafoff, former minister to Turkey, have been appointed as Bulgarian delegates for the negotiations, and M. Ghihka, the Roumanian minister to Bulgaria, probably will represent his country.

The official Mir denies reports that more Servian troops are being sent into Thrace. It says the Bulgarians are able to dispense with their assistance.

PREDICTS QUICK END.

SALONIKI, Feb. 8.—M. Venizelos, the Greek premier, who has been attending the peace conference in London, arrived here yesterday and met with an extraordinary popular ovation. Thirty thousand persons were at the station to greet him, including Prince Nicholas of Greece, the military governor and a large assemblage of officials. Replying to addresses of welcome, M. Venizelos predicted that the war with Turkey would be of short duration.

NEWS IS SCARCE.

LONDON, Feb. 8.—Fighting continues between the Turks and allies in southeastern Europe, but in the absence of independent reports, the conflicting accounts from official sources provide no basis for critical judgment of what is happening. The most interesting news of yesterday received here told of the flight of a Greek hydro-aeroplane over the Dardanelles.

Rumors continue to circulate here of the approaching renewal of peace negotiations. Nothing definite is known in this respect, but Bulgaria and Roumania are about to resume at Sofia their negotiations on the frontier question which recently were interrupted in London.

It is understood that the last meeting of the ambassadorial conference discussed the Albanian question and the conferees argued for and against sending an international commission to delimit the frontiers of the new Albanian state.

CIVILIANS IN FLIGHT.

LONDON, Feb. 8.—A dispatch to a news agency from Constantinople describes the wild panic and flight of civilians from Gallipoli owing to the advance of the Bulgarian troops. Many hundreds of persons, the dispatch says, sought refuge on the military transports sent there and numerous overloaded boats were overturned and hundreds of persons drowned

The dispatch asserts that on Sunday

WOMAN HELD AS SUSPECT IN MURDER

Body of Man Found in Dimond Leads Police to Investigate

MELROSE, Feb. 8.—Hanging from the rafters of his room by a clothesline, the body of William Skelton, a laborer, was found this morning by his housekeeper, Mary Flynn, who as a result of police investigation, is now being held in detinue on suspicion. A mysterious man in the case, regarding whom the woman's testimony and statements of neighbors disagree, have given rise to a suspicion of murder on the part of the police.

Skelton's body was found, hanging at his home, 4132 Tanning street, Dimond, reclining on the floor, the position being unusual in a suicide case. This fact, coupled with an investigation into the dead man's relations with the housekeeper and the stories of a stranger seen about the place early this morning, resulted in the woman being held.

The man, Mrs. Flynn declares, came to the home at 10 o'clock, asking to see Skelton, and together they discovered his body. The neighbors say the man was seen at the place three hours earlier. Mrs. Flynn declares that, he gave his name as "John G. Brown." The police are searching for this man.

Captain Louis Agnew, Sergeant Woods and several detectives arrived on the case immediately after the report of the finding of the body was received by the Melrose police. It was then that the woman was held, on finding that a discrepancy existed in regard to the stories of the arrival of the strange man.

Robbery may have been the motive say the police, who state that jealousy also might have been the incentive for the crime. Skelton had recently borrowed about $500 on his property. This money was not found about the place, although it was known that he had carried it prior to his death.

Banker in Hurry To Get Into Prison

Indicted Wednesday, Arrested Thursday, Sentenced Friday.

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Feb. 8.—Justice moved swiftly when R. H. Lusk, former president of the First National Bank of Wilburton, was indicted Wednesday for misappropriation of the bank's funds. Lusk was sentenced late yesterday to five years in prison. A warrant was issued for the banker on Thursday. Friday at 5 o'clock he arrived here, went before the federal court, pleaded guilty and was sentenced. At 9 o'clock he was on a train carrying him to the penitentiary at Fort Leavenworth. Twice since age was said to be $40,000 It is understood that relatives made good the amount.

Declares Pa Offered Servant $1 for Kiss

Young Son of A. J. Bledsoe Testifies Against Parent in Divorce Case.

That A. J. Bledsoe, legal publisher, who is suing his wife, Mrs. Jessie Bledsoe, for divorce, once offered a servant girl $1 for a kiss in their home in New York, was the testimony given this morning before Superior Judge Harris by the 10-year-old son of the couple.

Bledsoe, who is acting as his own attorney in the suit, objected to the child's testimony on the ground that he was too young, but the court ruled that he might take the stand. Bledsoe shed tears at the lad's appearance in court.

The witness said further that his mother had not endeavored to influence him against his father. The case will be submitted next Tuesday.

Police Commends This Holdup Scheme

Los Angeles Youths Have Plan to Turn Tables on Robbers.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 8.—Premeditated robbery was sanctioned by the police here for the first time when two young men, who were arrested last night, explained that they had tried to rob only persons who made a business of robbing others.

The young men, well dressed and husky, explained that they sought the haunts of hold-up men in the hope that they would be held up. They planned to turn the tables on any hold-up man that dared accost them and rob him. After an investigation they were commended by the police for their unique scheme.

SUSPECTS HELD IN JAIL AT MARTINEZ

Police Believe Scalzo and Casquale Know More of Murder

Announcing that important clews have been obtained which may lead to the arrest of the murderers of Bert Blanchard, deputy game warden, within the next 24 hours, Sheriff R. R. Veale, Chief of Police J. P. Arnold of Richmond and Deputy District Attorney A. S. Ormsby, of Contra Costa county today pressed their investigation.

C. Casquale and Luigi Scalzo, whom H. N. Snively and D. R. Boot failed to identify as the men they saw with Blanchard last Sunday, today were taken to the Martinez jail, and, according to the officials, will be held pending developments. Sheriff Veale says he is not satisfied with the statement of Casquale and Scalzo that they did not know Blanchard.

SEEK MAN BEHIND CAMERA.

When Sheriff Veale discovers the man who took Bert Blanchard's picture last Sunday, he declares he will have the companion of the murdered deputy game warden.

Blanchard's picture was taken with his own camera at the spot where his body was found later, in the hills near Stege.

"The man who took the picture, in my opinion, was the man who killed Blanchard," said Sheriff Veale last night.

"My theory is that Blanchard had two men in custody. They knew him, possibly had been questioned by him, or held up for investigation on previ-

BODY GONE, FATHER CLAIMS

E. Pieper of Richmond Says Relatives Found Yawning Pit Instead of Mound

Superintendent of Cemetery Declares Corpse Remains Where It Was Placed

RICHMOND, Feb. 8.—Believing that body-snatchers have been at work, and have stolen the remains of his 14-year-old son Herbert, who was buried yesterday morning in Sunset View Cemetery, E. Pieper, a well-known grocer residing at his place of business at 516 10th street, has reported the matter to the county authorities and asked that the grave be again opened.

Deputy District Attorney A. S. Ormsby, accompanied by Pieper and other relatives of the dead boy, went to Sunset View Cemetery this afternoon, where preparations were made to open the grave at once.

Sheriff R. R. Veale of Contra Costa county was in Richmond this morning, but left the case in the hands of Ormsby. Ormsby is making a thorough investigation of the facts alleged by Pieper and upon his report Sheriff Veale states he will take action. If the allegations made by Pieper prove true, a more serious matter than any that has confronted Contra Costa county officials in a long time will demand their attention.

DIES OF MENINGITIS.

Herbert Pieper died here of spinal cerebral meningitis, and was buried from the undertaking establishment of E. B. Smallwood. The funeral was held in great haste yesterday morning because of the serious nature of the ailment of which the youth died, and some relatives of the Pieper family residing in San Francisco were unable to reach Richmond in time to attend it. Pieper states that these relatives went to Sunset View Cemetery yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock, some hours after the funeral, to view the grave and place some flowers thereon. To their horror, instead of the flower-covered grave which they expected to see, Pieper declares, before them was an open pit, and all around lay flowers in confusion. Pieper states that after this was reported to him, he also received a message over the telephone from a friend, stating that a dead wagon had been seen leaving the cemetery from the vicinity of the Pieper grave.

Pieper was much wrought up over the incident and in company with a police officer he went out to the burial grounds and found the grave of his son filled up and the flowers rearranged as if nothing unusual had happened. He demanded of the cemetery caretaker that the grave be opened and that he be permitted to view the remains of his son in order to satisfy himself that the body was there. The grave diggers at first were not inclined to comply with his request, but, when urged to begin operations by Pieper and the police officer they complied with his request. Pieper says that the coffin was opened and that all that was revealed were a few rags.

Where the body has been taken is a mystery, but Pieper believes it is probable that in view of the fact that the disease from which young Pieper died is a very rare one, meningitis, and an infectious one for which no cure has as yet

State Is Drenched by Rain; Storm Coming From South

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8. — Heavy showers are expected tonight, and the forecast of the United States Weather Bureau for this vicinity is a prediction of rain of an intermittent character for the next day or so. The present storm is gradually coming from the southwest and the section below the Tehachapi has had a good supply of rain, which practically puts the growers on easy street, as far as crops are concerned. During the last 24 hours the region about Los Angeles, and including Pasadena, Redlands and San Bernardino, has had more than an inch, and it is still raining. The bay cities have been on the edge of this storm, but have had only .06 of an inch so far. There seems to be little doubt but that the downpour will bring a goodly supply. A peculiar feature of the storm is that it is the same as that which ran out the northern coast four days ago. It was blown steadily eastward and then returned to the Pacific Ocean over a southerly route.

Condition of Rockefeller Reported Little Better

BRUNSWICK, Ga., Feb. 8. — William Rockefeller was reported to be little, if any, improved this morning after his breakdown yesterday while being questioned by Chairman Pujo of the House money trust committee. "Mr. Rockefeller still feels the strain of yesterday's ordeal," said Dr. Walter Chappell, his personal physician. "His throat is in a serious condition and he has scarcely been able to speak since the committee's departure."

While Rockefeller's condition is considered serious, it is not believed there is immediate danger. Mrs. Rockefeller and their two sons are still the oil magnate on Jekyl Island.

U. S. VESSELS ARE ORDERED SOUTH

Troubles in Central America Cause Despatch of Four Warships.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Storm clouds over Central America with the single exception of Costa Rica has caused the United States to order four warships here.

Reports upon which this government took action came from many quarters and though in most cases they are somewhat vague and speculative, they are strongly of the same general tenor—that it is no longer thought wise to permit American interests in Central America to remain exposed to any danger.

In Salvador the attempted assassination last Tuesday of President Araujo by a band of conspirators, is believed here to threaten trouble, although she sent assurances today that the country was quiet. From time to time have rumors of rebellious movements in Honduras and unrest in Guatemala been current, while in New Orleans there are gathering soldiers of fortune and adherents of Zelaya, the deposed dictator, credited with sinister designs on the government of President Diaz of Nicaragua.

To meet the situation so far as is possible at this time the Navy Department has ordered the gunboat Annapolis, now at San Diego, to proceed immediately to Amapala, Honduras. The cruiser Denver will proceed from Acapulco, Mexico, to Acajutal, Salvador, and the gunboat Des Moines, after finishing target practice, will be ordered from San Domingo to Bluefields, Nicaragua. To further protect the Atlantic coast the gunboat Nashville at New Orleans has been ordered to Puerto Cortez, Honduras, or Puerto Barrios, Guatemala.

It is practically decided that these four ships whose movements were decided upon late yesterday will be augmented by the gunboat Tacoma now at Boston. Final orders for her movement are expected probably today.

TO PROVIDE REFUGE.

There has been sharp criticism in Congress of this government's interference in Nicaraguan revolution but it is said President Taft and Secretary Knox are firmly convinced of the right to use American forces for the protection of United States citizens whenever a state of anarchy exists in Central America or, or the established governments fail to do so.

ANNAPOLIS SAILS.

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 8.—The gunboat Annapolis left for the south at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. She is thought to be bound for Guaymas, but nothing definite is known here as to her destination. Her crew was reinforced with a draft of 40 men from the cruisers South Dakota and Colorado, now in port.

PUNISHMENT SOUGHT.

HAVANA, Feb. 8.—Arthur M. Beaupre, the American minister to Cuba, acting under direction of the State Department at Washington, has presented to Secretary of State Sanguily a peremptory note insisting that immediate measures be taken for the prosecution and exemplary punishment of the persons responsible for the recent attacks on the American legation by the newspaper Cuba.

The note intimates that should the Cuban laws be insufficient for the protection of foreign diplomats the United States will insist that means for their protection be found promptly.

A further attack upon Mr. Beaupre was made this afternoon by the same newspaper, which reiterated its former charges.

It also announced that Representative Soto, who is described as the editor of Cuba will present a bill to Congress demanding that President Gomez submit to the house copies of all the notes presented to the government by Mr. Beaupre and Hugh S. Gibson, secretary of the American legation.

The announcement that Senor Soto has assumed the editorship of the Cuba is taken here to indicate that the actual editor, Jose Maria Villaverde, will attempt to take shelter behind Soto, who as a representative, is immune from prosecution, without the consent of congress.

There is rising indignation among Americans here over the failure of President Gomez to take recourse in the remedy of deporting Villaverde, which he promptly did by presidential decree last year, when the Cuba assailed him. Later he permitted Villaverde to return.

WILL TURN VACANT LOTS INTO PARK NEAR HOTEL

Boosters to Roll Up Sleeves and Get Busy on Beautification Plan.

The Property in Front of Hotel Oakland Will Be Made Attractive.

Oakland will achieve the distinction next Saturday afternoon of being the first city whose business men have turned out in a body to clean vacant lots and make a park of them.

The lot is that across Thirteenth street from the new Hotel Oakland.

Now it contains empty cans, two old automobile cylinders and a dead cat. Saturday it wil be a garden as the result of the work of the committees in charge of the novel plan. The Ad Club, Chamber of Commerce, Progress and Prosperity Committee, Downtown Improvement Club, Manufacturers' Association, Tri-City Rotary Club, Merchants' Exchange, improvement clubs and other organizations are behind the move.

The park design will be extremely simple. Mayor Mott, in high silk hat and immaculate trousers, will drive the first plow across the lot. About 5000 spectators are expected to witness the beginning of the work.

VOLUNTEERS MANY.

The movement was started by Fred Reed, Louis Aber, H. C. Capwell, M. J. Laymance and a few other boosters, almost immediately after the hotel was opened. The land on a part of which the Chamber of Commerce building stands, presents a shabby appearance from the front door of the hotel, and it was decided that for the sake of Oakland's reputation this should not be. A call was issued for committees, and four contracting firms—the Hutchinson Company, the Ransome-Crummey Company, Bates, Borland & Ayer, and Blake & Bilger—donated three teams each for the work.

TO TAKE "MOVIES."

The work will start with much mirth and merriment. As Mayor Mott drives the first furrow across the lot, bands will play and the city executive will be the target for moving picture cameras sent to the affair by the Pathe and the Essenay studios.

Thursday evening final arrangements will be made for the affair at a big meeting to be held at the Chamber of Commerce rooms. All improvement clubs in the city are invited to send delegates to this session. A number of prominent speakers are promised and final committees and arrangements will be decided on. W. P. Baxter, one of the property owners, is to give a luncheon to these committees at the Hotel Oakland.

"This is a civic matter," declared Fred Reed, one of the leaders of the plan today, "and will, moreover, bring this city much valuable publicity. We want the improvement clubs to turn out, and will make this a banner event in Oakland's history."

A general call to improvement clubs for delegates to the meeting Thursday night has been issued by Kenneth A. Millican, chairman of the lot parking committee, as follows:

CALL ISSUED.

"The Progress and Prosperity Committee of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce has felt that visitors to our city would carry with them more pleasant recollections of 'Our City—Oakland,' and the Oakland Hotel if the vacant ground now facing that building between Twelfth and Thirteenth streets were to be made attractive as a miniature park. With this end in view, you and your members are invited to co-operate with the Lot Parking Committee of the organization referred to, by helping in the work on Saturday, February 15. Several hundred Chamber of Commerce business men will gather at the property at 1:30 p. m. on that day to transform what is now an unsightly spot into a pretty breathing spot in harmony with our splendid new hotel. All officers of local improvement clubs are urgently requested to communicate with the chairman of the committee and announce the names of five of their delegates, who will participate in the work. This is an unusual opportunity for the display of real civic pride and spirit, the results from which will be lasting and beneficial."

BRADBURY WILL TO BE CONTESTED

Intention to Attack Bequest Is Announced by the Relatives.

SAN RAFAEL, Feb. 8.—The will of William Blackstone Bradbury, millionaire of Corte Madera, a document of 50 words, bequeathing to his widow, Mrs. Mary Bradbury, an immense fortune in personal property, is to be contested.

Briefer and as comprehensive was the document filed in the county clerk's office here, setting forth that the terms of the will would be contested by Walter L. Bradbury, Philander O. Getz and Lillian Mehitael Jordan, two nephews and a niece of the dead man.

Hiram Johnson Jr and D. M. Duffy, attorneys for Mrs. Bradbury, have petitioned for letters testamentary to grant Mrs. Bradbury, named as executrix without bonds, to make a distribution of the property.

The interposing document was read in court today, and Superior Judge Zook set the hearing of the case for March 7.

No intimation of the grounds upon which the contest will be made was given by the attorney. In view, however, of Bradbury's reputation for eccentricity of character, one trait of which was responsible for his serving a term of a year in San Quentin prison almost at the close of his long life, it is probable that insanity will form the basis of the complaint.

Bradbury died at his Corte Madera home a month ago after a short illness. His 78th birthday occurred on New Year's Day.

SUPERIOR COURT UPHOLDS STATE CORPORATION TAX

Pullman Company Among Foreign Companies Affected by Decision

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8.—Superior Judge Sturtevant, in a lengthy decision affecting between 50 and 100 local and foreign corporations, sustains the state corporation tax as enacted by the Legislature April 1, 1911. A few instances occur wherein the board of equalization levies the assessment, if not sustained in its taxing of corporations, but, in the main, the court holds that the law is a just one and has only decided in favor of those concerned who showed plainly that an injustice was being done them.

Today's opinion was rendered by the court in connection with the multitude of actions filed against State Treasurer E. D. Roberts, asking a judgment for taxes paid under protest on assessments levied by the state board of equalization. These taxes were received under section 1, of article 13 of the constitution, as passed in 1910, and enacted the following year, providing for the assessment of franchises. The purpose was to amend the constitution so that the state would get revenue from the intangible property of large concerns, as well as from the tangible.

CORPORATIONS PROTEST.

The foreign corporations set up the claim that the board of equalization had assessed them on their gross earnings in these were included the proceeds of their interstate business. The largest corporations in this group which made complaint were the Pullman Company and the Colorado Fuel & Iron Company. Because of this interstate feature it was claimed that the act itself was unconstitutional.

The court holds in this regard that the board did not assess the earnings of the earnings of the foreign corporations and their interstate business, but simply used their earning power, as evidenced by that commerce, as the basis for taxing their intangible property within the state. In these cases, therefore, the demurrer to the complaint interposed by the attorney general, was sustained.

IN ANOTHER GROUP.

In connection with local corporations another group is headed by the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, who claim to have been assessed on gross earnings, instead of earnings based on the difference between the cost of production and the selling price. Here, Judge Sturtevant contends, that when the board computed the money necessary for the operating expenses of the State, it adopted the words "gross earnings" instead of "net earnings," so that the rate of taxation could be fixed lower. It was fixed lower than would have been possible had the net earnings formed the basis for it.

The board, says the court, had the jurisdiction to asses on gross earnings. Further, the decision holds that at the time the Legislature adopted the word "franchise" it was its intention to take in its scope the things that the statutes sought to remedy. The word "franchise," it was believed, would cover the intangible property of corporations.

The opinion says that the franchise, as used by the Legislature, includes good will.

SEVERAL GRANTED RELIEF.

Several of the corporations are granted the relief asked for and a sample of this class of cases may be mentioned in connection with the decision in favor of the Bank of California. The latter bases its claim for relief on the ground that it was taxed for stock which it owned in other banks, and those other banks had already been assessed, such as the Mission Bank, which is really a branch of the larger institution. The court says that this contention is correct and that only one taxation, of course, could be legally had.

A different opinion is rendered in connection with each one of the larger number of corporations, but the law itself is upheld and the instances quoted give the details sufficiently.

ROUT TURKS AT SCUTARI.

PODGORITZA, Montenegro, Feb. 8.—A general attack by the combined Montenegrin and Servian armies was opened on the Turkish fortress of Scutari at 10 o'clock this morning. King Nicholas of Montenegro is personally directing the operations.

The allied Montenegrin and Servian artillery did effective work, silencing a Turkish battery on Muselim Hill. The infantry followed up the bombardment by storming the hill at the point of the bayonet, driving the Turks out of their works and capturing the position.

A sortie was attempted by the Turkish troops to the south of Scutari, but was ineffective. Two Ottoman ships were also sunk on Lake Scutari.

INSPECTION OF TAXIS LACKING

Ordinance for Regulation of Machines in San Francisco Not Enforced.

SAN FRANCISO, Feb. 8.—An audit of the city's books showed today that not one taxicab in San Francisco has ever been inspected, as required by ordinance. If a chauffeur wished to manipulate his taximeter to record fraudulent fares, there has been nothing to prevent him in spite of numerous complaints.

An ordinance provides that 50 cents should be charged for each taximeter inspected. The books show that nothing has ever been paid in and no inspections made.

DECLARES BOY'S BODY WAS STOLEN

been discovered, other than the Flexner serum, and this treatment is purely experimental, that the body was sought for by some medical college around the bay district, or perhaps some medical men who are making some research work along these lines.

Pieper was interviewed this morning and when asked for a statement of the case said that he had retained an attorney and would take the matter up with the district attorney's office. He said he was satisfied that his son's body had been stolen and that he would not spare any expense in bringing the ghouls responsible for the crime to justice. "If the body of my son was necessary for experimental purposes in the cause of science and I had been requested to donate the remains for the good of humanity, I would have gladly complied with any reasonable request, but this stealing of the remains is more than any parent can stand."

Mrs. Pieper, the mother of the dead boy, was much wrought up over the occurrence, and yesterday afternoon when she had been informed of the stealing of the body she became hysterical and it was thought for awhile that she might lose her mind. This morning the sorrowing mother had calmed down considerably and consented to talk. She stated that the incident was deplorable and that she desired the matter cleared up and the body located.

Officer Phillips, who accompanied Pieper to the grave yesterday, when seen today said:

"I went with Mr. Pieper to the cemetery and saw the grave opened. If the coffin was opened it was after I left, but I do not think it was opened at all. There was a new grave adjoining the one opened."

Pieper has secured the aid of City Attorney Lee D. Windrem. He said this afternoon:

"The grave of my son was opened upon my demand, and also the coffin. I looked into the coffin from the surface and there was nothing in it but rags. They would not bring the coffin to the surface. The body is not there."

DENIES PIEPER STORY.

ALBANY, Feb. 8.—"The body of the Pieper boy is still in its grave, where it was placed yesterday," declared Superintendent George R. Fletcher of Sunset View Cemetery today. "It was the parents of the boy who requested that the grave be opened that they might have a last look at their son. He had been buried hurriedly because he died of a contagious disease."

According to Fletcher the body of the boy, Herbert H. Pieper, fourteen years of age at the time of his death, was buried regularly yesterday forenoon upon the usual signed order of Dr. Charles R. Blake, health officer. The boy had died of cerebral meningitis, contagious disease on which account the body was removed hurriedly from the Pieper home to the cemetery.

Crazed with grief at the suddenness of the death, the lack of funeral ceremonial, the hurried interment, the parents of the boy rushed to the cemetery, hoping for a last look at their dead. They found Fletcher and stated their request. Facing infraction of the law if he complied, Fletcher refused their request to re-open the grave. Now to their grief, according to Fletcher, was added the sudden fear that something had happened to the body of their boy.

"They returned to Richmond," declared Fletcher today, "and charged that the grave had been opened and the body removed. The story is without foundation. The body was regularly buried and lies where it was placed, in 's section of the cemetery, north of the office."

FEAR CLASH WITH STRIKING MINERS

Labor Disturbances Stir Calm of East; Railroad Walkout Near.

tles express the belief that the strikers are gathering in the mountains for a night attack at some point on Paint creek.

ASSESSMENT LEVIED.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 8.—To aid the strikers in the West Virginia district the official board of the United Mine Workers of America ordered yesterday that each member of the organization be assessed 50 cents a month, which will bring a total of approximately $200,000 monthly. The money will be used, it was said, to send organizers into the district and to provide food and shelter for the strikers. Vice-President Frank J. Hayes and Directors Haggerty and Paulsen will take charge of the work in West Virginia.

FIREMEN VOTE TO STRIKE.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—The committee of the managers of the eastern roads yesterday announced that their firemen had voted almost unanimously to strike. A statement signed by Chairman Elisha Lee for the committee says:

"Advices received by the eastern railroads indicate that the 30,000 firemen almost to a man have voted 'yes' on the proposition to strike and tie up over 52,000 miles of railroads rather than accept the offer of the companies to arbitrate through a commission of disinterested men of sufficient numbers adequately to consider the magnitude of the questions at issue.

"If the firemen announce that as a result of their strike vote their committee will call out the men the railroads, of course, will take steps immediately to prepare for the operation of trains under strike conditions.

WOULD PREVENT STRIKE.

"The companies feel, however, in the interest of the public, such a catastrophe should be prevented at all hazards."

The announcement of the committee of managers that the trend of voting of their firemen was strongly in favor of striking was unofficially confirmed at the firemen's headquarters tonight. It was stated, however, that the vote will not be completed until tomorrow night and no statement will be officially given out until Sunday at the earliest.

Before any steps are taken in response to the vote of the firemen, should they favor a strike, further conferences with the committee of managers will be sought in an effort to reach a settlement. The firemen, their representatives say, are hopeful of coming to an understanding.

WALKOUT DECLARED.

PACKERTON, Pa., Feb. 8.—A general strike was declared at the Lehigh Valley railroad shops here yesterday when officials of the company refused to reinstate 170 men who recently were laid off. Members of a newly formed branch of the Car Workers' Union declared the men were discharged for their activity in promoting the organization and demanded that they be reinstated.

When the company refused to listen to the demands of a committee the strike was declared. More than 1000 men, comprising nearly every man in the shops, are reported to have obeyed the strike order.

INVENTOR WALKS ON LAKE MERRITT

Surprises Ducks With Strange Canoe-Shaped Pair of Shoes.

Rupert Merkl, a machinist, walks on water. Two huge shoes, something like snowshoes, and something like canoes, enable him to perform this novel feat. He has taken several strolls on Lake Merritt with his invention, to the great discomfiture of the ducks, and plans a walking tour across the Golden Gate in the near future.

Merkl, with his partner, Johann Gross, came here from the east a short time ago, because the waters there were frozen over, and afforded him no chance to test his invention. He has attracted considerable attention about Lake Merritt by appearing on the water with his strange shoes.

The "water-shoes" are made of rubberized canvas, and, when not in use, may be packed in a small valise. They are designed by the inventor for fishers and hunters. There is even an attachment to allow a man to sit down and rest. He plans before leaving this city to attempt the walk from Oakland to San Francisco.

CABINET GAMBLE COMES TO LIGHT

Chief Clerk of the White House Discovers Novel Betting.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—When Thomas Brahany, chief clerk at the White House executive office, reached his desk today he found a slip bearing in irregular order the names of the various members of the cabinet. He was mystified until, on investigation, he discovered that the slip was a record of a "cabinet day gamble," indulged in by the newspaper correspondents, who on Tuesdays and Fridays, it developed, have been in the habit of making wagers among themselves on the order in which the cabinet members will arrive.

Brahany's find indicated that the cabinet members arrived yesterday in the following order: Wilson, 1; Nagel, 2; Wickersham, 3; MacVeagh, 4; Hitchcock, 5; Fisher, 6; Stimson, 7, and Meyer, 8. Secretary Knox was missing.

The hour of meeting for the cabinet is fixed at 11 o'clock on Tuesdays and Fridays, but President Taft very seldom appeared on time to open the conference with his official family. It is generally twenty or thirty minutes after the hour when he takes his place at the head of the big table in the conference room. As a result the hard-worked cabinet members take their time in getting to the White House and their arrival is irregular. This makes the betting all the more interesting.

HARBOR TRACT READY FOR SALE

George Wall Places Important Piece of Real Estate on the Maret.

RICHMOND, Feb. 8.—What promises to be a whirlwind of investment is destined to take place upon the opening of the McLure tract, which has been named Harbor Center. The name typifies the tract. There is an eagerness to purchase in it which is going to produce some real estate investment history when the subdivision is opened, which will be early in March.

To George Wall has fallen the ownership of this piece of land. He is known as the man that has never made a mistake in Richmond realty. Many tried to get the McLure land because of its pivotal situation in the heart of the harbor area and the heart of business development. Wall landed it. Many people that bought lots from him eight years ago for $400 that are now worth $10,000 will be among his first clients. They are waiting the chance to get lots in the McLure tract, now Harbor Center.

The tract is the very vortex of the developing inner harbor territory. Through its center runs the famous Cutting boulevard, serving the entire harbor territory and on which the Southern Pacific is right now constructing its electric system into Richmond. Harbor avenue, the new thoroughfare being laid out to cut the tract from north to south, will run directly to the Inner Harbor, and will [illegible]

FIND CLEWS IN BLANCHARD CASE

Police Believe Murderers of Game Warden Will Soon Be in Custody.

ous occasions. One of them suggested they take his (Blanchard's) picture. He acquiesced. Then they had a scuffle with him and shot him.

"We questioned Manasse very closely, but he said he had seen no men about his place, nor had he heard a shot. This is possible, because the ranch is a large one, partly surrounded by trees."

DESCRIPTIONS GIVEN OUT.

The following descriptions of the two men last seen with Blanchard were given out today by the authorities:

No. 1—Age 30 years; 5 feet 4 inches in height; weight 130 pounds; eyes brown; complexion dark ruddy; hair straight black brown; nativity Italian; build medium; nose Roman, thin ridged; marks, deep creased lines on each side of nose, eyebrows very straight; dress, dark suit of clothes and soft hat; remarks—speaks with marked accent, action is lively, appearance that of a laboring man; carried double-barreled shotgun.

No. 2—Age 35 years; height 5 feet 4 inches; hair black-brown; eyes brown; nativity Italian; dressed in dark suit; remarks—appearance that of a laborer; carried double-barreled shotgun.

Accompanied by H. N. Snively, who resides at 3733 Rudolph street, this city, the entire country side was searched yesterday and the foreign settlements of Stege, Rust and Albany, as well as Berkeley, were visited in an endeavor to locate the two men whom Blanchard had arrested when they turned against him and shot him down in his tracks.

GIVE MINUTE DESCRIPTION.

Both Snively and Boots, the civil engineer, who saw Blanchard and his two prisoners before the murder of the man, have given a minute description of both men, and with this information received by the officers last night it is thought that the mystery as to who the men might be who murdered Blanchard is near a solution.

That the two men in the Richmond city jail on suspicion of being the murderers are not is the opinion of the officers. They believe, however, that they were in the immediate vicinity when the shooting occurred and that they know a great deal more about the shooting than they pretend they do.

TWO HOLD-UP MEN OBTAIN RICH LOOT

CHICAGO, Feb. 8.—A daring daylight holdup here today, witnessed by a score of passersby, netted two robbers $2000. The victim was Moris Nieman and the money was to pay employes of A. B. Nelson, a liquor wholesaler. The robbery at the point of a pistol required but a few seconds. The crowd stood aghast for a moment and then gave chase but the bandits escaped.

Petersen summoned two proprietors of places in the segregated district before him yesterday afternoon to give them an opportunity to explain why they had refused to give information to representatives of the municipal vice commission when asked to do so The women explained that they not been sure that the representatives were accredited from the city and were authorized to make the investigation.

The woman protected her throat with her hands and finally succeeded in obtaining a grip over the right hand of her husband to hold him from striking her again.

While the fight was in progress Mrs. Miller screamed for help and a number of neighbors were aroused to come to her rescue Milleh saw them approaching, and in wrenching himself free from his wife he cut his own thumb with the clasp knife

After being arrested Miller was taken to the receiving hospital before being incarcerated in the city prison.

OBJECT TO TAXES ON MOTOR TRUCKS

Standard Oil and Other Companies Declare Hayward Toll Is Illegal.

HAYWARD, Feb 8.—Complaining that Hayward is the only place which imposes a municipal license, the Standard Oil and other large milling companies in the bay district have protested to the town trustees against the license exacted for motor truck deliveries and oil wagons. The representative of the Standard Oil Company said that his firm had been paying a license illegally for many months

Mayor Charles Heyer, in reply to the complainants, says they cannot expect to run their heavy trucks over the streets in Hayward; without paying a license. The matter will probably be taken up at a future date.

RICHMOND TO GET BIG WOOLEN MILLS

Another Industry Gained by the Thriving Town; Realty Sales Numerous.

RICHMOND, Feb. 8.—It is rumored that another industry is to be added to Richmond's already tremendous array of manufacturing plants That a $100,000 factory devoted to the manufacture of woolens is shortly to be erected seems to be definitely settled, although confirmation cannot be secured at this time.

Burg Brothers, Richmond real estate dealers, report that sales for January in their Nicholl tract are double those of December and that the first week in February has eclipsed any week's business in January.

Several thousands have already been made in resales in the Civic Center tract, according to H J. Burg. 'This is a remarkable showing, as resales seldom commence until a tract has been on the market at least six months

In the Grand View Terrace tract, also being sold by the Burg Brothers, the improvements are being rapidly pushed along At the present time the streets are being graded around the knoll. 'This portion of the Grand View tract is destined to be an ideal residence district. With its irregular streets and parks it will be one of the beauty spots of Contra Costa county.

CONSIDER CALLING OF TELEPHONE STRIKE

2000 Linemen Involved in the Controversy Over Wages.

Trouble With Company Is Not Expected, Says Union Official.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8.—Two thousand telephone linemen in the local unions throughout California Arizona, Idaho, Oregon and Washington, affiliated with the Pacific Coast Council of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, are considering the question of vesting the district representatives of the international union with the authority to declare a strike against the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company for higher wages.

In explanation of the action of the local union at Fresno, which was reported several days ago, secretary Junkins, of the district council, said today that the movement was a general one in the five Western states following negotiations which were opened with the company after the first of the year.

$4.25 FOR EIGHT-HOUR DAY.

In submitting the terms of the men to the company to be made a part of the annual agreement with the corporation, the union demanded $4.25 for an eight-hour day, nine hours on country work. The company refused more than $3.75 and the matter was submitted to the local unions. A vote is now being taken and will be canvassed by the officers of the district council before February 11.

"While it is true that the men are now determining whether the international officers shall have power to declare a strike, I do not look for any trouble with the company," said Secretary Junkins today. "The company has rejected our proposal as regards wages, but has made certain minor concessions. Even though we are given the authority to call a strike, I am of the opinion that the matter can be adjusted satisfactorily."

BLIND MEN CALM IN NEW YORK FIRE

Fifty of Them March Quietly Out of Burning Building.

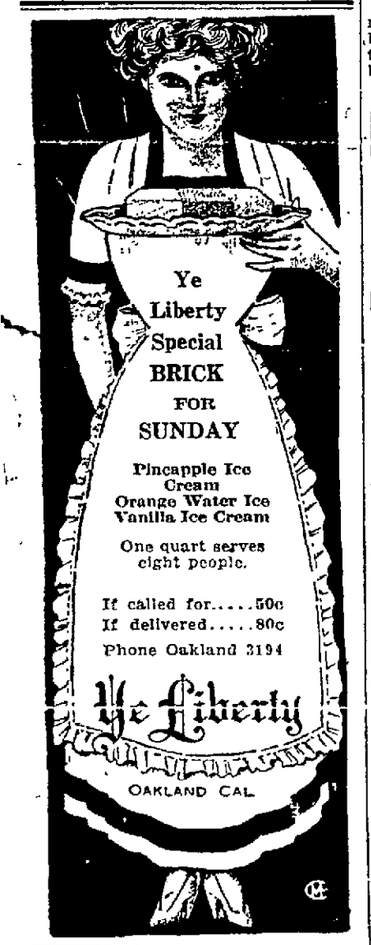

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Blind men set an example of remarkable calmness yesterday when 50 of them felt their way quietly down from the upper floors of an institution on Thirty-fifth street while the building was afire.

The men were weaving blankets and making brooms when some of them felt drops of water pattering down upon them.

"There must be a fire," cried one. "The automatic sprinklers are working."

"I smell smoke; there is a fire," exclaimed another.

And with little ado they felt their way to the stairs and marched down to the street. Firemen arrived a few minutes later and extinguished a small blaze which had started the automatic sprinklers, but which was caught so quickly that it did little damage.

ALMOST IN BLOWS AT GRAND JURY INQUISITION

Mrs. Amador Stirs Wrath of Gladys Wallace and Mythical 'Helen Johnson.'

Investigation of Sunol Murder Mystery Goes Over Until Monday.

After an all day's inquiry into rumors concerning the murder of William Winslow, an aged Sunol rancher, who was killed in 1908, and the alleged death of a girl known as Helen Johnson, said to have taken place at Tony Bernal's roadhouse at Pleasanton, a year later, the grand jury adjourned until Monday morning. At that time it is expected that Richard C. Rudge, a marine aboard the cruiser California, at Mare Island, who has twice been arrested on suspicion of the Winslow murder, will be in attendance as witness He was unable to present himself yesterday, he informed District Attorney Hynes, because he did not have funds for the trip.

The proceedings yesterday were marked by animosity shown to exist between Mrs. Mary Amador of Pleasanton and Mrs. Charles Gray of San Francisco, who was formerly Miss Gladys Wallace, and whose name was linked with the alleged disappearance of the Johnson girl by Mrs. Amador. The two women nearly came to blows while waiting their appearance before the inquisitorial body, which convened in rooms at the county jail. Mrs. Gray was backed by her friend, Miss Ethel Grant, said to be the woman who was known as Helen Johnson at Pleasanton, where she was at one time in company with Miss Wallace.

Miss Eileen Amador, daughter of Mrs. Mary Amador, who was taken away from her mother by order of the Juvenile Court a year ago on the grounds that she had been cruelly treated, will also be one of the witnesses to be heard Monday. Since leaving her home in Pleasanton one Saturday morning after an alleged beating, the girl has been with friends in San Francisco. She has, however, visited her mother on several occasions.

After accusing her mother at the time of her examination before the Juvenile Court of having burned the Pleasanton school house out of revenge, Eileen Amador wrote a letter to her parent in which she made a complete retraction of the accusation, according to a letter shown by Mrs. Amador yesterday. Mrs. Amador held steadfast to her original story, which was a denial of the charge.

Other witnesses to be examined by the grand jury Monday are J. B. Markley, a private detective, who worked on the case; former Deputy Sheriff Lee Graves of Sunol; A. C. Garcia, a Sunol barber; T. F. Witter of Oakland, who is said to have employed Markley; Joe Mendoza of Sunol, who worked with a man known as Klein, supposed to have murdered Winslow; Judge William H. Donahue, former district attorney, and District Attorney W. H. L. Hynes, who has handled the Rudge case recently.

That Richard C. Rudge could not be compelled to appear at the grand jury inquiry without considerable legal formality and acquiescence on the part of the federal authorities, was stated today by District Attorney Hynes. The matter of serving him with a subpena would be as far as they could go without obtaining a bench warrant from the Superior Court upon the presentation of testimony that he would be a material witness. In that event the consent of the commandant at Mare Island would have to be obtained before the warrant could be served.

However, Rudge is a willing witness and it is believed that there will be no trouble in getting him before the jury when funds for the trip have been supplied him.

GELDER EXPLAINS 'RIOT' MEETING

Berkeley Assemblyman Issues a Challenge for Debate on Compulsory Vaccination.

EDITOR TRIBUNE: Kindly permit me to use the columns of your paper to state that your article which appeared in your paper on the evening of January 31, is erroneous. The heading is "Vaccination Meeting Is Riot." I wish to positively state in all fairness to the thousands who believe in the principles of anti-compulsory vaccination and to the 1500 or more people who were present on the evening of January 30, at the high school auditorium at Berkeley, that there let alone was no evidence of riot, but in addition there was no ungentlemanly or unladylike conduct on the part of any one, not even those who asked questions.

If there was any unbecoming actions it was in the part of those who, apparently, were sent there to break up the meeting, as these persons last mentioned hissed. But when reminded that only snakes and geese hissed, they stopped.

As to your editorial of recent date against my anti-compulsory vaccination bill, I wish to challenge any person to debate upon this question of compulsory vaccination to take place at any time or place in Oakland, Cal., in the largest place that can be obtained. I will need one hour for my side of the question. The debate to be according to the rules covering debates. The date to be decided upon, but must be during February or the first days of March Respectfully yours, GEORGE GELDER.

SAN JOSE MILITIA TO PLAY HAYWARD BALL

SAN JOSE, Feb. 8.—One of the best militia basketball games of the year will be played Saturday night when Company "M" of this city meets the Company "H" team of Hayward at the latter place.

A great deal of interest is being taken in this game, as both teams have undergone strenous practice, and both are determined to win, as a strong rivalry exists between the teams. Company "M" now has the strongest team of the year. Mahoney and Cook will play at guards, Buzzo and Heinson will cover the forward positions and McElhattan will hold down center.

FABIOLA ASSOCIATION HOLDS THIRTY-FIFTH ANNUAL MEETING

MRS. REMI CHABOT, RE-ELECTED PRESIDENT OF FABIOLA HOSPITAL ASSOCIATION AT THE ANNUAL MEETING YESTERDAY.

The thirty-fifth annual meeting of the Fabiola Hospital Association opened yesterday afternoon in the directors' room of the hospital. Reports were read by officers of the association. Mrs. Remi Chabot, who was re-elected president of the organization for the fourth year, presided over the session.

The election of officers was an important feature of the meeting. Eleven directors were chosen as follows: Mrs. Remi Chabot, Mrs. A. D. Wilson, Mrs. D. E. Easterbrook, Mrs. Q. A. Chase, Mrs. E. Remillard, Mrs. J. P. H. Dunn, Mrs. Wallace Everson, Mrs. R. W. McChesney, Mrs. W. Snook, Mrs. I. Requa and Mrs. John Shuey. The officers elected were: Mrs. Remi Chabot, president; Mrs. I. Requa, first vice-president; Mrs. Wallace Everson, second vice-president; Mrs. R. W. McChesney, third vice-president; Mrs. A. D. Wilson, financial secretary; Mrs. Q. A. Chase, treasurer; Mrs. D. E. Easterbrook, recording secretary, and Mrs. John Shuey, corresponding secretary.

Work in all the departments of the hospital was dwelt upon in the accounts read by the officers. Mrs. Wallace Everson gave an interesting report of the Dottie Cook Annex, which was in part as follows:

"Since the opening of this building, in 1899, 2077 children have been treated and well cared for. This number does not include those who have been ill with typhoid in other buildings. In time, when the city grows to be the greater Oakland, other hospitals for children will be needed, but the good work pioneered by the giver of this little annex will go and the spirit of the beloved daughter will still prompt the loving care for little children in the hearts of those who now are called upon to do the work.

"During the year 1912, the total number of patients treated were 304; girls, 148; boys, 156; surgical cases, 268; medical cases, 36. Total number of days' treatment, 1514. Thirty per cent of the entire work was free. This did not include the free care of four children for 220 days, ill with typhoid in the other building. The value of the free work amounted to $2570.10 for this year. The Dottie Cook Annex is fully equipped for the work which it does. There is only one endowment of $3000. During the summer the interior was completely repainted and put in excellent order."

PRESENTS REPORT.

Mrs. Remi Chabot, who has been identified with the work in Fabiola Hospital for the past 35 years, presented the following report:

"It was 36 years ago that a staunch little band of workers, led by Mrs. W. R. Kirkham, foresaw the need of a haven to which the sick of Oakland's worthy poor might turn for aid and, with faith in themselves and a belief, fulfilled, in the big-heartedness of their fellows, brought into being that institution now called Fabiola.

"Looking backward more than a third of a century, we find that this stalwart band numbered 20. Passing in review the span of years, with a reverence due the founders of such a splendid monument, we are reminded that, one by one, 10 of these pioneers of Oakland's first hospital have gone to a reward which heaven must surely have reserved for them. A kind Providence has permitted us to retain 10 of them in our midst.

"It would be folly to presume that anything we might do or say would either add to or detract from that honor which is theirs. Yet there seems no fitter way of commencing this report which shall deal with the latest year's work of our beloved institution, than to pay homage to the 20 noble women who gave it birth.

ROLL OF TWENTY.

First, then, let us name them: Mrs. R. W. Kirkham, Mrs. Abbie D. Bubgee, Mrs. Mary L. Bonham, Mrs. W. W. Crane, Mrs. Edson Adams, Mrs. Beebee, Mrs. Van Leer Eastland, Mrs. D. B. Hinckley, Mrs. I. J. Scotchler, Mrs. I. F. Houghton, Mrs. William Snook, Mrs. G. W. Bunnell, Mrs. J. M. Selfridge, Mrs. W. W. Standeford, Mrs. A. Lillencrantz, Mrs. W. C. Little, Mrs. Chauncey Taylor, Mrs. Horatio P. Livermore, Mrs. Henry Wetherbee and Mrs. William Chamberlain.

"Of these, the first 10 have passed away.

"It has often occurred to me that Fabiola should have some way of preserving, in a literal manner which would permit all to read, the names of those who have befriended it. Just what form such an appreciation should take—whether it be a memorial tablet, a golden book, or some other and more acceptable style of recognition—I am not prepared to say. But should this thought ever find realization, surely the names of these worthy women, together with those of the hospital's first 10 boards, including those three sterling men, Dr. J. M. Selfridge, Dr. I. E. Nicholson and Dr. A. Lillencrantz, should be graven at the very top.

CHANGES MANY.

"What changes have been wrought since that day in 1877 when, having scrubbed the floors with their own hands, those faithful women brought curtains, homely pictures and flowers to make bright that little cottage in West street which sheltered their first patient! With what pleasure must they have seen their work grow until, seven years later, it became necessary to seek the larger and more desirable Alice-street quarters.

"And as the institution grew in size, so did it also broaden in spirit until there came a day when, realizing that the name 'Oakland Homeopathic Hospital and Dispensary Association' tended to keep many physicians from their doors, those who guided the institution's fortunes chose for it the more cosmopolitan name of Fabiola. Thus was the initial step taken in yet another line of accomplishment; that of breaking down the barriers which had, for only too long a time, separated the two schools of medicine. For so it was given our hospital to locally anticipate the present condition, long in advance.

"Next, in the course of notable events, came the handsome gift of the late Anthony Chabot which placed us in possession of the land which forms our present site. The possibility, long hoped for, of owning our own buildings which should be erected after a manner in keeping with the exact requirements of our growing work, immediately suggested itself.

SURPLUS 75 CENTS.

"Our treasurer advised that if we were to depend upon the treasury surplus for such a departure, she had to report that ou building fund would total exactly 75 cents. But our good fortune had but begun. For almost simultaneously with the gift of land came our good friend, who was Frederick Delger, with $5000 as a building nucleus. To this splendid donation others were quickly added by Captain Asa Simpson, Timothy L. Barker, J. A. Folger, William N. Meeks, George W. Grayson, A. Duncan, James Moffitt, Hiram Tubbs, E. L. G. Steele, Mrs. George T. Hawley, Quincy A. Chase, and a host of other friends who had admiration for the past and faith in the future outcome of our work.

"What those and subsequent donations have meant to our institution is eloquently illustrated by a comparison of the record of patients cared for prior to the departure from Alice street with those of 1912. During the year 1886 42 patients were admitted to our hospital. During 1912 we admitted 1785 men, women and children, while our average per day, throughout the year, was 63.

"From the little staff of physicians and less than half a dozen nurses that tended our sick in the old days, has risen a medical attendance of over 170 doctors and a force of 63 nurses.

OTHER BENEFACTORS.

"I have spoken of those donors whose gifts gave us our first building. As we honor them, so de we those who have aided us in later years. For how should we have accomplished the splendid work which Fabiola has done for the little children of our poor—a work which we continue to perform with steadily increasing results—had we not been blessed with the Dottie Cook annex which Mrs. Harrie E. Cook gave to humanity in memory of her daughter? How much we owe to the generosity of the late Teresa Merchant, who made possible our nurses' home, and to Marin Martin, who established the John Archibold cottage in memory of him for whom it is named. With what thoughts of gratitude shall we always remember Thomas H. Williams, whose philanthropy and big-heartedness is largely responsible for that latest and most complete of our new buildings, the surgical annex. We call it by that name, but I am sure there are many of us who never see or think of it without recalling the name of the man whose charity gave it us.

FRIENDS GENEROUS.

"While our gratitude extends at all times to every friend who performs even the simplest deed for Fabiola, we have, in the past, adopted a measure the fulfillment of which places the name of the giver among those whom we have selected to be called our hospital's benefactors. With your permission I will therefore call this roll of honor and, having done so, terminate the preamble of a report which, since it is presumed to deal with the present, has, I fear, already lingered too long in the past, dear as the story of that past is to all of us:

"Frederick Delger, Anthony Chabot, Mrs Frederick Delger, Mrs. Jane Sather, Remi Chabot, Timothy L. Barker, J. M. Scotchler, Thomas H. Williams, Mrs. Teresa Merchant, Morrik Goldberg, Miss Maria I. Martin, Solomon Kahn, Bartlett Doe, J. M. Walker, Mrs. Harriet E. Cook, David Hewes, William Moller, Thomas Crellin, Mrs. William Bunker, Mrs. William Booth, Captain Asa Simpson, Dr. A. S. Larkey, Mrs. Mary D. Shaw, Mrs. R. W. Kirkham, Miss Bertha Shafter, Mrs. I. Requa, Mrs. Hiram Tubbs, Mrs. John Yule, Mrs. N. Cuning, Mrs. H. Tubbs, Mrs. W. Barton, Mrs. Mark Requa, F. M. Smith, Mrs. J. A. Folger, Mrs. William Moller, Mrs. Frank Havens, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Scotchler, Mrs. Florence Wells, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Wilson, Mrs. D. E. Easterbrook and Dr. A. L. Cunningham

WORK OF YEAR.

"A recapitulation of the events and work done during 1912 tabulates a result of which we may be justly proud. Our hospital has done more for charity than in any previous year in its existence, and has made notable strides in facilities and efficiency.

"During the year we cared for (including outside patients), 1971 patients, or 161 more than in 1911. Ninety-one of the patients were treated absolutely free, and 86 at greatly reduced rates. The latter two classes of patients exceeded the number cared for in 1911 by 24.

"The total value of services rendered these free patients amounted to $5108.75. The amount of discounts granted in worthy cases totaled $1172.85. In addition to these sums, our auditors allowed discounts on older bills in the amount of $2238.40. Thus a grand total of $8520 was expended in the cause of charity during the 12 months ending December

PAST WORK EXCEEDED.

"It affords pleasure to note that both the number of free and reduced rate patients and the amount expended in charity during 1912, exceeded those of any past year in the history of our institution.

"The surgical and medical report shows that 173 physicians were in attendance during the year. They treated a total of 1785 cases. But 35 deaths resulted. Many, however, were brought to the hospital in a dying condition.

"Our training school for nurses included 54 pupils at the close of 1912. There were nine graduates during the year, making a total of 250 young ladies who have completed their training in our hospital since 1889.

"As you will see by the report of the Dottie Cook annex, the work performed for our children was the most extensive we have ever done.

"Of those whose acts of philanthropy demand special mention is Mrs. D. E. Easterbrook. To her, Fabiola owes its becoming coat of grey. Thanks to her, all of our buildings are resplendant in a cheery dress of paint, selected with such good taste and so well applied as to make our hospital among the most attractive of all Oakland institutions.

DONATION APPRECIATED.

"The donation of $5000 bequeathed our institution by the late Timothy L. Barker was delivered to us in 1912.

"The annual gift from the Bartlett Doe estate came to us again during the past year and we once more express the assurance of our continued gratitude.

"A special word of thanks, here tendered, is due Charles F. Snook for the attention he has at all times given legal matters pertaining to our hospital. We not only appreciate the value of the time which he gives without remuneration, but likewise the immediate attention which our every legal need receives. To mention Mr. Snook is to bring to mind his venerable mother, and to recall his aunt, the late Mrs. J. A. Folger, both early members of our association and staunch workers in its earlier history.

"For the skilled and faithful services rendered by our splendid medical and surgical staff we here express our deep appreciation. Here, likewise, do we tender our thanks for the faithful services performed by our resident physician, Dr. Sutherland; our directress of nurses, Mrs. Dockery, and to the nurses themselves.

"It is eminently fitting that we should here express our joy at the recovery of Miss Jessen, our valued superintendent of nurses, from a serious illness. Her many qualities of mind and heart have endeared her to all who have come in contact with her, be they friends, patients, pupils, doctors, or other co-workers.

ANY HAVE HELPED.

"Our grateful acknowledgment extends to the men, women and children who have made the road easier and our little world brighter with donations of flowers, books, toys, delicacies and the many other thoughtful gifts that have made sufferers happier for having received them. To the press we are grateful always, for never have we asked a favor which has not been granted with the utmost good will.

"Thanks are extended to the following for the generous donations made by them during 1912: Mrs. D. E. Easterbrook, David Hewes, Q. A. Chase, Bartlett Doe estate, Mrs. Thomas Crellin, Mrs. George Hassett (now of St. Louis), Mrs. A. E. Whitaker, Dr. A. S. Larkey, Fred Clift, Dr. A. L. Cunningham, Presbyterian Sewing Circle, Mrs. F. N. Proctor, Mrs. C. F. McDermot, Mrs. John Yule (royalty on publications), Henry Butters Jr., Mrs. Guy Bray, David Edwards, A. D. Wilson, Mrs. William Childs, George Dornn, Mrs. George Dornn, Mrs. Remi Chabot, Mrs. H. C. Taft, rs. Leon Bocquerarz and Mrs. Isaac Requa.

"Those early workers battled for the success of their idea, and that battle has never ceased though 36 years have come and gone. Never has there been a year, and scarcely a month in any year, that has not been shadowed by those blue days when Fabiola's managers have wondered from whence would come the money to meet the expense of its undertakings. For Fabiola receives no state, county, or municipal aid. True, we have managed by dint of constant struggle to make 'both ends meet,' as the saying goes. But always, forever and always, it has meant struggle, struggle, struggle.

"There is no bitterness of spirit in this statement of plain facts, for surely that record of more than a third of a century furnishes ample proof of what our association's workers will continue to do in the future—whether that future be dark or filled with sunshine.

"And yet, does it not seem hard that, after years of continuous struggle, our institution should not be sufficiently endowed to remove it far from actual want? Should not 36 years of battle have constituted a sufficient penance? Has it not won its spurs? Similar institutions have much earlier been blessed with advantages which we are denied. It must be that our hour of reward is near.

"While taking that wholly justified pride in 'My City Oakland,' with its splendid new buildings and giant strides in progress, surely Fabiola, its first hospital, will not be forgotten. Rather is it to be hoped, nay, expected, that some who are being benefited by this attending prosperity will make possible that work of which Fabiola stands so much in need."

COUNTY SOLONS IN LEGISLATURE ORGANIZE

Senator Tyrrell Chosen Chairman; Assemblyman Clark Secretary Last Evening.

Delegation Will Meet County Officials February 21 to Talk Over Measures.

The Alameda county delegation in the Legislature met last evening in the office of Senator E. J. Tyrrell to organize. Senators Strobridge and Tyrrell have been discussed as candidates for the chairmanship. Last night Senator Strobridge stated that his duties as a member of the Senate committee to visit the state institutions during the 30 days' recess would take him away from the county and he withdrew in favor of Senator Tyrrell and placed him in nomination.

Senator Tyrrell was unanimously chosen chairman and Assemblyman William C. Clark was unanimously chosen secretary. The delegation then fixed upon Friday, February 21, at 2 o'clock p. m., as the time of the meeting at which the county officials, the board of supervisors and any members of the committee of the grand jury would have an opportunity of talking over the matters concerning their offices with the delegation. It was also decided last night that there would be another subsequent meeting at which other than the county officials could also appear before the delegation. This meeting will probably be in the court house and will be an open meeting.

FIRE CAUSES HEAVY DAMAGE IN FACTORY

PEORIA, Ill., Feb. 7.—Fire originating in a defect in the feeding mechanism of an oil furnace did damage estimated at $200,000 to the plant of the Avery Manufacturing Company today. The wheel house, grinding house, steel room and blacksmith shop were destroyed. One man was injured in turning off the flow of oil and more than 100 workmen were forced to flee from the stream of burning fuel.

My Right to Advertise----

If Columbus hadn't advertised the fact that he had discovered America, Oakland wouldn't be on the map today.

Five years ago I discovered something good and I considered it too fine a proposition to keep to myself.

I can fill the vacancies in your mouth with natural looking teeth without using a plate.

This is my own invention, a set that is decidedly different from anything on the market.

I maintain that I have as much right to advertise my invention as Edison has to advertise his.

A dentist who doesn't advertise will tell you that a dentist who does is a fake. Will he make the same statement with reference to every merchant who advertises?

True, there are some who call themselves "dentists" and advertise what they cannot do. They are here today and gone tomorrow.

I've been located in this city for five years. I'll stand by any statement I have already made or any I make in the future.

I am not advertising "cheap" dentistry. I am not giving away something for nothing. Purchasing materials in large quantities and a thriving business enables me to quote reasonable terms.

MAN IS ARRESTED FOR HIDING NAME

Hospital Patient Booked as a Prisoner When He Refuses Name.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 8.—A man, who is booked as an offender against the law on "general principles" solely because he has steadfastly refused to tell his name since he was taken to the Receiving hospital two days ago, is a prisoner in the city jail today.

The nameless man was found in the street in a precarious condition, having suffered from a heart attack. After numerous unsuccessful attempts to learn his name the police authorities changed his identification card to read "a prisoner" instead of "a patient." When asked what his name was he replied that he "did not have any."

SOLDIER SUFFERS FRACTURED SKULL

Bartender Is Accused of Hitting Quartermaster-Sergeant.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8.—Moses R. Johnson, quartermaster sergeant, Company I, Sixteenth Infantry, was struck down on Kearny street at an early hour this morning and lies at the Harbor Hospital with a possible fracture of the skull.

His alleged assailant is Lester Gitchett, a bartender of 652 Kearny street, who was arrested by the police and placed in detinue at the instance of Detective Earle.

Johnson and Gitchett had a quarrel in front of 656 Kearny street. It is claimed that Gitchett struck the soldier and that he fell, cracking his skull on the curb. He was found unconscious and hurried to the hospital. After his serious condition was noted Gitchett was apprehended.

LOOTS SALVATION ARMY SHOE STORE; ARRESTED

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8.—Henry Cordes, a laborer, invaded the precincts of the Salvation Army's industrial store, 844 Harrison street, this morning in search of shoes. He chose 3 o'clock in the morning as the time to make his appearance, and he entered by a side window. He took eight pairs of shoes and placed them in a sack. Then he walked into the arms of Policeman McGuire and Special Officer Olsen, who promptly charged him at the Southern station with burglary.

SUIT OVER EDDY ESTATE ENDED

Heirs of Founder of the Christ Scientist Church Reach Agreement.

BOSTON, Feb. 8.—Litigation over the bequest of two million dollars made to the First Church of Christ Scientist of Boston by Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy, ended yesterday when her natural heirs joined with the trustees of the church in proposed decrees entered in the several courts involved.

Coincident with this action, the Massachusetts House concurred this afternoon with the Senate in enabling an act which permits the mother church to accept and use the money for the advancement of Christian Science as directed by its founder.

Four stipulations compose the decrees which were entered simultaneously in the courts of Massachusetts and New Hampshire.

In these George W. Glover of Lead, S. D., and E. J. Foster-Eddy of Waterbury, Vt., son and adopted son of Mrs. Eddy, abandoned their suits for a share in the estate and renounce their claims to money left the church.

The trustees on their part, consent that the administrator shall pay $5000 for the assignment of the son's contingent right to renew in their lifetime the copyrights upon their mother's published works. They further consent that the trustees holding $175,000 (which is the trust fund portion of the $290,000 settled on them by Mrs. Eddy in 1909 in lieu of their share of the estate) shall not further claim that their rights in that fund were forfeited by their action in subsequent court proceedings.

CASE LONG IN COURT.

It is maintained by both parties that no consideration shown in the stipulations influenced the retirement of the heirs from a contest that has occupied the courts for more than two years.

Mrs. Eddy died at Newton, Mass., December 4, 1910. Her will, which disposed of an estate of about $2,500,000, left approximately $2,000,000 in trust to the First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Boston. The two sons, who a year before her death had received from Mrs. Eddy $290,000 in satisfaction of all claims against her estate, attacked the will in January, 1911, invoking statutes of New Hampshire and Massachusetts, which limit bequests to churches to sums returning annual incomes of not more than $5000 and $2000 in the respective states. That this be accomplished the trustees of the church obtained the introduction in the legislature of the enabling act passed yesterday.

TO ESTABLISH NURSERIES AT LOS ANGELES SCHOOLS

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 8.—For the dual purpose of helping working mothers and of teaching public school children domestic responsibilities officers of the school board here gave notice today that nurseries would be established at the various schools.

Mothers who are compelled to work for a living may henceforth depend upon public school students to care for their children during working hours, the little ones receiving the benefit of kindergarten training.

MAY LOSE SIGHT AS RESULT OF EXPLOSION

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8.—Elmer Larson, an automobile mechanic, may lose the sight of both eyes as the result of an explosion in a repair shop at 515 Van Ness avenue, at 10 o'clock this morning. Larson, who lives at 635 Redwood street, was bending over a gasoline tank when it blew up and his face, head, hands and arms were enveloped in flaming fluid. Other workmen went quickly to his aid and extinguished the fire, but not before he had sustained severe burns. He was taken to the Central Emergency Hospital, where Dr. Ryan dressed his injuries. The physician is not certain as to the extent of the damage done to the eyes, which were hurt by lead substance.

VESSELS ICE-BOUND IN THE GREAT LAKES

MACKINAW CITY, Mich., Feb. 8.—The recent cold weather seriously has hampered nevigation along the Great Lakes. The car ferry, Chief Wawatum, which has been caught in the ice of Lake Huron for three days, was blasted free last night with dynamite and immediately went to the assistance of the car ferry St. Ignace, which also was fast in the ice. Provisions were sent by dog sled to passengers who preferred to remain on the vessels to walking ashore over the ice.

Three Ann Arbor car ferries have been fast in the ice near Frankfort, Mich., since Wednesday.

BRANDS NEW YORK POLICE GRAFTERS

Veteran Gambler Tells Probers of $50,000 Paid for Protection.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—An even two dozen—some dead, some retired, some still on the New York police force—were branded as grafters or go-betweens yesterday in the recital of James Purcell, a veteran gambler, who told the aldermanic investigating committee how he and his associates had given up $50,000 protection money in 17 years. His story was the most important told to the committee since it began its inquiry into police conditions following the murder of Herman Rosenthal, shot down because he "squealed."

There was no session of the aldermanic committee today and it was not made known whether Purcell would be recalled to take the stand on Monday. Interest centered largely at police headquarters, though it was not believed that Commissioner Waldo would spspend any of those mentioned by Purcell until he had confirmed the truth of the charges by an independent investigation.

UTAH GIRL IS RUN DOWN BY AUTOIST

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 8.—Miss Edith Reed of Ogden, Utah, is confined to her room in a local hotel and under a physician's care as a result of being knocked down and run over by an automobile driven by Charles Quayle, a wealthy architect, last night.

Miss Reed is a member of a party of excursionists from Utah and Idaho. She was with her cousin, Miss Emily Aland, and her uncle, W. S. Reed of Ogden, at the time of the accident. The physician says Miss Reed was badly but not fatally hurt.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8. — Charles Freimund stole only an empty purse valued at 10 cents, but he will have to serve six months in the county jail for the offense, as the result of a decision by Judge Dunne today. On December 1 he is alleged to have picked the pocket of James Scholtz.

BECOMES STUDENT OF IMMIGRATION

Former Oakland Newspaperman Returns From Stay in the East.

Max Binheim, a newspaperman, and until two years ago publisher and manager of the California Zeitung in Oakland, returned yesterday from a several months' journey that had taken him to the principal eastern cities. Binheim, who says that he likes Oakland better than any other city he saw, was connected as press representative with the Republican national committee, and he toured the country for the conimittee during the last campaign, from coast to coast.

When Binheim left Oakland he became managing editor of the Daily Journal in Baltimore, Md., but he severed his connection with that paper when the position as press representative of the Republican national committee was offered to him by President Taft and Chairman Charles D. Hilles.

For the last two months Binheim has lived in Washington, D. C., and he has taken up with the President on several occasions the question of immigration and the treatment of newcomers to this country. Binheim studied the question closely, and President Taft recommended him to the commissioner general of immigration for the purpose of allowing him to inspect the different immigration stations in the country. The Department of Commerce and Labor issued credentials to Binheim, and he visited different eastern stations, without divulging his identity. He intends to inspect Angel island.

Binheim finds that improvements are made at all immigration stations, and that all persons who are eligible are quickly landed, and that the authorities show much ability in carefully sifting all doubtful cases so as to hold all who are ineligible.

Binheim observed especially that in Ellis island, the most important station in the country, the false missionary has been expelled. Bona fide societies that really want to assist the immigrant have been given every facility to perform their work. The missionary work in Ellis island is now more nearly on a correct basis than ever before.

Greatly increased facilities have been granted detained immigrants to communicate with relatives or friends through the introduction of the official postal card, according to Binheim's report.

BIG TRADING COMPANY DESTROYED BY FIRE

BILLINGS, Mont., Feb. 7.—A special dispatch from Cody, Wyo., says that fire, starting from the furnace, destroyed tonight the store of the Cody Trading Company, one of the largest mercantile establishments in Wyoming, entailing a loss estimated at $100,000. The establishment was noted as a tourist outfitting point for the Yellowstone national park.

STRAPS ENRICH COMPANY.

CHICAGO, Feb. 8.—Statistics compiled in the traction war in Chicago show that practical operation of the "no seat, no fare" system on the city's transportation lines would lop off approximately $1,500,000 of annual revenue from the companies. Traction experts estimate that 30,000,000 passengers hang on to the straps in surface or elevated cars in a year.

STATE PRINTING OFFICE IS RUSHED

Friend W. Richardson to Finish Gigantic Task in Record Time.

When the Legislature adjourned it left the state printing office with the huge task of getting out 3,000,000 copies of bills. The total number of bills introduced the last two days was 1170, of which 2000 copies of each must be printed, making a total of 2,340,000 copies. Besides there are reprint orders amounting to 600,000 copies. There also must be gotten out 5000 copies of each of the histories which now contain over 300 pages each.

State Printer Friend W. Richardson says he will be able to finish all of this work within the next five days. The state printing office is equipped with 10 Mergenthalers and these are being run night and day to the exclusion of all other work. Richardson takes the position that the legislative bills are of first importance and all reports of officers, commissions and other printing must wait until this is done. He says:

"The purpose of the bifurcated session is to allow the people time in which to consider the bills introduced at the first session. The Legislature adjourned for 35 days and I hope to have the bills printed in five days so as to give the people a full 30 days in which to consider proposed legislation. The office has been handicapped from the fact that we have only 10 Mergenthalers and that bills were introduced this session at the rate of over 200 a day while heretofore the average record has been 50 a day."

LIBEL DISMISSED TO CURE PATIENT

Good News Used by Judge to Help Man Off Sick Bed.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8.—Although W. Powers, a collector, in the employ of the San Francisco Gas and Electric Company, is on his death bed, it was believed that of the news were conveyed to him that a charge of libel had been disposed of, he might take a turn for the better. Accordingly, Superior Judge Lawlor, on learning of the man's condition, admitted him to probation this morning and this boon was quickly conveyed to his bedside.

Powers was arrested in December for writing a letter, in which it was claimed he libeled Jeremiah McCarthy, his superior officer in the corporation. He was duly convicted and illnesss prevented the passing of judgment upon him until today.

STRANGERS RELIEVE HIM OF VALUABLES

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8.—Paul Benson of 1111 Treat avenue paid a visit to the Barbary Coast last night and is now grieving over the loss of $275 and his watch. Benson met two strangers who aided him in having a good time, but while he was unsuspicious of their attitude toward him, they suddenly seized hold of him and took all of his valuables.

WATER PROBLEM NEARING SOLUTION

State Railroad Commission May Be Called in to Act as Arbiters.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8.—San Francisco's long-mooted water question is at last nearing a definite settlement, for it is probable that the State Railroad Commission will be called upon to act as a board of arbitration in fixing the value of the Spring Valley Water Company's properties. Yesterday the negotiations pending for months between this city and the company were declared off by the formal reply of the Spring Valley Company rejecting the $37,000,000 offer made by the thirteen supervisors.

Now, according to a movement set on foot by Secretary of the Interior Fisher, the matter will be settled by arbitration if Fisher concludes that the men composing the commission would make a proper board.

The Spring Valley has reaffirmed its willingness to submit the question to arbitration or to join with the city in effecting speedy determination through condemnation proceedings.

ARBITRATION INSISTED ON.

If the company refuses to allow the State Railroad Commission to arbitrate, Fisher will probably grant the Hetch-Hetchy permit without further consideration. Fisher, through Congressman Kent, has started an investigation into the personnel of the commission.

The men composing the State Railroad Commission are:

John M. Eshleman, president, El Centro; Harvey D. Loveland, San Francisco; Alex Gordon, Sacramento; Edwin O. Edgerton, Los Angeles; Max Thelen, Berkeley.

Attorney E. J. McCutchen, representing the Spring Valley Company, when questioned by City Attorney Long at the hearing in Washington as to whether or not the State Railroad Commission would be acceptable as arbiters, said he was unable to bind the company to any such proposal.

"The Spring Valley reaffirmed its willingness to arbitrate or join with the city in condemnation proceedings in a letter to the mayor yesterday which reads in part as follows:

"The Spring Valley Water Company will consent to arbitrate the value of its property, the arbitrators to decide what price the property should command on a sale by a willing seller to a willing buyer; the law of eminent domain to control the arbitrators.

"If you will not accept arbitration, we will endeavor to facilitate the speedy determination of a condemnation suit."

HITEMAN RETURNS TO LOCAL BRANCH

Well Known Diamond Tire Man Back Again to City of Oakland.

(By EDMUND CRINNION.)

Returning to Oakland after an absence of five years, E. L. Hiteman, one of the best known of the Diamond Tire salesmen on the coast, has taken charge of the Oakland branch of the Diamond Rubber Company.

Hiteman built his home in Oakland about six years ago at the time he was connected with the San Francisco Diamond branch house. Later he was given charge of the company's branch house in Salt Lake City where he remained until a short time ago when he was promoted to the Oakland house.

Hiteman who has already moved his family to Oakland says he is very much pleased to be in this city permanently. He is much impressed with the growth of Oakland during his absence and stated this morning that he has been trying to get the Oakland management ever since the company established the branch house here.

Hiteman has already assumed the duties of his new post and is busy renewing his old acquaintances in the automobile trade here. H. C. Hines, who was looking after the Diamond interests in Oakland for the past few months has returned to the Montana territory for the company where he has a valuable clientage established.

KISSEL KAR BOOSTER.

Fred H. Correll of Chauncey, Ill., owns a Kissell Kar of the vintage of 1910. In a letter to C. C. Eishelberger, the distributor here, Correll tells entertainingly of the good service this car has given. In referring, by way of comparison, to three other cars used by neighbors, he says:

"I wouldn't trade our old 1910 Kissel 'boat, for any one of the three. And this Kissel Kar has been badly abused too. When —— had it, it 'got drunk' two or three times a week. Then —— used it for livery purposes and their drivers were not the most careful, while —— whom we got it from, was worse than any of them.

"So you would be surprised to see the excellent condition of the mechanism of the car, when we commenced tearing it down. It certainly seems to be built on the same principles as was 'The Deacon's One Hoss Shay' of which we used to read at school."

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE.

Does it pay to advertise?

Ask Gus Renstrom, the Regal Underslung dealer.

Last Sunday Renstrom made the formal announcement through THE TRIBUNE of his new policy, inaugurating the easy payment plan in the sale of the famous Regal Underslung cars, and during the week, it has been firmly impressed on him that printers' ink surely does stir up the prosperity pot to the boiling point, when applied scientifically.

"How many Regals did we sell?" he repeated, when the question was put to him. "Oh, now it wouldn't be fair to our competitors to answer that question, but I can say that the announcement of our easy payment plan brought us a small army of prospective purchasers. It will keep our sales force on the jump, indefinitely. And get this: We are going to maintain our lead. It will pay you just to keep an eye on the Regal Underslung."

AGED MAN ACCUSES THREE OF ATTACK

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8.—Policemen Higgins and Cummings found Louis Reyes, an aged man, lying dazed on the sidewalk at Jackson and Battery streets this morning and were bending over him to find the cause of his plight when they were informed by Stephen Rice, a watchman, that he had seen three thugs make an assault upon the prostrate man.

After Reyes had been given medical treatment the officers rounded up six suspicious men in the neighborhood and charged them with battery. In the police court later in the day Deyes identified Leon Dias, Joseph Mendes and Frederico Reyes as the men who had attacked him and they were all booked with assault to commit robbery.

Facts in Nature

FOR centuries it has been known that Nature's most valuable health giving agents for the cure of disease are found in our American forests. Over forty years ago Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute at Buffalo, N.Y., used the powdered extracts as well as the liquid extracts of native medicinal plants, such as Bloodroot and Queen's root, Golden Seal and Stone root, Cherry bark and Mandrake, for the cure of blood diseases. This prescription as put up in liquid form was called and has enjoyed a large sale for all these years in every drug store in the land. You can now obtain the powdered extract in sugar-coated tablet form of your medicine dealer, or send 50c in one-cent postage stamps for trial box to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N.Y., and tablets will be mailed, postage prepaid.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" makes rich, red blood, invigorates the stomach, liver and bowels and through them the whole system. Skin affections, blotches, boils, pimples and eruptions—result of bad blood—are eradicated by this alterative extract—as thousands have testified.

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

THE NEWSPAPER OF AUTHORITY

SATURDAY Feb. 8, 1913

OAKLAND TRIBUNE EDITORIAL PAGE

M. C. CHAPMAN President

Dissolving the Harriman Merger.

Incorporating the Central Pacific in the Union Pacific system is the logical outcome of the dissolution of the Union Pacific-Southern Pacific merger. This arrangement will give the Union Pacific an independent line into Oakland and San Francisco, under a management entirely separated from the Southern Pacific. Probably some of the local lines will be used by both systems under trackage agreements, but the two systems will be operated entirely independent of each other.

Some trackage agreement will have to be made that will enable the Union Pacific trains to come in here from Sacramento by the Benicia route. The line via Benicia and Suisun belongs to the Southern Pacific, while the Central Pacific owns the line to Sacramento via Livermore and Stockton. As the fast through trains will come by the shortest route, it is reasonable to expect that some arrangement will be made that will enable the Union Pacific limited and express trains to run into Oakland via Benicia.

The gratifying feature of the new arrangements is that the general offices of the Central Pacific will remain in California, and the autonomy of the Central Pacific preserved. It will remain a California corporation, and while it will be operated in conjunction with the Union Pacific, it will be under a separate management, with a separate set of officers. It will be a part of the Union Pacific system, but will have a separate entity—something it has not had for many years.

This will require the maintenance of separate general, ticket and freight offices, and of separate shops. Instead of fewer railway officials and employes in this State there will be more than at present. The new shops will necessitate the investment of a considerable capital and the employment of more men.

Whether the Sacramento shops will fall to the Southern Pacific or the Central Pacific has not yet developed. It is to be hoped that the general shops required by one or the other of the corporations will be located in Oakland or in the immediate vicinity, and the Chamber of Commerce should exert itself to have this done. Big railroad shops employing a large number of mechanics would be a prize worth striving for. If either of the companies is to build shops, Oakland is the place to locate them.

Had the Southern Pacific retained control of the Central Pacific, the latter corporation would have continued to control the Union Pacific's approach to San Francisco Bay. The dissolution of the merger extricates the Southern Pacific from the domination of the Union Pacific, and creates two operating systems in place of the one that existed before. Force of circumstances will compel these systems to challenge each other for business. No matter who owns the stock, there will be a healthy rivalry between the Southern and Central lines that will be beneficial in many ways.

Apparently the eggs are being unscrambled in good faith and in accordance with the logic of circumstance. The new arrangement will give the Union Pacific one independent line to tidewater on San Francisco Bay, whereas it formerly controlled two lines of approach. It will strike the public as fair to all interests concerned, not more to the owners of stock in the two corporations than to the general public. In the struggle for business each line will have to bear its own burdens and meet its own financial obligations, and traffic will not be diverted to one line or the other to make a showing different from the one an untrammeled movement would show.

"The income tax has come!" "Hurrah!" cries the editor of the Richmond Record-Herald. Why should our esteemed contemporary rejoice so enthusiastically over his poverty? Seeing the other fellows taxed does not console us for the lack of a motive for opposing an income tax. The vast majority of people are in favor of an income tax because they think they will not have to pay it. But they will—not directly, but indirectly. The man with the hoe cannot get from under the burdens of government no matter how the tax laws are framed.

The Chronicle says that the custom houses should be located on the landward side. All right. Here is Oakland on the landward side.

Senator Hans and the Mating Farm Bill.

THE TRIBUNE is under the moral necessity of admitting that it has done Senator George Hans an injustice by saying that he had introduced the absurd bill to establish a State "mating farm" for the scientific breeding of human beings.

A Sacramento dispatch said Senator Hans introduced the bill by request. We are glad that he did not even step-father the ridiculous proposition, and make the correction gladly because we have always esteemed Senator Hans as a sensible man and a capable legislator.

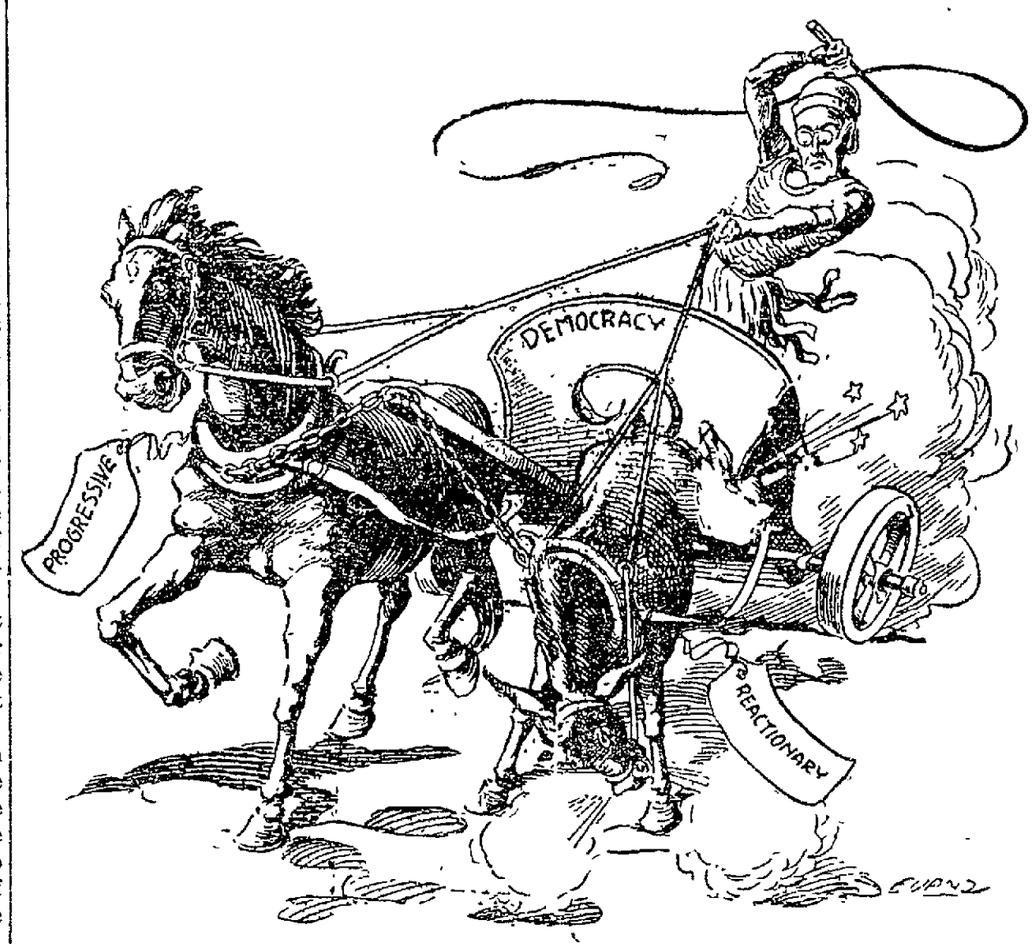

It seems that some resident of Oakland sent Senator Hans a draft of the proposed mating farm bill, but he did not introduce it. So we did him an injustice in saying he had assumed the responsibility of laying the absurd proposition before the Legislature. Senator Hans showed the draft to some of the newspaper correspondents and they sent out the erroneous statement that he had introduced it.

It is a pleasure to learn that he did not, and it gives us pleasure to acknowledge that we made a mistake that did him an injustice in the matter. It is a relief to learn that Senator Hans has not lapsed from his normal state of sanity. Having made this amend, we beg to assure the Senator of THE TRIBUNE'S increased respect.

Helen Keller, who has been deaf, dumb and blind since early youth, has demonstrated that dumbness is not incurable. By persistent effort she has regained the power of speech to an extent that she is able to make herself intelligible on the lecture platform. Her experience is one of the most comforting lessons in self-help that we know of. Optimism, pluck and persistence have enabled Miss Keller to overcome a combination of discouraging afflictions. She has schooled herself in spite of her handicaps, and has recovered the use of her voice by striving indomitably to regain it. She has had assistance because she proved herself worthy. The world is not unkind to those who exhaust their own powers before appealing to others for aid.

Amending the divorce laws will count for little unless the people mend their morals. Loose morals are mainly responsible for our lax divorce laws. These laws are utilized by persons seeking to clothe vagrant amours with the mantle of respectability.

A HARD TEAM TO MANAGE

No wonder Mr. Wilson prefers to walk in his inaugural parade. —BALTIMORE AMERICAN.

Regulation by Skylarkin'.

Whenever a Jim Crow statesman can think of nothing else queer to do, he undertakes to regulate and reform the newspapers. It is a common delusion that when a man is a failure at everything else he is qualified to run a newspaper or a bank, or instruct the publishers of newspapers how to manage their business.

To this class belongs Senator Skylarkin of Tulare county, who is of the school of culture of the Indiana pedagogue whose motto was, "the more lickin' the more larnin.'"

Senator Skylarkin has a bill to regulate the advertising (in newspapers) of drugs, medicines and medical treatments.

He is evidently a friend of the bill boards and street vendors of cure-alls. Before he would allow a publisher to print the advertisement of a medical remedy or a medical practitioner, he would require the publisher to go out and ascertain for himself whether the remedy is what the advertisement represents it to be; he must assure himself that the doctor who advertises a special treatment is not a quack and his treatment a humbug.

Publishers cannot guarantee the truth of statements made by advertisers. All reputable publishers refuse to publish advertisements of frauds and swindles if they know them to be such, but in the nature of things it is impossible for them to investigate the qualifications of every practitioner or merchant, or the efficacy of a medical remedy offered for sale. The sale of drugs and medicines is regulated by the national pure food law, but here comes this skylarkin statesman from Tulare county with a proposition to forbid advertising all medical remedies, good or bad. He proposes to make publishers responsible for the statements of advertisers.

The skylarkin school of statesmanship is quite popular just now. Its method is to regulate corns by forbidding the newspapers to publish advertisements of corn salve. He wants to make every newspaper office a medical laboratory and a guarantee office. He ought to amend his bill by requiring newspaper publishers to furnish brains for fool legislators.

Rev. Bradford Leavitt, who has retired from the ministry to engage in the undertaking business, says people should not take a morbid view of death. If he will cut the charges now being made by funeral directors he will do something toward the morbidity death usually engenders. Morbidity largely comes from a contemplation of the undertaker's bill.

Revising the Decalogue.

An anonymous correspondent who signs himself "A Minister of the Gospel" has written to THE TRIBUNE to say that he is pained and shocked by what has been printed in these columns about cigarette smoking. He adds that he is convinced that the use of tobacco in any form is a sin, and that it is positively indecent for a woman to smoke.

George Washington's mother smoked a pipe. She had bad teeth, and she told Lafayette that it eased her neuralgia to smoke. Lafayette seems to have thought her an estimable and admirable woman. It did not occur to him that her smoking was indecent.

In her declining years Andrew Jackson's wife smoked in the presence of her guests. She was accounted by those who had the honor of her acquaintance as a gentle, motherly old lady of the most irreproachable morals.

Zachary Taylor's wife smoked a corncob pipe in the White House, and doubtless never felt a pang of conscience for so doing. Indeed, up to a comparatively recent period, it was quite the fashion in the South and West for elderly ladies to smoke. The practice was too common to excite comment. It is not a pretty practice, we admit, but that it was sinful and indecent we deny.

At the present day many European ladies of culture and refinement smoke cigarettes. In Russia it is a common thing for women to smoke. They smoke without the slightest idea of committing sin or doing anything indecent.

Perhaps our clerical correspondent mistakes his individual notions of propriety for the canons of morality and good taste. Possibly he is a trifle narrow and censorious, and has fixed a standard of human conduct without consulting his neighbors and stopping to reason out the meaning of the words sin and indecency.

MRS. M. STOKES, PIONEER, BURIED

Last Tribute Paid to One of East Oakland's Earliest Settlers.

With friends from both sides of the bay in attendance, the funeral of Mrs. Mary Stokes, one of East Oakland's pioneers, who died of heart failure Thursday, was held this morning at 9 o'clock from St. Anthony's church, of which she was a member. A requiem high mass was celebrated, Rev. Peter C. Yorke officiating. Interment was in the Stokes' family plot in St. Mary's cemetery.

Deceased was 69 years old and a native of Ireland. She had lived for 46 years at the home at 428 East Fifteenth street, at which she died. Though she had been ill for three years with rheumatism, it was not thought her condition was serious until death came suddenly at 1 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

With her family, Mrs. Stokes came to California around the Horn in 1865, settling in San Francisco. There she met and married Patrick Stokes, an earlier settler, and they came to East Oakland to reside in 1867. Her husband preceded her in death 15 years ago.

Mrs. Stokes is survived by two sons, Richard H. and T. Frank Stokes, and two daughters, Rosetta Stokes and Mrs. Roy Kindall, all of Fruitvale.

The family is one of the best known in Oakland, where the deceased had made a host of friends through her charitable and philanthropical work.

NEW CITY PATROL WAGON ARRIVES

Combination Vehicle Planned by Chief Petersen Is a Credit to Community.

Embodying many new ideas worked out by Chief of Police Walter J. Petersen, the new city patrol wagon and ambulance constructed by the Pope-Hartford Company arrived in Oakland yesterday and was accepted for the city. The combination ambulance and patrol is said to be the finest machine of its kind yet constructed in the United States, as it is equipped and constructed on somewhat different lines from any other car of this character.

The patrol is a 60-horsepower car, with a capacity of holding 12 prisoners and of traveling at 60 miles an hour. It is equipped with electric self-starter, electric lights inside and out and an electric searchlight.

Two important features of the patrol not to be found on any other patrol wagon yet constructed are the movable floor and the large double-locked doors at the rear. These are both installed on the specifications presented by Chief Petersen.

The movable sliding floor makes it possible to handle the ambulance work of the patrol with the greatest ease. Two stretchers are provided, and these can be placed on the floor of the wagon when this is drawn out and then can be pushed back into the interior of the car.

The double doors with locks in the rear of the car make it possible in emergencies for the patrolman on guard at the rear to leave his post. None of the wagons constructed so far have this feature.

The car is provided with demountable rims for the quick transfer of tires. It is also provided with gong and siren, a medicine chest, a box to carry guns and rifles in case of riot, and tool chest. It will be placed at the Central station.

ASSEMBLY PASSES DIVORCE MEASURE

The Proposed Nevada Law Changes Residence Period From Six Months to Year.

CARSON CITY, Nev., Feb. 8.—After a long campaign by the press of the State, ending with a public movement headed by the women of Reno, a bill to discourage divorce seekers from coming to Nevada by extending the period of residence from six months to one year, has passed the Assembly by a vote of 30 to 22, one being absent. It is made effective January 1, 1914. It must go to the Senate now and that body is said to favor its passage.

The bill had been made a special order of business for yesterday and when the hour approached a strong effort was made to postpone the consideration to hear the petitions of business men opposed to the reform. The postponement was defeated 47 to 4. Then came a proposal to amend so as to make the law effective December 31, 1914, but this was beaten, the vote including the speaker's vote, being 26 to 26, one absent. Assemblyman John J. Sheer of Elko county was carried into the chamber from a sick bed to save the bill. The roll call on the bill was then taken without debate.

The act passed by the Assembly provides that jurisdiction will arise in a divorce case where both parties are bonafide residents of the state for six months, but if only one party, defendant or plaintiff, shall be a resident, he must reside as a bona fide resident for one year. No change is made in the several grounds for divorce.

While the Assembly was considering the measure the galleries and all available floor space was taken up by over 300 women and men, principally from Reno, who favored the reform.

The Assembly which passed the measure is overwhelmingly Democratic, as is the Senate.

Governor Tasker L. Oddie, Republican, urged the bill in his message to the legislature.

I therefore request that you remove my name from your list of office-seekers. Wishing you a very successful and prosperous administration, I am, most respectfully yours,

I saved a doctor's bill for one 25c bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound." No opiates. Wishart's Drug Store.

BACCUS TELLS IMPROVERS OF STREET WORK IN CITY

Efforts to Secure Efficiency Outlined to Peralta Heights People

Peralta Heights Improvement Club listened to Commissioner W. J. Baccus at its rooms, at the Boulevard and Newton avenue, last night, while he went into the detail of the work in his department and told of the endeavors to secure efficiency.

The Boulevard Improvement Club, a women's organization of Peralta Heights, met with the men of the district for the first time on meeting nights. About 50 of the women attended.

A matter which will be looked into by the clubs is the car service, and other organizations which are being served by the College-avenue cars will be asked to take action.

TALKS ON STREET WORK.

Commissioner Baccus' remarks were in part as follows:

"I appreciate the courtesy shown me in asking me to address your club this evening. With you premission, I will talk about what has been done in the department. Some of the best things we have done, things that are the most important to you, can only be appreciated by knowing of our plans and work.

"The building of good streets and their proper maintenance contribute as much toward the upbuilding and development of a city as any other one thing that can be done. When I became your Commissioner of Streets I believed it possible to do this work on a business basis, and I considered it my duty to secure efficiency and economy in the administration of affairs.

$9000 SAVED IN YEAR.

"During my first year we reorganized the department and secured better work and a saving of $9000 per year. In reorganizing, we reduced the number of bosses and increased the working force; we fixed responsibility and demanded results; we put in a system of reports that give us costs and work accomplished, from which we can get comparative statements and check one deputy or crew against another, or one month against another. In this way we can bring up the work of all crews to the highest standard.

"An illustration of this is the feed and care of horses. We not only keep the monthly cost on all our horses, but the average cost per horse for each separate item that goes into this cost. We also have an average of the pounds of hay, grain, shoeing, etc., so that we can check the items even when prices are changed. Another illustration is the handling of autos. We keep a charge of gasoline, oil, tires, repairs, etc., on each machine. At the end of the month, by comparing the cost of maintenance with the miles run, we find the careless drivers and correct abuses. We also keep an "In and out" register, so that we know the use each machine is put to every day, and especially when used after hours.

"By carrying thir cost and result system through the whole department we are gradually standardizing the cost on all lines of operation, and can within a short time figure accurately on all our work. It enables us to check poor work and excessive cost at once.

$470,000 FOR WORK.

"In July, we submitted to the council an estimate of $470,000 as the amount necessary to carry out the work planned by the department. This was submitted in detail and explanations given of the work proposed and the savings to be made if certain of the items were allowed. In this estimate we included $10,000 for an asphalt repair plant and $35,000 for oiling. The council deemed it best and necessary to cut this amount to $425,000, and left it to us as to where the cut should be made. We cut out the asphalt plant for this year, and by careful revision and cutting down on all emergency items, were able to leave $26,000 to the credit of the oiling account.

"Instructions were given to push cleaning and repair work and oiling up to January 1, and to make what savings were necessary during the winter months.

"All available men were worked up to this time, and we figured the amount necessary to carry on the work for the balance of the year. We find we can work our full force every day it is possible and have a surplus of between $5000 and $6000 to add to the oiling fund to be spent in the spring. This result could only have been obtained by increased efficiency in the force and is very gratifying.

"We are now installing in the department a system of credits and demerits to be applied to all employes. For any infraction of rules, soldiering on the job, insobriety, failure to report, etc., a suspension will be given varying with the gravity of the offense. The man will not be actually laid off, thus crippling the force, but when his total suspensions amount to say 90 days, he will be fired. These demerits or suspensions can be worked off by a clean record of six months for ten days, one year for thirty days, etc. This system is new in municipal affairs, but has been in use by the railroads and a few large corporations. It has proven satisfactory both to employe and employer where given a fair trial. We have realized its need, but it has required a careful study of conditions and a large amount of investigation before we could install it.

WORK DOUBLED.

"We have made many changes in the handling of business in the office. It has been our policy to make no change that would not make things plainer and reduce labor. All our betterments here have come from the men themselves. We have practically the same office force as when I took the office, and are handling more than double the work. This was accomplished by systemizing, cutting out duplication of work and by fixing responsibility. I am perfectly safe in saying that we have the best system of indexing and filing of street contracts in the State. It not only condenses and makes plainer the references pertaining to these contracts, but reduces the time of keeping these indexes fully 30 per cent. In the file you only look in one place for all the papers pertaining to a contract.

"We had an ordinance passed by the council which gives us control of excavations in the streets and their repair. Before an excavation can be made a permit must be taken out and a deposit made to cover the cost of repair. If the street is not put back in good condition within a reasonable time, we do the work and take the cost out of the deposit. A system of inspection and reports will enable us to give you better service in this line. This is not something that is going to be, it is working.

NEW WEED ORDINANCE.

"The new Weed Ordinance gives us control of the sidewalk area. If you don't clean up your weeds now, we will do it for you and charge it to your property. Get busy and clean up your own sidewalk area and report your neighbor.

"Between July 1 and December 1, we surface oiled 18 9-10 miles of plain or water-bound macadam streets at a cost of $21,122.28, an average of $1121.94 per mile. This has cut out sprinkling, summer dust and winter mud and gives a smooth and even surface, lessening the cost of maintenance 50 per cent. The same water-bound macadam streets that have shown destructive wear under 75 to 100 high speed autos per day stand up under 1400 high speed autos per day.

"During the same time we have treated with an oil-tar application 11 6-10 miles of water-bound macadam at a cost of $344 12, or an average of $72.76 per mile. This tarring is an experiment, and is justified by its low cost, the material being a refuse from the gas works and costing us nothing but the hauling and spreading. A surface cost of tar will last at least a season under heavy auto traffic, and costs about one-fourth as much as a season's sprinkling. We believe continued application will have the effect of oil.

ECONOMY IN LONG RUN.

"If I am still to be your Commissioner of Streets, I will ask for at least $50,000 in next year's budget for this class of work, as it means economy in the end and better streets. You can assist me in securing this if you want your streets oiled.

"In our reorganization we made a complete division between our construction and maintenance departments. We have been able to secure better work in our construction department by having the engineering office connected with and a part of the street department. Ninety per cent of the work done in the engineering office is for us, and it has saved friction and "passing the buck" to have all under one head. A separate corps of engineers is assigned to the waterfront development, and is under the control of the Commissioner of Public Works. We now start proceedings for new work in the engineering office, and things take their natural and logical course through the department. I believe the people now realize that the consolidation of the two was not all a political move, but was necessary for efficiency. All employes are given their positions through civil service examinations and no commissioner can do politics with appointments under our present Civil Service Board.

CHANGE FOR THE BETTER.

"I feel that one of the best changes we have made in the handling of new work was in requiring that contractors secure at least 90 per cent of the frontage instead of 60 per cent. This has invariably led to the whole of the work being done and has not left out little patches here and there, or the crossings. When the majority of the people on a street petition for an improvement, we will start public proceedings, and it is as cheap for them as by private contract.

"In our new street work, we require either standard asphalt or oil-macadam pavement. Where a street does not justify the asphalt pavement, we feel the oil-macadam will serve the purpose. The many patent pavements advocated are so near the cost of asphalt that we do not feel it is right to experiment. The experiment on the Twelfth-street dam is, one that worked well in some places, but did not here in Oakland. Our specifications on both kinds of pavement are very stiff and secure us good results. The prices we get are as low or lower than in other parts of the country for similar work.

"I am trying to give you a business administration. We keep pretty busy all the time and try not to overlook anything that will be beneficial to you. It is gratifying to know that we are supported by a great many of the people. I wish it were possible to please all the people."

G. O. P. THREATENS QUICK COME-BACK

Retaliation Promised Democratic Senators if Appointments Are Held Up.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8. — Opposition of Democratic senators to confirmation of President Taft's 1500 pending nominations has brought some Republican senators into the position of threatening retaliation after the Democrats come into power on March 4.

The proposal is being discussed in the Republican cloak rooms, and it was learned yesterday, has been broached in the Republican caucus and the executive sessions of the Senate. Senator William Alden Smith of Michigan was the principal speaker in each instance.

In the caucus Senator Smith advocated a policy of obstruction to all nominations by President Wilson. He declared he would be willing to go so far as to oppose the cabinet nominations. In one of the executive sessions Smith told the Democratic senators they were pursuing a course which might react upon them. Senator Bradley of Kentucky endorsed Senator Smith's position in the caucus.

Some Republican senators have suggested that opposition to President Wilson's appointments might be used as a means of checking tariff legislation.

Senators Root and Lodge and others have spoken against such a plan and expressed special disapproval of any effort to prevent the confirmation of Mr. Wilson's cabinet nominations.

It became known yesterday that in one of the executive sessions Senator Smith declared the course of the Democrats had been inspired by President-elect Wilson.

Mother's Friend in Every Home

Comfort and Safety Assured Before the Arrival of the Stork.

The old saying—what is home without a mother—should add "Mother's Friend."

In thousands of American homes there is a bottle of this splendid and famous remedy that has aided many a woman through the trying ordeal, saved her from suffering and pain, kept her in health of mind and body in advance of baby's coming and had a most wonderful influence in developing a healthy, lovely disposition in the child.

There is no other remedy so truly a help to nature as Mother's Friend. It relieves the pain and discomfort caused by the strain on the ligaments, makes pliant those fibres and muscles which nature is expanding and soothes the inflammation of breast glands.

Mother's Friend is an external remedy, acts quickly and not only banishes all distress in advance, but assures a speedy and complete recovery for the mother. Thus she becomes a healthy woman with all her strength preserved to thoroughly enjoy the rearing of her child. Mother's Friend can be had at any drug store at $1.00 a bottle, and is really one of the greatest blessings ever discovered for expectant mothers. SKIRTS MAY BE HOBBLED MORE

Makers of Fashion Want to Reduce Them Six Inches.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Unless the National Ladies' Tailors and Dressmakers' Association, which is holding its fifth annual convention at 17 East Forty-eighth street, overrules the decision of the New York tailors who are members of the organization, it is probable that the skirts worn here this coming year will be more on the "hobble" order than ever.

Several of the New York tailors said they were planning to have women's skirts at least six inches smaller about the bottom than those worn last year.

California has swung the other way, and advocates that skirts be two and a half yards wide at the bottom. The tailors here say such a dictum would never go here.

Women's coats will be shorter and more mannish in cut. The prevailing shades and textures will be brocades, novelties and charmeuse silks.

Hot Water

The economy of heating water with gas is apparent when it is considered that you consume fuel only when you need hot water. It is not necessary to keep a fire going all day to get hot water now and then.

Both health and cleanliness demand hot water. And the easiest, most economical and most satisfying way to get it is to use gas.

GOSSIP FROM SAN FRANCISCO WEEKLIES

Hiram Johnson and Pardee in a Row

Governor Hiram Johnson, the hierophant of reform, and ex-Governor Pardee, the "weak sister" of progressivism, have come to the parting of the ways. Hostility, bitter, fearful hostility reigns where friendship once held genial sway. If Hiram has not yet twisted his fist in Doc Pardee's luxuriant whiskers, if the Doc has not yet aimed a smashing blow at the pipe in the Guv's clenched teeth, it isn't for lack of bitterness. Some of the things that Hiram is saying about George are so blistery that they wouldn't do at all in print; and some of the things George intends to do to Hiram are so mean that only a Pardee could think of them. The scrap is on in earnest, and whatever guardian spirit watches over the good progressives is weeping spirit tears over the sad situation. But what is more to the point, progressives of the Johnson type and progressives of the Pardee type will soon be lining up on either side for a battle royal. Then we may expect to see the fur fly. Tremendous consequences may ensue. And all because Doc Pardee asked Hiram to parole Henry P. Dalton.—Town Talk.

The Governor's Goat Is Lost

To understand the situation aright one must know that Governor Johnson has lost his goat. (use the expression with due apology to those who have not yet welcomed it to the company of correct English.) The governor's goat is in the possession of Fremont Older. Older's capture of the governor's goat began when the Bulletin started the fight to get Abe Ruef out of San Quentin. The Bulletin's persistent hammering at that purpose disturbed the governor's equanimity, but it was not known that our chief executive had lost his goat until about three weeks ago. Eustace Cullinan, who is very close to Fremont Older on the one hand and to Governor Johnson on the other, made a trip to Sacramento to see the governor, I think at the governor's request. The governor told Cullinan that he wanted Older to stop this Ruef business, that he was sick and tired of it, that it wouldn't do any good because he didn't intend to release Ruef and that it was embarrassing him uselessly. Of course neither Cullinan nor anybody else could promise the governor that Older would stop, but Cullinan promised to tell Older what the governor said. When Older heard it he knew that he had the governor's goat. The series of articles by Pauline Jacobsen had turned the trick; the governor and his goat were parted.—Town Talk.

The Last Straw

Governor Johnson was in this condition when his distinguished predecessor in office bustled up to Sacramento and followed his streaming whiskers into the executive sanctum. He had come on important business, he told Hiram. But when Hiram heard what the business was his face froze. Pardee wanted him to parole "Honest Henry" Dalton, the former assessor of Alameda county, who is serving a term in San Quentin for soliciting and accepting a bribe. That was the last straw. Fremont Older had captured the gubernatorial goat by demanding the release of Ruef, and here was Doc Pardee adding insult to injury. To say that Hiram bit the ceiling is putting it mildly. He was so mad he couldn't see. Words almost failed him in his rage. But Pardee pleaded. He pointed with pride to what he had done for Hiram. Hadn't he taken program? Hadn't he held a lot of obstreperous Alameda statesmen in line? Wasn't he entitled to a little favor like that? After all, he pointed out, poor old Dalton had harmed himself more than anybody else. He had taken the money of the corporations, but he hadn't robbed the county. That statement stuck in Johnson's mind, and he investigated it after he had sent Pardee away with an emphatic "No!" ringing in his ears. The governor found that that statement was incorrect. He found that the public records showed where Henry P. Dalton had embezzled $30,000 from Alameda county. When he found that he was madder than ever. "Pardee," he told one of his close friends, "is a —— liar."—Town Talk.

The "Doc" in a High Dudgeon

Pardee went away from Sacramento nursing resentful feelings. He had set his heart on getting Dalton out. Henry P. Dalton is a very close friend of Pardee. They have been associates in business of one sort or another for years, besides being political pals. Dalton used to have an interest in the Oakland Enquirer with the Doc. In fact, they had their fingers in a number of enterprises together and are supposed to have made money during their business association. So its quite natural Pardee should want to get Dalton out. He got the shock of his life when Hiram turned him down in such swift and conclusive fashion. Pardee doesn't readily forgive, and just at present he is engaged in keeping his grievance warm. He thinks the time will come when he can get even with Hiram. Of course he will proceed discreetly. Pardee always does. You see, Johnson appointed him chairman of the State Conservation Committee. If he makes war too openly the governor might remove him the way he removed Storms.—Town Talk.

Joaquin and the Lily

When Lady de Bathe went over to The Hights to visit her dear old friend of former London days Joaquin Miller she found the poet of the Sierras in bed. He lamented his fate. "I am bedridden," he told her. "I that was once so vigorous have lost the use of my legs. I cannot walk any more. A sort of paralysis has seized on my legs and disabled them." And then, changing the subject suddenly, he said: "But you are still young. How do you keep so young?" "By exercise," answered Lady de Bathe, "Feel of my arm." The poet regarded the strong outstretched arm, but made no move. "I was speaking of legs," he said.—Town Talk.

An Undeserved Rebuke

United States District Attorney John L. McNab went out of his way to administer a wholly unnecessary, irrelevant, and in many respects unjust rebuke to Miss Elizabeth Mayne and the vaudeville profession when asked for his opinion in the case against Dr. Samuel Weiss. Weiss was charged with sending indecent matter through the mails, an offense in itself, and wholly independent of the detail as to whether the matter was addressed to Miss Flossie Fewclothes of the chorus or to so moral an ornament of his saintly profession Attorney McNab. He said that Miss Mayne, to whom the Weiss epistle was sent, was entitled to no consideration. "She is a variety actress of the chorus girl type, whose ambition in life is to see her figure, clad in tights, on the front page of the daily paper. . . . If she cannot be the center of a nasty sensation she thinks her life a failure." And so on, in a denunciation even more specific in its charges. With the honor of the vaudeville profession The Wasp is not over-concerned. The chorus girl seems to be fairly well able to get along without a chaperon. However, it is evidence of a defective sense of justice, and an inability for perfect concentration upon the legal issues involved when an officer of the law, in obedience to his inherited or acquired calvinistic prejudices against theatricals, castigates a chorus girl because she was the recipient of an indecent letter. McNab did not excuse Weiss, but his attack upon Miss Mayne was on a par with the remark of the police court judge, now subject to much unenviable publicity, who belittled a very serious offense on the ground that "the girl was not virtuous, anyway." As if that mattered—as if it matters in the Weiss case whether Miss Mayne is a saint or only "a variety actress of the chorus girl type."—The Wasp.

Entertainment Costs Guest $19

Does this man owe the smart set anything? Not if we're any judge. This is the story of new people who have come to reside here with the best of social passports. To welcome the lady into exclusive society a bridge luncheon was given in her honor by a very prominent lady. She very readily accepted, welcoming the invitation as an opportunity to meet our best people, make friends and pass a pleasant afternoon. The hostess was charming, her home a miniature palace, with servants, footman, butler and chauffeurs. The friends invited to meet the interesting stranger were highly cultured and delightful women. The afternoon was a real joy, and when the party broke up and good-byes were being said, the lady stood bidding farewell to the guests and beaming with gratitude for meeting such fashionable women. Just before donning her wraps, her hostess approached her, and without the least hesitancy explained that her losses for the afternoon amounted to $19.

A flush of embarrassment overspread the face of the "honored guest," as she frankly announced that she would have to beg the loan of that amount from the hostess and would reimburse her on the morrow. It was agreed, and the lady made her way home and confided the whole affair to her husband. He immediately wrote a check for $20, called a messenger boy and sent it to the lady who had so charmingly entertained his wife, and so willingly loaned her the money to settle her bridge debt.

The gentleman was called to the phone and the former hostess said: "You sent me $20, and your wife only owes me $19." "Oh, that's all right. The extra dollar is for the luncheon she ate."—News Letter.

Found, a Pink Silk Chemise

A deal of tittering gossip went the rounds last week. It concerned a pink silk chemise. After a most formal dinner party, when the guests had departed from a mansion in Pacific avenue, the butler in making his rounds to put out the lights found a dainty piece of pale pink lingerie known in trousseau parlance as an Italian silk chemise. The servant reported the find to his mistress immediately and the family became at once involved in speculation as to which one of the ten ladies who had been present it belonged to; how a garment ordinarily so well secured could have been lost in the library where all the guests were assembled; and how it had remained beside the bookcase undiscovered all evening. The lady who lost it is telling the story on herself with shrieks of laughter that dissipates all the gossip that started with the butler's exhibit.—Town Talk.

The Lady and the Student

The handsome Mrs. Jeffie Manaton, who is suing her husband, William H. Manaton, for failure to provide, is the great granddaughter of Millionaire Thomas Hopper, and wealthy in her own right. She was married in October, 1911. Her record as a daring motorist is established. Soon after her marriage she was arrested near Beresford for racing against a Stanford student named Howard Cookson. Bail of $25 was demanded from each. Mrs. Manaton had $20, which she put up and was released. She jumped into Cookson's car and ran to Palo Alto, where she obtained bail for the prisoner. On being released, and discovering that his car had been used without his permission Cookson, 'tis said, lost his temper completely and made comments not suitable to the occasion. Next day, when the case came to trial, the judge fined the ungallant youth $20 and added some remarks pertinent to the case. The lady was let off with a fine of $15. Mrs. Manaton is not now suing her husband for alimony; she merely wishes to be allowed to resume her maiden name.—The Wasp.

Did Prize Winner Wear Best Costume?

Some one suggests that the subscribers to the Mardi Gras ball start a movement for popular government. The slogan, "Let the people rule," has penetrated into the fastnesses of that mad, merry throng which once a year dances down the clicking dollars for the benefit of the Children's Hospital.

Not content with voting at regular and special elections; with stamping crosses after all the amendments that the minds of the supervisors and the muscles of the circulators of the initiative petitions can conjure up, these malcontents, who, if they have not a care, will change the spelling of democracy to dam-ocracy, want to vote on the prizes at the Mardi Gras ball!

These prizes are always worth having. Moreover, if they are worth the having, but not the holding, the fortunate winner may exchange them. Mrs. Worthington Ames established that precedent several years ago by exchanging the bracelet donated by Miss Jennie Crocker for a gold bag. But it is not the intrinsic value of the prize which lends so much interest to the award. The fact that one is singled out of all that gorgeous throng for special consideration gives a thrill of satisfaction that cannot be estimated in terms of carats.

Of course, there are always those who are stupefied by the choice of the committee; those who are excited into vibrant remonstrance; those who look wise and sinister and imply that it is all "a fixed-up job;" those (and they are in the majority) who do not give a second thought to it, and devote themselves to the merry pranks, the dancing and all the by-products of a Mardi Gras, chief among which is flirtatious adventures.

This was no exception to the rule. The committee awarded the first prize to Miss Ottilia Laine, who impersonated a California poppy, called eschscholtzia by those who have tongues accustomed to athleticism and trained to combine a cough and a sneeze into a word.

Indisputably it takes more imagination to conjure up the spelling of the word than it does to create the counterpart of the flower in a costume. Ever since the first fancy dress ball was danced, flowers have swayed to the music. Even in the year 1 B. R. (before ragging), roses and lilies and forget-me-nots twinkled their silken ankles along with Night and Folly and all the rest of the stand-bys that are still in business. A flower costume at a fancy dress ball may be beautiful, but it is about as original as serving olives and almonds with luncheon.

Miss Laine was a pretty picture as the golden poppy which riots over all our hills in the summer time, and flaunts the last glow of its belated beauty when the snow mantles the East. But there were those that felt that it was a costume that had none of the dash and daring, the swing and swagger of some of the other stunning costumes. So the most solemn and earnest of those people who transmute their objections into action got together and said: "Of course, Miss Laine, who received the first prize, and Mrs. Harry Umbsen, who was awarded the second, looked very charming and all that, but were they the choice of the assembled dancers for the honor thrust upon them by the committee? Who knows? And the way to find out next time is to have ballots, and let everyone vote.

Women who have been able to agree about what is the best make of cold cream, and men who for years have ordered the same brand of cocktails, fell out about who was the most stunning woman at the ball. Many believed that Mrs. Walter Martin and Mrs. Henry Foster Dutton shared honors. They romped all the way from black-faced Topsies to exquisite beauty, Mrs. Martin changing from the Topsy prank to a Pavlova ballet costume, and Mrs. Dutton "jest growed" from kinky-haired, gunny sack disguise into a wondrous green and gold costume with a train of leopard skins.

Another contingent became eloquent on the superiority of Mrs. Templeton Crocker's costume over every other one at the ball. It was Pavlovian like many another worn, but it had a charm all its own in the eyes of many of the beholders.

Still another group maintained that Mrs. Fred McNear deserved the prize. Her costume was "devilish attractive," which is a literal, not a blasphemous way of speaking of the spangled red affair which flashed through the crowds. Mrs. Fred McNear is always authoritative in the matter of dress, so it can be stated without fear of contradiction that Mrs. D—l and all the Misses D—l are wearing shorter horns than last season, but on the whole more attractive horns set at an angle that is very chic; also they are wearing Directoire skirts, slashed very high on both sides, and showing spangled red hose above the knee. Mrs. McNear, one can feel assured, took great pains to present accurately the vogue at present obtaining among the ladies in the family of the —— gentleman.—News Letter.

Visitor Received a Shock

Western hospitality is great, according to a prominent Eastern woman while visiting here recently.

A large luncheon was given by prominent and intellectual people at one of the leading hotels where our esteemed highbrows are wont to meet and discuss reform measures and other questions of the day. As we native sons and daughters know full well, a certain price per plate is charged.

Our guest was invited to attend, and was seated at the speaker's table. She made a splendid speech. When the luncheon was well along she discovered that a payment was required for this intellectual feast and felt embarrassed, but quickly made haste to reach for her purse. One of the speakers—a native son, to be sure—who sat beside her witnessed the performance. Very gallantly he came to the front, saying: "No, indeed! As a Californian, I can't permit such a thing. You are a guest, and here in our interest. Permit me!" And so this clever, broad-minded visitor sighed: "It is to laugh."—News Letter.

Fannie Brown to Retire

One of the most widely known women of the West is about to retire from active business. Fannie Brown of Sacramento who has practiced Mrs. Warren's profession for so many years that the memory of the giddiest old legislator runs not to the contrary is about to close her establishment and go into private life. Full of years and if not of honors, at least of wealth. Fannie Brown longs for the comfortable quietude of the domestic circle, so she will bid her pretty "priestesses of humanity" go forth to find asylum in some new temple of the flesh, and Sacramento will know her hetairistic hospitality no more. The ancient mansion in Second street that was wont to ring o'nights with meretricious revelry will be deserted. The closely curtained windows will have no more secrets to hide; the high fence that shelters the front door from too curious eyes will serve its discreet purpose no longer; the conductors and motormen on the cars that clang up from the depot to K stret will be deprived of their favorite subject of jibe and jest. Fannie Brown's active career is soon to end, and to end, if her plans are carried out, in a last great blaze of glory.—Town Talk.

To Entertain the Legislature

Fannie Brown has a warm spot in her woman's heart for the California Legislature. Sacramento in its prosperity has outgrown the Legislature. Sacramento doesn't care whether the solons sit or not. Sacramento doesn't need the statesmen in her business. But Fannie does. The potent, grave and reverend seignors who sit in the two chambers of the Capitol have always been her friends. Many a warrant on the State treasury has been cashed to fill her coffers. Time was when her establishment was called the Capitol, for political bosses, lobyists and legislative leaders met there when night had fallen to plan and plot; and to make and unmake laws. Those were the sad, bad, glad old days before reform came to California; but in the new regime Fannie has been by no means slighted. Reformers might come and performers might go, but Fannie's establishment pursued its even course with little difference. Fannie has found that political complexions might differ ever so widely while legislators' primal passions remained the same. So she will testify her esteem for the Legislature by retiring from business during the session. She will close her doors forever in March, but first she will give a great banquet to which every member of the present holy Legislature will be bidden! That is her present plan. It may not work out the way she thinks it will, but in that case we may take the will for the deed. She must have some assurance that it is practicable, for Fannie is a deep and experienced student of human nature.—Town Talk.

A Remarkable Woman

Fannie Brown is a remarkable woman, almost as remarkable as Mrs. Warren herself. While far from being a purist she is a stickler for the more genial virtues of honesty truthfulness, urbanity and charity. Her private purse has always been at the service of the deserving poor. She always discouraged married men from mothing it about the bright lights of her establishment, drawing the theologian's distinction between marital infidelity and the bachelor's divagation from the straight and narrow path. Her observation of politicians has made her a good deal of a philosopher in the business of government, and while she extended her countenance and her hospitality to reformers and performers alike, her secret leanings are toward progressivism. At the same time she is fond of declaring that she hates a hypocrite, and when in a communicative mood she will mention the names of statesmen in California whom she looks upon as pharisees. She is an ardent suffragist, and may devote her new found leisure to the political activities which are now open to the gentler sex. In that case she will be a tower of strength to those good earnest workers in our midst who are trying to abolish prostitution. She is sure to have some very expert ideas on the subject.—Town Talk.

Some of Our Clubmen Think

A member of one of our most exclusive clubs recently was called upon for a speech following a dinner given to a foreign nobleman in this city. In the course of his remarks he delivered himself of a quiver of typical epigrams, some of them being as follows:

"Every man is to himself the most important thing on earth."

"The rarest thing in humanity is thinking for one's self."

"Respectability is what most people think."

"A gentleman is one who doesn't care a rap whether he is one of not."

"There is nothing so pleasant as a swell head. It is the subsequent shrinkage that hurts."

"It is the great artists of the world who will be remembered when the great slaughters are forgotten."

"The rain falleth alike on the just and the unjust, but chiefly on the just, for the unjust has his umbrella."

"The really great man is one who sympathizes with the less fortunate, thereby reflecting a divine power."

"The handling of a rifle is a great leveler of mankind."

"There is no class so intelligent as that making a livlihood at sea, because it deals with the elements."

"Be one's self—it is the one important thing."

The foregoing shows that our clubmen do something besides clip coupons and gaze at our matchless views from their bay windows.—News Letter.

Alimony Club Holds Banquet.

A dinner was given at the Union League Club quite recently. On the club's rostrum are thirty-five members, who each pay alimony in sums ranging from $50 per month up. These men, having much in common, and at all times seeking sympathy, have formed themselves into an "Alimony Club," and on the occasion mentioned gave their first dinner. The menu, decorations—even the wine—bore the little sorrowing cupids, and the chef and steward saw to it that for one night, at least, these men should not feel the call of the hearthstone.

The president of the club pays $125 per month to two different wives, and is legally married to the third, with whom he maintains a home. Rather expensive, however, but the president is a benevolent sort of a man.

After the main part of the dinner was over, the speech making commenced, and each one related his experience and generally placed the blame for their plight on their counsel and judge. Lawyers and jurists who make their home at the Union League, on O'Farrell street, shied at the invitation accorded them by those near widowers to join them in their revelry, as they did not know to what extent they might have been involved—and declined. Now, as this is a good showing for the Union League, the odds are that some of the other clubs could beat this record.—News Letter.

The Lunatic's Little Joke

The general supposition that all the lunatics in California have been in Sacramento for the past month is evidently not quite correct, for some of them have remained in the Stockton asylum. We are sure of that, for Dr. Leo McMahon of the San Francisco Olympic Club, and also a member of the State Dental Board, has been doing some professional work on inmates of the asylum. Quite a lengthy account of the popular dentist's performances is given in the Stockton Record, the concluding stunt being one of the most interesting from the journalistic point of view. While the doctor was preparing to examine the teeth of a demure looking female patient, who was found quietly sewing, she took a cushion full of needles and slyly dropped it in the dentist's chair so that when he sat down he didn't sit long. In fact, he got up so fast and with such an athletic spring to his ascent that 'twas a wonder he didn't go through the ceiling. The female enjoyed it all hugely, especially when they led off the dentist to the operating room, where the process of reconverting him from a porcupine to a human being was to take place. Evidently lunatics are not all devoid of humor as some scientists assert, though the quality of it may be as hard to enjoy as that of the uncaged bunch at the Sacramento Legislature. Dr. McMahon is not very communicative as regards his quaint adventure.—The Wasp.

Bernhardt's Tomb Dug in Rock

Mme. Sarah Bernhardt has had her last resting place made ready for her, but the artistic world—in fact the world at large—hopes it will be many years before it is wanted. Her tomb has been prepared for her on a rock in the Alantic ocean. It is hewn out of a rocky peninsula which touches Bellville, the island off the Brittany coast where Mme. Bernhardt passes her holidays. At low tide the rock which contains the tomb, joins the island, while at high tide it becomes an island itself. After the actress had prepared the tomb doubt was expressed regarding her title to the rock, and a lawyer informed her several months ago that it did not belong to her. Mme. Bernhardt has now received a definite assurance through Mme. Delcasse, wife of the minister of marine, that her title will not be challenged.—News Letter.

San Francisco Woman Presented to Kaiser

At the royal court function held in Berlin in January, a San Francisco daughter was presented to his Imperial Majesty Emperor William of Germany. Mrs. Bjornstadt, wife of the American military attache, was the distinguished American woman. She wore a Parisian court gown of pink satin and velour, with a train fifteen feet long. A tiara and necklace of priceless diamonds added to this wonderful costume. Mrs. Bjornstadt is remembered here as the beautiful Irene Sabin, daughter of the late John I. Sabin, who, before his death, was president of the Pacific Coast Telephone Company. Miss Sabin's marriage to the young army officer was a smart affair in San Francisco society. German court affairs are considered the most brilliant of any European monarchs, and the Kaiser William and his empress receive the homage of those presented according to the strict regulations of court etiquette.—News Letter.

Candidates for Governor

I understand on pretty good authority that Governor Johnson has told John M. Eshelman to go ahead and run for governor next time. Governor Johnson hopes to be well on his way to the United States Senate via the direct primary route when the day for the next State election rolls round, and when he dons the toga he is perfectly willing, nay desirous that the young Hotspur from Imperial should put on his discarded gubernatorial mantle. The loquacious president of the Railroad Commission falls in with the governor's view, and is already mending his fences. Of course Hiram may never go to the Senate, and the corporation baiter from El Centro may never become governor. There are the Democrats to reckon with. They are casting about quietly for a fit candidate for governor.—Town Talk.

They're Not Above Selling Their Clothes

A rather cynical lady confided in me that she is very glad that society people are not above selling their clothes these days. "Were it otherwise, we'd have nothing but Arabian Nights costumes for the next ten years. We all spent so much on those costumes for the Templeton Crocker ball that most of us would have felt that we had to go on wearing them for the next decade, if it were not for the modern method of disposing of them to costumers."

Ten or twelve years ago we had not developed this capacity for trade. Ned Greenway used to try a fancy dress a year and the canny always kicked because it meant investing a lot of money in a fancy dress to be worn but once, or else defiantly wearing the same costume, for several years. Every one has observed that the scale of magnificence for these fancy dress balls is double and treble what it used to be. It doesn't mean that society people are twice as rich and three times as extravagant. It means that a method has been established whereby the loss is considerably lessened after a little business deal with a costumer who is glad to add to his collection.—News Letter.

Dancing and the Saloon

There is a court ruling here that "dancing is a natural accomplishment of a saloon." I am told that this ruling was the result of a successful attempt on the part of those interested to avoid paying dance licenses in addition to liquor licenses.

This does not mean that every dance must be accompanied by a saloon. Profound meditation will show the true inwardness, the deep significance and moral import of that ruling. Far from its intention to make obligatory the sale of liquor with dancing. It just makes it a matter of choice whether dancing shall be served with drinks.

Therefore be it understood that although it's perfectly legal to have dancing as a natural accompaniment of a saloon, it is not mandatory to have a saloon as a natural accompaniment of a dance. There have been years when the Mardi Gras ball had seemed to labor under the delusion that it was; when even those who are tolerant about such matters felt that there was more drinking than good taste permits. Of course, the fanatics have always declaimed against the whole business of dancing and dancing for the sake of sick little children, and of course the fanatics will get right on protesting. But no tolerant person found a peg on which to hang a real complaint of this last affair. There was plenty of champagne drinking all through the evening, of course. But there were none of the regrettable episodes of former years.—News Letter.

CHURCHES TO HOLD MISSION INSTITUTE

Fellowship Reception and Welcome to Visitors Opening Event.

Much interest is being taken among the churches in the foreign missionary institute which will hold its session both in Oakland and San Francisco. The institute will be held under the auspices of the American board of commissioners for foreign missions and the woman's board of the Pacific. It will open Saturday evening, February 15, continuing until the Monday evening following.

The opening event will be a fellowship reception and welcome to the visiting speakers, given at the home of Mrs. S. T. Alexander of Piedmont. There will be refreshments and formal addresses. The attendance at this meeting will be limited to 150 persons. Arrangements are in the hands of Mrs. H. M. Tenney of Piedmont.

On the following Sunday the pulpits of the various city churches will be occupied to a large extent by the visiting missionaries, as follows:

Rev. R. Chambers, veteran from Bardezag, in Western Turkey, with 34 years of service, the North Congregational church of Berkeley in the morning and the Park Congregational church of Berkeley in the evening; Rev. Robert Brewer Eddy, associate secretary of the American board of commissioners for foreign missions, Boston, Alameda Congregational church in the morning and in the evening at the Pilgrim Congregational church, Oakland; Rev. Storrs, home on first furlough from Shaowu, Foochow, China, the First Congregational church, Oakland, in the morning, the Young Men's Christian Association of Oakland in the afternoon and Bethany Congregational church, San Francisco, in the evening; Mrs. G. B. Cowles, from Adams, Zulu mission, South Africa, at the Congregational mission of San Francisco in the morning and at the Myrtle Street Congregational church of Oakland, in the evening.

SCHOOL FOR WORLD PEACE IS PLANNED

BOSTON, Feb. 8. — Headquarters of the World Peace Foundation are to be established permanently in this city. An estate on Beacon Hill, which was purchased yesterday by Edwin Ginn, father of the idea, is to be the home of the society and possibly of an international school of peace. Ginn has announced his intention of establishing such a school, to be equipped with a staff of lecturers, writers and teachers to give instruction toward educating the world in the ways of universay peace.

As a means of promoting peace among the nations, Ginn some years ago said that he would contribute $50,000 a year for the rest of his life and that he had set aside $1,000,000 for the same purpose, to be conveyed in his will.

Out of the vast volume of experience which they have to draw from, it is more than possible that they possess the very knowledge needed in your case. Nothing is asked in return except your good will, and their advice has helped thousands. Surely any woman, rich or poor, should be glad to take advantage of this generous offer of assistance. Short Sermons for Busy Readers

"A CITY'S TRUE GREATNESS."

"A citizen of no mean city."—Acts 21:39.

Oakland has set out to become a great city. It has awakened to the charm of its situation, examined its industrial and commercial advantages, and has determined to utilize them for the gathering of a vast and busy population.

No ambition on the part of the citizens could be more admirable, and few cities have so much to substantiate even the most exaggerated claims. (Some deny that they can be exaggerated!)

Rev. John E. Stuchell

But in striving to realize the dream a fatal error will be made at the outset unless we realize in what true greatness consists. This is the more necessary because some of those who have undertaken to act as spokesmen for us have given the impression that a city's greatness is measured by the size of its public buildings, wharves, factories, stores, hotels, and the absence of those representing the highest ideals of life on many public occasions is rather suggestive. It is said "Money talks." It does, but it ought not to do all the talking.

CIVIC PRIDE.

Nor is mere blind civic pride much better. The kind of boasting that declares "I was born in Oakland, I have lived in Oakland and I will die in Oakland," gets nowhere and only serves to make us ridiculous and, in time, would deserve the retort, "You look it!" as they say of the man from Missouri.

It seems to be implied that music, art, poetry, religion are things that will take care of themselves; that, given the material things, the rest will be negligible.

No mistake could be greater. Bigness is not greatness, nor necessary to it. We are not apt to rival the material greatness of Babylon, or Ninevah, or Carthage, and if that is all our head is set on we might as well stop now.

Athens and Florence were perhaps no larger than Oakland, and yet the world is their debtor.

No, no! a city's true greatness is very different. It lies in the large catholicity of its citizens, in their receptivity to the best ideas and the best people, and who realize that not accidents of birth or fortune, but illustrious achievements make a city great. It consists in noble institutions which embody the best impulses of the citizens, in churches, in schools, in hospitals, in sanitary stores, factories and dwellings. Already a good beginning has been made, but it is necessary to keep the ideals constantly before us.

CHARACTER OF CITIZENS.

A city's real greatness, in short, consists in the character of its citizens, in their integrity, order and contentment. Unless our men and women be pure and noble; unless the ycan represent their success by something other than the size of their bank account or the rooms in their house; unless they read something besides newspapers and magazines; unless they can talk of something else than the latest scandal, or find more elevating form of amusement than bridge; unless our children grow up reverent, pure and courteous; unless our streets and parks and places of amusement be free from lecherous eyes and sinuous hearts; unless, in a word, the city is a fit, sane, safe place in which to pursue the highest ends of life, and to incline our children to do so, all other greatness is merely illusory.

Let us all pull together for a really great city, but always insist on putting first things first. Let us have not merely big manufactories, big piers, big warehouses, but big schools and churches, representing the highest possibilities of human art and devotion.

Grander yet, let us have big men, big women; people with lofty determination guiding their hands, with generous hearts, striving for the good of others, rather than for their own personal profit, and with souls aflame with "the light that was na'er on sea or land!"

JUMPS FROM S. P. TRAIN.

OXNARD, Feb. 8.—A man who said he was J. B. Bourgette of Augusta, Kan., and that he had jumped from a train to escape officers taking him to San Quentin penitentiary, was found wandering along the Southern Pacific railroad a few miles east of this city yesterday. He was brought to a hospital here and examined by physicians who declared he was a victim of temporary insanity. He said he had a sister, Mrs. C. L. Dorothy, in Hollywood, Cal.

The Medley

THE True Aristocrat! One might write reams and yet not arrive at an accurate description of what is meant by the American aristocrat.

A writer of note said recently:

"The only impenetrably exclusive thing in the world is intellect, but the only aristocrat left in these democratic days, and we are not devoting much attention as yet to his breeding. We do not realize that the only valuable democrat must be an aristocrat. The men of culture are the true apostles of equality."

Price Collier, one of the very clever writers of today, has given our smart sets everywhere much to think of in his discussions of this great problem of "aristocracy."

"I, good democrat that I am, knew very well that there are, and always have been, and always will be, aristocrats, for there is no national salvation without them anywhere in the world. The aristocrats are the same everywhere, no matter what their distinctions of title, or whether they have none. They are those who believe that they owe their best to God and to men, and they serve. Likewise the plebeians are the same all the world over. Whatever their presumptions or denials, they believe that they are here to get what they can, and they take far more than they can give."

The aristocracy of Germany has a lesson to teach us, for this clever and well-known writer adds:

"Perhaps no feature of German life is so little known, so little understood, as this simple-living, proud and exclusive caste, who have made, and still protect and guard, Prussia and Germany.

"They have done much for Germany, but the best perhaps of all is that they have made economy and simple living feasible and even fashionable; they have made talent aristocratic; they have insisted that social life shall be founded on service and breeding and ability. They will have no dealings with Herr Muller, the rich shop-keeper, but whatever name the distinguished artist, or public servant, or man of science, or young giant in any field of intellectual prowess may bear, he is welcomed. In general this welcome given by German society to talent holds good."

One reads not only of the German aristocracy, but of its other classes. Capital is all hard at work:

"There is just so much less for luxury. The people in the streets; the shop windows; the scale of charges at places of public resort and amusement; the very small number of well-turned-out private vehicles; the comparatively few people who live in houses and not in apartments; the simplicity of the gowns of the women, and their inexpensive jewelry and other ornaments; the fewer servants; the salaries and wages of all classes, point decisively to plain living on the part of practically everybody. Let me say very emphatically, however, that this economy means no lack of generosity. I doubt if there are people anywhere so restricted as to means, and so delightfully hospitable at the same time. Berlin is not as yet under that cloud that covers the new, and uncultivated, and rich society in America, that tyranny of money which makes men and women fearful of being without it. Such people shiver at the bare thought of losing what money will buy, for the shameful reason that then there would be nothing left to them, and they are driven to any humiliation to avoid it. They grossly over-rate the value of money and they exaggerate the terrors of being without it."

And again we read:

"There is an exclusiveness born of stupidity, just as there is an exclusiveness born of a sense of duty to one's position and traditions in the world."

So when one meets "exclusive" people one is moved to ask to which class they belong.

But it is absolutely true that the general world is better today for the existence of its social world. The wealthy women of our smart sets are for the most part standing bravely for the big things of life. They are nobly taking their places in the ranks of those who toil for the good of mankind. Many of them have been the pioneers in the better and newer thought of today. Our philanthropic experiments would have been mostly failures but for the financial aid of the wealthy women of our smart sets. Such women as Lady Aberdeen, the Duchess of Marlborough, Miss Anne Morgan, Mrs. Helen Gould-Shepard, Mrs. Clarence Mackay, Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont lead a way in which many follow.

And in our city many of our leading women of wealth are potential factors in promoting the welfare of dependent women and children.

The world today is very definitely better for the woman of the smart set of intellectual ability and of generous heart.

ARISTOCRACY OF GOOD BREEDING IS OF ELECT.

"Noblesse oblige" is a fine French phrase, the inscription on the crest of a famous family. And "noblesse obliges" many things, if one would belong to the true aristocracy.

For there is an aristocracy of good breeding which is always apparent in a certain simplicity in living, in a sureness in regard to one's own position and in a due regard for the rights of others and of proper conventions.

Any woman may belong to the aristocracy of the elect if she chooses to do so, and who will say that it does not sometimes outrank the aristocracy of the smart set on occasions?

MRS. FRANK C. HAVENS HOSTESS TO McCLUNGS.

The coming to our harbor of the big steamer Cleveland last week meant in many ways the dispensation of much hospitality, for there was entertainment along many lines.

One of the prominent hostesses was Mrs. Frank C. Havens, who entertained delightfully at Wildwood Mr. and Mrs. Lee McClung and their sister, who are making the round the world trip on the Cleveland.

Mr. McClung is a personage of much importance, having been our recent secretary of the treasury and one of the best financiers known to the country. He is very prominent, also, in official and social circles in New York.

The McClungs spent the day at Wildwood, and they were shown the various points of interest, also, in our city by Mr. and Mrs. Havens.

The visitors from the Cleveland were guests at Hotel Oakland last Sunday. The management was told to prepare for 100 guests, but instead there were more than 200, all of whom were happily and successfully entertained.

MISS FAIRWEATHER AND PAUL HAVENS FELICITATED.

One of the happiest engagements that has been announced in many months is that of Paul Havens and Miss Rosalind Fairweather, and since its announcement, congratulations, good wishes and wedding gifts have been pouring in upon the young people.

The Havens family is one of the most prominent families on the coast and Paul Havens has had many educational advantages, especially that of extended foreign travel. His family is very proud of the business success he is making, a success which augurs an assured future.

Mrs. Mary Fairweather, the mother of the pretty young bride-elect, is a woman of exceptionally strong mentality and one whose work has never been fully appreciated on this coast. She is a fine student and a very brilliant lecturer, and her writings bid fair to bring her both fame and fortune. There is the touch of genius in her dramatic and lyric work, and California bids fair to add another name to the list of successful writers of which it is now so proud.

Her daughters have inherited much of their mother's genius, and Miss Una Fairweather is one of the best known American singers in southern Europe. Her sister is studying sculpture there, and good reports come of her work.

The bride-elect, Miss Rosalind Fairweather, is a very young girl, not yet twenty. She is very pretty, of the brunette type of beauty, and with charming, unaffected manners. She also is a good student, and she is giving up a university career of promise for Paul Havens.

Mrs. Fairweather and her daughter are guests at the Hotel Oakland, and the wedding of Mr. Havens and Miss Fairweather will take place there tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, the Rev. Mr. Sutchell of Piedmont being the officiating clergyman.

Besides the bride and groom those who will be present at the wedding are:

Mrs Mary Fairweather, Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Havens, Seyd Havens, Mr. and Mrs. Wickham Havens, Miss Sally Havens, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Havens. A motor trip has been planned for the wedding trip, and on their return the young people will make their home at the country place in the nearby foothills of Paul Havens.

BRADY-KALES WEDDING IS DELIGHTFUL AFFAIR.

One of the most delightful weddings of the season was that of Miss Rose Eliza Kales and James Brendon Brady of San Francisco, which took place on Tuesday evening at the bride's home on Lake street. The wedding details were beautifully planned and were perfect in every way, and one feature of the wedding was the fact that it was attended mainly by old-time friends of the family. Mr. and Mrs Kales established their home on Lake street many years ago, and the children have grown up in it, until now both daughters of the family are in their own homes. There were about 150 guests at the wedding, all friends who have known the popular young bride since her kindergarten days.

Brendon Brady has already made many friends over here, for while his business interests are in San Francisco, the home of the young people, much to the delight of their friends, will be on our side of the bay.

The Kales' home offered one of the most charming environments seen at any social affair this season. It everywhere breathed the spirit of the springtime. It was like a lovely garden, the decorations showing beautiful masses of spring bloom, for there were wonderful pussy willows, and primroses, and daffodils, and tulips, all arranged with great skill, making a floral background carrying an exquisite spring charm.

The bride is a lovely girl, bright and attractive—an original girl as well—most unspoiled and very unaffected. She is a fine type of girl, well educated, capable and very generous to others. She is a very sweet and much loved bride, and her friends are glad that her home is to be here among the friends she has always known.

The bride chose her sister for her matron of honor, and the two bridesmaids, Miss Schilling and Miss Volkmann, began school life with her in kindergarten days, and were her classmates at the Head school in Berkeley. Miss Grace Hoadley, whose home is in New York, is a niece of Mrs. Kales.

Only old friends of the family were assembled at the home when the hour of the wedding was at hand, among them the Schillings, the Volkmanns, the R. G. Browns, the Knowles, the Coghills and the young girls and young matrons who have grown up with the bride and have been her school friends.

The color scheme was most attractive in pale blue and lovely old rose, a fine Parisian color scheme. When the wedding party was assembled for the ceremony the picture was very beautiful. The bride was gowned in white satin with very fine lines and trimmed in rare lace. The long wedding veil was fastened with orange blossoms, and the bride's bouquet was of lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Thomas Knowles, who was formerly Miss Ruth Kales, wore her own wedding gown, a handsome creation of white satin and real lace, and she carried an armful of pink bride's roses.

Miss Grace Hoadley wore an exceedingly effective gown, a French model, along original designs of line and trimming. The color was a very exquisite shade of alice blue, and she carried a lovely basket of spring flowers.

There were many compliments also for Miss Elsa Schilling and Miss Johanna Volkmann, who are both very stunning girls with very fine coloring. Their gowns were exquisitely planned, of white lace, and veiled in old rose chiffon. They also carried baskets of spring flowers to complete very lovely costumes.

Mrs. Martin W. Kales, the bride's mother, looked exceedingly well in a handsome gown of grey brocade with an overdress of grey net and lace.

The bride was given away by her father, M. W. Kales, and the wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Jump of the First Congregational church.

The destination of the wedding trip of the young people has not been disclosed, but on their return they are to establish their home here, not far from that of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Knowles (Ruth Kales). Their wedding presents were many and very handsome and included almost everything to add to the beauty and attractiveness of a new home.

The latter bids fair to be a center of much hospitality, with so sweet and charming a young matron to preside over its destinies.

CHILD'S WELFARE LUNCHEON TO BE IMPORTANT EVENT.

There has never been a time in the history of the nation when organized club work amounted to as much as it does today. Women are doing wonderful work because of their splendid organization. It is no longer literature which vitally interests groups of women—they have had that in their school and college work, as a necessary part of their equipment, of course. But care of women and children and civics of all kinds are matters of paramount interest. And so it is that the "Child's Welfare Luncheon" to be given next Saturday at the Hotel Oakland becomes one of the most absorbing social topics of the hour. It will also be far-reaching in its results, and one of the most important social functions of the entire winter. For the Child's Welfare League is to give a legislative luncheon, and among the guests will be the governor, members of senate and assembly from the county, superior judges, mayors of the neighboring cities, and representative women of the state.

Miss Bessie Wood is the able president of the league, and the chairman of the general committee is Mrs. John Mole.

It is a fine thing when the governor of the state gives up his time to attend a legislative luncheon, planned in the interest of women, and a hearty welcome is assured to Governor and Mrs. Johnson by many women at the Hotel Oakland on next Saturday.

Among those who are expected to be present at the luncheon are:

Governor and Mrs. Johnson	Judge and Mrs. Everett Brown
Miss Bessie Wood	Hon. George Gelder
Mrs. John Mole	Judge and Mrs. William Donahue
Mrs. Frank C. Havens
Mrs. George Greenwood	Prof. Richard Boone
Mrs. Frank Lumpson Brown	Mrs. Cora Jones
	Mrs. A. C. Posey
Senator Arthur Breed	Mrs. Granville Shuey
Senator E. J. Tyrrell	Mrs. C. S. Chamberlain
Senator George Hans	Mrs. James Orr
Hon. F. M. Smith	Mrs. Lloyd Osborne
Hon. C. C. Young	Mrs. J. Lowenberg
Hon. George Beck	Miss Annie F. Brown
Hon. W. C. H. Clark	Mrs. J. W. McClymonds
Hon. Daniel Ferguson	Miss Mollie Conners
Hon. George Fitzgerald	Mrs. S. C. Borland
Mayor and Mrs. Mott	Miss Theresa Russian
Mayor and Mrs. Noy	Mrs. A. D. Thomson
Judge and Mrs. F. B. Ogden	Mrs. John F. Conners
	Mrs. Harry East Miller
Miss Anita Whitney	Newton Koser
Dr. Susan Fenton

There are also to be many guests from across the bay, and the details of the luncheon are so perfectly planned that it will be one of the most important and most enjoyable luncheons of the season.

CIVIC CENTER MEETING HAS ATTRACTIVE SUBJECT.

The civic section of the Ebell Club, under the leadership of Mrs. S. C. Borland, is scoring a great success this winter. The subject for Tuesday's meeting was a very fascinating and picturesque one, "Finding the Blue Bird in Oakland," and more than 500 women were assembled in the auditorium of the Ebell Club when the program began.

Mrs. Borland announced the numbers on the program, the first one of which was "The Kingdom of the Past."

It is a most fascinating subject, including for us the time of "the splendid idle forties," and the speaker gave a description of the great ranches in 1837, and the old Spanish life thereupon.

The Blue Bird who came from "The Land Where Dreams Come True" saw it all, and he saw also the little struggling city nestling on the shore line of the bay.

The speaker said:

"They called the city Oakland, and she was truly a little Cinderella city, looking with eyes of affection on the splendid, great city across the bay. She was a patient little Cinderella hopeful always, without a thought of her own possibilities, giving up in all things to this proud older city across the bay.

"And the Blue Bird saw it all, and was glad, for he was a wise Blue Bird, and far down the years he saw the Fairyland of the Future, and he knew that when the Prince of Opportunity came by it was Cinderella's foot that would fit the slipper!"

Professor Booth found many blue birds; he found one he called Lake Merritt, and he found others in the beautiful walks on our hillslopes and the magnificent views which are Oakland's heritage.

He referred to the boulevard which Mr. Frank C. Havens is building on our hilltops, from which will be obtained some of the grandest scenic panoramas in the world, including in the skyline the distant snow-capped Sierra.

A burst of spontaneous applause greeted the mention of Mr. Havens' name, and 500 women were glad to express in this enthusiastic way their appreciation of Mr. Havens' efforts to bring into the lives of many the kingdom of the hills.

Mr. Fisher, Mr. Denison, Rev. Mr. Palmer all contributed charming and fascinating blue birds.

The Kingdom of the Future was sketched in graceful and altruistic fashion by Mrs. Charles Woodbury, who is a very able and original speaker.

An informal reception was held after the program, the guests being received by Mrs. A. C. Posey and Mrs. S. C. Borland, and there was a delightful reunion of friends "over the teacups."

Among the well-known women present at the Blue Bird afternoon were:

Mrs A. C. Posey	Mrs. Charles H. King
Mrs. Charles Leonard Smith	Mrs. Frank R. Ogden
Miss Matilda Brown	Mrs. G. W. Percy
Mrs. Arthur Breed	Mrs. Elsie Nusbaumer

SPRING FASHIONS AS PARIS SEES THEM.

Spring is fully six weeks earlier than usual in Paris this year, and it has brought with it also the earliest spring fashions.

One of the leading modistes of Paris sends news of the spring color tones in a letter from abroad:

"Color contrasts in corsage and skirt will be the features of the spring fashions, which will be displayed next week by mannequins at the principal Paris shops.

"The favorite colors will be bright and attractive. Red in all shades will predominate. A bright red corsage will be worn with a bright blue skirt, or a yellow corsage with a green skirt. No contrast will be regarded as too outrageous.

"Silk and a rather thick crepe de chine, embossed with patterns in gold or silver, will be the principal materials.

"The skirts will keep their present widths, no petticoats being worn. Belts will be revived in various forms.

"The slit in the skirt, which will almost entirely disappear from day frocks, will reappear in evening gowns, but will not be open this summer as far as the knee."

WOMEN'S PRESS ASSOCIATION FORGES RAPIDLY TO FRONT.

A club that is pushing rapidly to the foreground and doing exceedingly good work is the Pacific Coast Women's Press Association, which has this year for its most able president Mrs. I. Lowenberg.

Mrs. Lowenberg is one of the most successful writers on the coast, with a fine literary style. She writes with a purpose, and her books will live when many others have gone down the line of neglect.

Mrs. Lowenberg's book, "A Nation's Crime," has attracted the attention of the whole nation, of legislators especially, and ranks with the classics in American literature, with the books that have made history.

In order to stimulate interest among the members of the Pacific Coast Women's Press Association, the president, Mrs. I. Lowenberg, has offered a prize of $100 for the best one-act drama, short story and poem, and there are sure to be interesting literary efforts presented to those who are to be the judges of the contest.

MISSES COOGAN ARE HOSTESSES AT TEA.

One of the most charming teas of the week was that planned by the Misses Coogan, and given at their Linda Vista home on last Tuesday. It was made to be a very informal tea, for their young girl friends, and also for the young matrons, and the guests of honor were four of the very interesting girls of the winter, the Misses Dorothy Capwell, Helen Acker, Pearl Cawston and Etha Musser.

They all made a most attractive bevy of girls, standing together to receive the many guests of the afternoon. The girls were so charming; their gowns so very pretty, and in the flower-decked home they were indeed like Tennyson's "Rosebud Garden of Girls."

The decorations were most appropriate, the lovely flowers expressing spring. There were great baskets of daffodils, the handles tied in pussy willow, and early tulips and freslas in great masses added a note to the color effects.

The Misses Marjorie and Helen Coogan wished to have the affair very informal, but it resulted in being a beautifully planned tea, at which there were many young people, who greatly enjoyed the at-home.

The Misses Coogan were assisted in receiving their guests by:

Mrs. T. C. Coogan	Miss Marie McHenry
Mrs. John J. Donovan	Miss Grace Downey
Mrs. John Louis Lobse	Miss Helen Downey
Mrs. Maurice Walsh	Miss Lila Lovell
Mrs. Charles Hamilton	Miss Phyllis Lovell
Miss Byrn Hall	Miss Lylia Marshall
Miss Marguerite Black	Miss Gertrude Adams
Miss Margaret Warner	Miss Helen Dabney
Miss Laura Currey	Miss Hazel Ingels
Miss Elsie Everson	Miss Etta Schrock
Miss Emily Harrold	Miss Catherine Crellin
Miss Edith Harmon	Miss Elva Ghirardelli
Miss Mary Downey	Miss Helen High
Miss Letitia Barry	Miss Roberta Haslett
Miss Eline Posey	Miss Mary Engelhardt
Miss Bernice Bronson	Miss Anna Engelhardt

The gowns seen at the reception were very handsome. Mrs. T. C. Coogan has one of the most artistic gowns of the year, of beautiful blue brocaded silk, with threads of gold, and trimmed with rare lace and gold.

Mrs. John Donovan assisted her sisters in receiving, and she wore her beautiful wedding gown of white satin and lace.

Miss Cawston and Miss Capwell were both in white satin, Miss Capwell's gown showing panlers of blue chiffon, and trimmed in shadow lace and black velvet.

Miss Cawston's gown was draped in white chiffon and velvet flounces were elaborately appliqued on the overdress.

Miss Helen Acker wore gold-colored charmeuse, trimmed in gold bead embroidery, and Miss Musser was in coral-colored charmeuse and lace.

Marjorie and Helen Coogan, the hostesses of the afternoon, looked exceedingly well, the former in light blue charmeuse, with beautiful orchids, and Miss Helen Coogan in a most becoming gown of charmeuse in American beauty tones.

A stringed orchestra added to the gayety of the afternoon, and elaborate refreshments were served.

Other handsome gowns were those worn by:

Miss Pussy Creed	Miss Alison Stone
Miss Madeline Clay	Miss Doris Borsemann
Miss Edith Beck	Miss Eleanor Earl
Miss Clarisse Lobse	Miss Helen High
Miss Bina Moseley	Miss Dorothy Taft
Mrs. Philip Clay	Miss Dorothy Taylor
Mrs. Dan Belden	Miss Elizabeth Latham
Mrs. Edson Adams	Miss Helen Breck
Mrs. Tyler Henshaw.	Miss Etta Schrock
Miss Cockroft

The "at home" given by the two popular young girls was among the most attractive and successful affairs of the week.

MRS. FRANCES THOMAS IS HOSTESS OF WEEK.

Mrs. Frances Thomas was a hostess of the week, entertaining in a most delightful fashion about thirty friends in her home on Hillside avenue, Piedmont. Her guests were for the most part members of a reading class, who are enjoying most interesting afternoons together this winter.

Mrs. Thomas is so sweet to her friends, so very true and generous to them always, that an afternoon in her home is most enjoyable.

The program which Mrs. Thomas prepared for her guests was a very delightful feature of the afternoon. Mrs. Robbins, who is one of the best readers on the coast, read in a most charming fashion one of Oscar Wilde's very clever plays. Her rendition of the play, bringing out the subtle shades of wit and humor was exceptionally well done.

At the close of the reading dainty refreshments were served, and later there was an informal reunion of friends. The guests were mostly from Piedmont, and all of them thoroughly enjoyed the afternoon so perfectly planned for them by Mrs. Thomas.

PICTURES IN THE MEDDLER.

Miss Etha Musser, daughter of Mrs. O. C. Musser, is a charming girl who is often feted in local society. She is the fiancee of Moylan C. Fox Jr. and is a member of the Winter Assembly and several other exclusive organizations.

One of the most beautiful girls in Oakland's smart set is Miss Sue Miller, whose handsome brunette type is always well set off by unusual taste and artistic gowning. Miss Miller was a guest at the dance recently given on the cruiser Maryland at Mare Island.

Miss Helen Acker was among the four honor guests at the large reception given by Miss Helen and Miss Marjorie Coogan on Tuesday. She is a sweet, attractive girl who is very popular with the younger set.

Miss Marie Louise Tyson is one of the many society maids who, with their parents or congenial groups of friends, are making a visit to Honolulu this winter. The charming Alameda belle sailed several weeks ago with her father for a sojourn on the islands.

YOUNGER SET PLANS MANY AFFAIRS.

In the weeks before Easter many of the younger girls are planning to do a great deal of entertaining, and many dates are already scheduled for February days.

On the nineteenth, Miss Gertrude Adams will entertain for her friend, Miss Dorothy Capwell, who was her classmate at Mills College.

On Monday, Miss Capwell will entertain at a luncheon at Hotel Oakland, including in her luncheon list friends from across the bay.

One of the elaborate after-Easter luncheons will be given by Miss Lilla Lovell, who will entertain for two of the popular brides-elect of the season, Miss Madeline Clay and Miss Grace Downey.

Life in the social world is very strenuous just now, and Lent has not lessened any of our activities—only changed them—making the days still busy ones for the clubwomen, and for women of the smart sets everywhere.

SONG RECITAL WILL CALL OUT SOCIETY.

While it is still some time away, every one is looking forward with much pleasure to the Brabazon-Lowther song recital, to be given in the ballroom of the Hotel Oakland on Thursday evening, March the sixth. The patronesses who are planning the recital include the following well-known women:

Mrs. Edson Adams	Mrs Bernard Ransome

The patronesses plan to make it a very big success, artistically and socially. They are planning dinners before the program, and interesting suppers are to follow. One hears much of Mr. Lowther.

Mr. Lowther has met with magnificent success throughout the state and has just returned to Southern California from Texas, where he gave several recitals with his usual success. He appeared at Coronado Tuesday evening of this week and the people down there are giving him a most cordial reception and welcome after his appearance there last November, where he made many warm admirers. He has been invited to sing the baritone solo of the prize composition at the biennial National Federation of Musical Clubs, which will be held in Chicago in April.

RECITAL AT ST. FRANCIS.

A number of society folk from Oakland and Berkeley crossed the bay last night to hear Ashley Pettis' recital at the St. Francis. Pettis was assisted by Mrs. Charles Camm, soprano; Miss Olive Hyde, violinist, and George Bowden, tenor. A musical program was delightfully interpreted by these clever artists. Among the patrons and patronesses of the occasion were Mrs. James Pierce, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Sharon, Professor William Dallam Armes, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Day, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Maurer, Mr. and Mrs. John McGraw, Mr. and Mrs. A. LUNCHEON AND CARDS.

Mrs. John C. Black will entertain about a dozen society matrons with a luncheon at the Claremont Country Club next Thursday, with bridge as the afternoon diversion. The decorations will be in red, with the emblems of St. Valentine's day a prominent feature. The guests will be the members of one of the smaller exclusive bridge clubs, who meet together frequently for a delightful afternoon at cards.

FRIENDS ENTERTAINED.

A number of society folk are availing themselves of the Hotel Oakland for informal social occasions. The lunch and tea hours are always popular with the matrons of the smart set, who realize the touch of distinction given to even small affairs by the new hostelry. Among the luncheon hostesses recently was Mrs. H. G. Martin, who had five guests, and Mrs. Tyler Henshaw, at whose table covers were laid for three. Mrs. John Charles Adams entertained 10 guests at the tea hour, and Mrs. Edson Adams was also noticed among those who had friends at tea.

ENTERTAINMENTS FOR VISITORS.

Miss Florence Wilson entertained this week with a luncheon for Mrs. Carlton Parker, who was formerly Miss Cornelia Stratton, at her charming home in Berkeley. Mrs. Parker, who has been abroad for several years with her husband, is being warmly welcomed home by scores of friends. There have been a number of delightful small affairs in her honor.

FIRST DANCE HELD AT WOMEN'S COLLEGE

No Turkey Trotting; Fair Students Vote Affair a Big Success.

WELLESLEY, Mass., Feb. 8.—A new epoch in Wellesley College history was inaugurated last night when the annual ball of the senior class held in the college gymnasium was attended for the first time in the history of the college by members of the male sex. College men from Harvard, Yale, Princeton and other universities availed themselves of the new order of affairs, and the ball was a pronounced success.

The order of dances consisted of waltzes, two steps, schottische and polkas, with one or two old-fashioned square dances. There was no turkey trotting.

Miss Ellen Fitz Pendleton, president of Wellesley, assisted Mary Colt, president of the seniors, in receiving. A feature of the ball was the step taken so that the visiting collegians could locate their dancing partners. Certain sections were numbered with letters of the alphabet, and thus were the men enabled to look for their prospective mates.

Seeks Son's Parole

FRESNO, Feb. 8.—Claiming that she needs the support of her imprisoned son, Mrs. E. H. Tucker of Selma yesterday circulated a petition among the county officers here asking that her boy, Clay H. Tucker, who is serving one year in San Quentin for bigamy, be paroled. The majority of the officers here signed the petition. With credits for good behavior Tucker will complete his sentence next fall.

Tucker was arrested here August 28, after he had evaded the authorities from Los Angeles to Canada. Last May Tucker was secretly married to Miss Mary J. Wilson, daughter of M. H. Wilson of San Francisco. When Wilson learned of his daughter's marriage he objected and started divorce proceedings.

Then a Mrs. Tucker No. 1 showed up in Oakland, and a warrant was issued for Tucker for bigamy. Wife No. 1 was formerly Miss Frances Forsting, adopted daughter of Dr. Lester Forsting of Fruitvale. Tucker claimed that his first wife had secured a divorce. Tucker was sentenced at Redwood City.

Says Love Is Needed

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8.—"The improvements desired by eugenists cannot be obtained by the establishment of a state breeding farm in the attempt to 'Burbank' the human race, for that would mean the loss of love and initiative—the two finest things so far evolved."—Dr. David Starr Jordan, president of Stanford University, declared last night in a lecture on eugenics and euthenics at Lane Hall of Cooper Medical College.

"The individuals worth perpetuating would not lend themselves to such a scheme, but would get out and hunt love on their own initiative," he added.

"But the state can step in, and by caring for the feeble-minded and the unfit, prevent their multiplying; and by disseminating a knowledge of eugenics—the science of heredity and the way traits are carried out—bring the human family to a much higher standard."

On the subject of ancestry Dr. Jordan said that every one who desired to take the trouble could trail his grandfathers and great grandfathers back to William I and Plantagenets—not by one line merely, but by a thousand lines.

It is this mixing of blood that has given the race an opportunity in this country it has never known elsewhere; the speaker asserted, and he even scouted the idea that a cross between the Americans and the Japanese would prove undesirable, asserting he had seen exceedingly beautiful, intelligent women who were half French and half Japanese.

She Only Got $50

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Ethel Lorraine Belmont, the chorus girl wife of young Raymond Belmont, son of August Belmont, has filed an action for separation in the supreme court. She says she received only $50 from her husband during the eight days they were together as man and wife, and she now wants the court to award her suitable alimony.

Mrs. Belmont has been searching diligently for her husband. She thinks he is now at Garnett, S. C., on a hunting trip, and for this reason she had Justice Newburger give her legal permission to serve him there with a summons by publication.

Mrs. Belmont alleges in her complaint that she and Belmont were married on November 21 last in Jersey City and that her husband deserted her November 29. When Belmont failed to return to her, she said, she telephoned his father and was told that he did not know where her husband could be located.

Mary Has Ideas

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Mary Garden, who sang Tosca yesterday before a brilliant audience which included Mrs. Taft, believes that grand opera should be given under the control and pay of the government as a means of higher education of the masses.

"While I believe the government should support grand opera as it is done in Europe," said Miss Garden, "of couse I understand that Congress is too busy just now with postoffices to pay attention to eother art or culture.

"Art—what chance has art in this country?"

SCHOOL AND PLAYGROUND

SENIOR CLASSES AT WORK; PREDICT LIVELY TERM

The low senior class of the Oakland High School is making extensive preparations for a successful year. The class which recently organized has already adopted its class pin, which is of the latest design and of great beauty. The shape of the pin is original and will bear the monogram O. H. S. and Dec 1913. One large pearl is set in the lower left corner of the design instead of a number of small split pearls.

The low seniors are planning to make their dance the feature one of the term. It probably will be held in April in the high school gymnasium. The class adopted blue and white as its official colors. The officers of the class are Harold Nold, president; Adele Corwin, vice-president; Alice Leigh, secretary; George Perkins, treasurer; George Patterson, sergeant-at-arms.

The high senior class is also working for a good term and plans to hold a dance in the near future. Its officers are Beth Bradley, president, Charles Roeth, vice-president; Margaret Morrison, secretary; Harold Trimble, treasurer; Leland Stearns, sergeant-at-arms; Sadie Fredericks, class prophet, Josephine Chase, class historian.

The juniors are also planning a big dance for this term. Last year their dance was the most successful, financially as well as socially.

LABORED FOR SCHOOL GOOD

JOSEPHINE MARCUS.

In promoting the interest sof the commercial department of the Manual Training and Commercial High School, Josephine Marcus, vice-president of the class, who received her sheepskin with the graduating class of January, 1913, was a powerful factor. In the dances and entertainments given by the department, Miss Marcus was an enthusiastic worker. In the affair of the class she was always a leading advocate of the brodest reforms and in all her endeavors she had the co-operation of the department.

SEVERAL ELECTIONS TAKE PLACE AT O. H. S.

During the past week several important student body elections took place at the Oakland High School, and featured several close contests. For president, Hal Blote, past editor of the Bulletin, defeated Raynor Gimbal. The secretaryship was gained by Florence Morrison, defeating Esther Witter. Helen Gray will be the next Girl's Aegis editor, having beaten Lillian Campbell. For commissioner of finance, Beverly Carlton defeated Perkins by a handsome majority. The strength of Malin Langstroth, who won the office of commissioner of publications (editor of Aegis) by a score of votes. A still closer fight was the one for commissioner of entertainments, eight votes procuring the office for Clifton Gordon over Orville Caldwell. Ed Garthwaite and Charlie Cowan received the offices of commissioner of athletics and commissioner of school utilities without opposition, as did Margaret Bovereaux for commissioner of girls' affairs.

In addition to this election the self-government election was also held. Almost a score of boys handed in their names as candidates for the three places on the committee and eight or nine girls for the two girls' positions. The primary last Tuesday eliminated all the boys except John Mitchell, Harold Nold, Charles Adams, Gordon Boyes, George Cunna and Etton Jeffery and the first three named were elected at the finals. Of the girls, Louise Mills and Helen Maher defeated their opponents by a safe number of votes.

Tube and Electric Light Demonstrate Stomach's Action

CHICAGO, Feb. 8.—Fred C. Vicek, who for sixteen years has swallowed no food, is giving aid to science through observation of his digestive process, according to Professor A. J. Carlson, assistant in the department of physiology at the University of Chicago.

By means of a glass tube through which an electric light is introduced into the man's stomach, Dr. Carlson has been able to observe and even photograph the food at every stage during the process of digestion, he said last night.

Since he was 11 years old Vicek has taken food through a tube leading from the abdomen into the stomach, the esophagus having been completely closed when he swallowed a strong solution. The man was found working at his trade here as a barber several months ago.

Although it was intended that only liquids should be taken through the tube, Vicek developed an appetite for meats and vegetables and after masticating them successfully, introduced them into the stomach through the tube. Another point in his case is that the physician has been able to observe the stomach when absolutely empty, an opportunity almost impossible to find because of the mingling of saliva with the juices of the stomach.

WIFE LURES HUSBAND TO DEATH IN ALLEY

WEBB CITY, Mo., Feb. 8.—Mrs. Lige Gillmore confessed to the police yesterday that she and James Lynn of Galena, Kan., murdered her husband here last Thursday night. Both are under arrest, charged with first degree murder.

Mrs. Gillmore said that cruelties inflicted by her husband in 22 years of married life had induced her action.

Thursday night, she said, on the way from a theater she asked her husband to take a short cut up an alley. In the alley, she said, Lynn shot her husband.

NEVER BE RESIGNED

By LILLIAN RUSSELL

HOW many people, both men and women, seem to be resigned to their ugliness! And it seems that when one of such a class becomes resigned to the fact that they are not attractive of face, from that moment they begin to neglect what gifts they have. I once said to a homely man: "There is a smudge on your nose." To which he replied: "Well, nothing could happen to that nose that wouldn't do it good." Which was wrong, for that ugly greasy nose could have been treated kindly and have looked far from ugly. There is no face, however plain, which cannot be improved by a little attention to cleanliness. The uglier the fact, the more attention it requires to make it presentable. Water, soap, ammonia, witch hazel and camphor are inexpensive cosmetics. The man with a greasy nose should use all of them properly. He should after using a quantity of the first two, mix a little witch hazel with a few drops of camphor spirits, then add an equal quantity of water and bathe that poor nose with it from two to twenty times a day, according to the condition of the offending member. If his eyes are weak and the lids become red and swollen, he should have a solution of boracic acid and distilled water always handy and should use it on his eyes freely with an eye cup as often as possible.

No one should ever become resigned to ugliness, for the disposition suffers in consequence. That hopeless thought prevents the mind from soaring into the realms of higher thought. That old "what's the use" idea stands as a barrier at the gates of the mind and tries to stop it. But it should be thrust aside and downed. Every person on this earth can be charming to some one. The face, features and figure can be made just as the mind desires them to be. It can never be accomplish by hopeless resignation. The inner thoughts are stamped upon the face of each one of us. But the trouble is that those inner thoughts of perfection are not permanent. They stay only for a few moments at a time, when thoughts of envy, jealousy and revenge usurp their place in the mind and stamp the features accordingly. Watch the garden of thoughts, keep it green and blossoming with beauty.

When you believe in the virtues of a preparation, whether it be a lotion made from the oil or essence of sacred lilies or the crude soiled root os weeds use them. After all it's only the belief of things that makes them effective. But it is the duty of every man and woman to appear at their best. I have known people with scarred and ill-shapened faces to be so charming and intelligent that they were never unsightly; in fact, their faces beamed with sweetness and love of humanity. Remember, the disguise of ugliness is measured by the amount of resignation one allows to it.

Answers to Queries

D. R.—It is never too late to try to improve one's self morally, mentally, and physically. In trying to be better looking, especially, one must get rid of the idea that one is a hopeless case. There is no woman in the world who, if she wants to and will make the effort, cannot improve her looks, but each must make the effort herself. Massage each night with a good skin food will help to eradicate the wrinkles that are just appearing. Always massage the wrinkles the opposite direction in which they run and with a gentle motion. Do not press too hard or this will stretch the skin instead of strengthening the flabby tissues. The cream will feed the skin and make your face more plump. If you care for them and will send me a stamped addressed envelope I shall be glad to send you instructions for facial massage with the formula for skin food.

MRS. D. T.—The women who complain of being overworked are usually women who do not know how to play, rest, and relax. Whether you are a professional woman or one whose household cares are burdensome, learn to throw off your worries and cares during some part of the day, and at least before you go to bed drop them as you would a bundle. The woman who takes her troubles into the realm of sleep is losing the rest that she so much needs and is gaining nothing; not even a solution of her problems.

E. A. D.—When practicing deep breathing exercises always exhale through the nostrils, with the mouth closed. Never breathe through the mouth. If a person has the habit of breathing through the mouth the brain suffers from insufficient nourishment and organs of digestion suffer, the heart and lungs suffer, the muscles suffer. If you will send me a self-addressed, stamped envelope, asking me for them, I shall send you instructions for a fine set of deep breathing exercises.

IRMA—Irritation of the eyelids will cause the lashes to fall out. I would advise you to wash your eyes daily with a good wash. This will also strengthen the eyes. Apply a bit of melted vaseline to the roots of the lashes at night with a small camel's hair brush. Be exceedingly careful that you do not get any of its into the eyes, for oil of any kind will irritate them. If you will send me a stamped, addressed envelope I shall send you the formula for an excellent eye wash and a set of strengthening exercises for the eyes. I shall also send you the formula for French tonic for eyebrows.

READER—Many women systematically starve their skin, use hard water and questionable soap, and then wonder why they so quickly lose the pristine beauty of their complexions. The skin must be fed by the application of a good skin food every night, and as it is applied the muscles are massaged. I shall be glad to send you the formula for skin food with instructions for facial massage if you will send me stamped, addressed envelope.

M. E. L.—The little holes you speak of are enlarged pores and probably were caused by removing blackheads. Hot witch hazel is good for closing the pores. Place a cloth which has been dipped in hot witch hazel over the face and allow it to remain until it is cold. This will close the pores. I shall be glad to send you formulas for salve for pimples and an astringent lotion if you will send me a stamped, addressed envelope.

ADELAIDE—There is nothing better for chapped lips than a good cold cream. Do you bite your lips? This may be the cause for their being rough all the time. If you do, use a little will power and stop this beauty destroying habit; it not only makes them rough, but spoils the texture and makes them colorless. I shall be happy to send you a formula for cold cream upon receipt of a stamped, addressed envelope.

CASTELLANE WANTS HIS MARRIAGE ANNULLED

WEALTH AND SANITY HIS DOUBLE PORTION

GRAND FORKS, N. D., Feb. 8.—An elaborate home and an annual income of $4000 from the German government was what Baron von Falkenstein, for eight years a section laborer on the Great Northern railway, found when he reached his native country recently. This information was received by the local insanity board today from Thomas Monley of Everado, who was delegated to accompany Falkenstein across the Atlantic when the latter was adjudged insane a few weeks ago. Monley says that Falkenstein, who is now in the custody of relatives, is recovering rapidly.

He was wounded at the batle of Shiloh. He had been a resident of this city for several years.

CORNELL PUTS CRUSHER ON MODERN DANCES

ITHACA, N. Y., Feb. 8.—The Cornell authorities have put the ban on modern dances, including the Tango, grapevine, bear hug, hop Boston, turkey trot, and others, and informed the student committee in charge that if any of these dances were allowed at the annual junior "prom" the university authorities would not be likely to grant the use of the armory for similar functions in other years. Such a refusal would mean the death of junior work at Cornell.

Some of the couples at the sophomore cotillon Wednesday night violated the agreement not to execute any of these dances, and there were trustees present who saw this. The board of trustees then warned the "prom" committee.

AUTOISTS ARE VICTIMS OF TERRIBLE EXPLOSION

SHOE MACHINE COMPANY IS ATTACKED

Federal Government, in Suit, Arraigns Concern's Tactics.

Seeks to Terminate Agreement for Exclusive Leasing of Machine.

TRENTON, N. J., Feb. 8.—The federal government made its third anti-trust move against the United Shoe Machinery Company in a civil suit filed here today, charging the socalled trust with wielding an alleged monopolist power and using unfair trade tactics to force the Keighley Company, a competitor, into an unlawful contract for the leasing and sale and fixing the price of an "in-seam trimming machine."

The United States District Court was asked to terminate the contract under which the Keighley Company gave the United Company the exclusive right to lease to shoe manufacturers the "in-seam trimming machine," the patent of which is held by the Keighley Company. The effect of the agreement is declared to be to perpetuate and extend a monopoly of the shoe machinery industry in the United Shoe Machinery Company of New Jersey."

Following are the defendants in the suit: United Shoe Machinery Company, Boston; Keighley Company Inc., Vineland, N. J.; Sidney W. Winslow, Orleans, Mass.; Edward P. Pudd, Newton, Mass.; Charles Percy Keighley, William Bottomley Keighley and Charles Keighley of Vineland, N. J.

ARRAIGNS PRACTICES.

The government petition is a severe arraignment of the "trust's" alleged unfair practices. The vigorous enforcement of its methods is declared to have driven practically all competitors from the shoe machinery industry, giving the $25,000,000 United Company control of more than 99 per cent of the trade. The big corporation is described by the government as follows in the bill:

"By misrepresentation and threats it deprives its competitors of their customers. It has threatened its competitors that it will use its enormous resources and powers to take away their customers. By threats, it has prevented competing concerns from entering the business. It has given rebates to shoe manufacturers to induce them to use exclusively its machines. It has discontinued the sale to shoe manufacturers of all the most important machines and unlawfully devised and put into effect leases and licenses containing unreasonable and oppressive provisions, which agreements shoe manufacturers are compelled to execute in order to obtain machinery with which to equip their factories."

LEASE MACHINES.

The petition points out that the contracts give the United Company exclusive right to put out on lease all the "in-seam trimming machines" owned or controlled or hereafter made or acquired by the Keighley Company. The two corporations agree not to encourage other persons or corporations to enter business in connection with "in-seam trimming machines" except in accordance with the terms of the contract. While the Keighley Company retains the right to sell the machines, the contract prohibits it from accepting a price less than $650. The Keighley Company is required under the agreement to pay $200 to the United Company for every rapid in-seam trimming machine it sells.

The petition is signed by Attorney-General Wickersham, James A. Fowler, assistant to the attorney-general; William S. Gregg, special assistant, and John B. Vreeland, United States attorney at Trenton.

EDUCATOR VICTIM OF SNEAK THIEF

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8.—The school sneakthief who has been making a daily raid during the last week seems to have a preference to principals. While she stepped out to summon him the robber took her purse, containing a small sum.

NAMELESS SLOOP WITHOUT MASTER

Jacob Elgram Missing; Supposed to Have Fallen Overboard in Faint.

With the non-return of Jacob Elgram of 2040 Peralta avenue, the belief is further strengthened that the dismantled sloop that was found bumping against Dumbarton bridge last Friday afternoon was the means by which he lost his life.

The sloop was nameless, but answered in a rough way to the description of one which Elgram was known to have fitted up, although no one had seen him in it. He told his wife that he was to look over property near Alviso, and it is believed that while on this trip he fell into the water. It is said that he was subject to fainting spells and the bay is now being watched for his body.

NO VERDICT IN TRIAL FOR FRAUD

Defense Claimed Government Witness Got Large Part of Proceeds.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—The government's case against A. L. Wisner and John J. Meyers, indicted for misuse of the mails to promote oil and mining properties resulted today in no verdict. The jury was discharged after trying for 48 hours to agree.

The trial lasted nine weeks, and cost the government $70,000. Wisner and Meyers were accused of defrauding investors all over the country of more than $2,000,000. Their main defense was that a partner, who went to Europe, but later returned to become a government witness, got most of the money.

Splendid Gowns of Debutantes Are Features of Affair

The last dance of the Winter Assembly for the season was a brilliant social affair in the ivory ballroom of the Hotel Oakland last night, and was attended by about 200 of the younger buds and beaux of the local smart set. This delightfully managed organization has enjoyed several assemblies during the season, and the series is ended with real regret on the part of the young folk, who have taken such a large share of pleasure in it.

The imposing ballroom was adorned with palms and potted plants for the large affair last night, with a screen of scenery hiding the orchestra from view. The beautiful frocks of the debutantees and buds were never seen to better advantage then when worn by the charming girls at this farewell assembly. COURT FAILS TO RESTORE BRIDE

Deserted Husband Gets No Comfort From Judge in Action.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8.—John F. Banachowski, employed at a local department store, made two mistakes, according to his wife, on the two successive days after he led Violet Fauser, daughter of John Fauser, the wealthy brewer, to the altar. One of these errors was the leaving of his position and the other was his coming home intoxicated the second night following the wedding, according to the charge made by his better half. These two reasons caused Violet to leave her spouse and to seek refuge at the paternal home.

The wedding occurred on January 13 at St. Mary's Cathedral, the Rev. Father Byrne officiating.

The young girl admits to 19 summers and is exceedingly pretty. The case might not have become public but for the fact that the husband had her brought into court this morning on a writ of habeas corpus. He contended that her parents were holding her in durance vile. All of the parties interested were on hand. Violet took the stand and explained to Judge Dunne the reason for her leaving her spouse.

"You will have to find the remedy elsewhere," said the jurist. "I must dismiss these proceedings. The young woman is of age; she can stay with you or go to her parents if she likes."

Wife of Peruvian Millionaire on Her Way to Paris for Operation.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—A record expense to rid one's self of an appendix will probably be established by Mrs. Tomas Dornello, the wife of a Peruvian millionaire, who has arrived here from South America on her way to Paris. Seeking to escape the fate of her sister, who died after an operation for appendicitis in this country, Mrs. Dornello has insisted upon making the trip from Peru to Paris to have a famous French specialist operate. Making the trip with her family, two maids and a private physician, she estimates that it will cost her $10,000 to get rid of her troublesome appendix. The party sails for Paris today.

BADLY BURNED WHILE IN DESERT

Man and Wife Suffer When Spark Drops Into Gasoline Tank.

MAGDALENA, N. M., Feb. 8.—As a result of an explosion which destroyed their motor car in the desert near Quenanada, N. M., 70 miles west of here, early Wednesday morning, W. H. Hanson, a Denver restaurateur, was seriously and his wife fatally burned. News of the accident reached here today when a courier arrived on horseback to summon medical aid for the victims.

The Hansons, who were traveling over the ocean-to-ocean highway to California, from Denver, had camped for the night under some pine trees alongside the road. They built a fire under the trees to prepare breakfast, preparatory to resuming their journey, when sparks from this fire dropped into an open tank of gasoline on the car.

BOTH BADLY BURNED.

In the explosion which followed Mrs. Hanson, who was in the car, was terribly burned, as was her husband.

With no means of summoning aid, both victims lay helpless for almost fifteen hours in the biting cold, their plight being discovered by a cowboy riding over the trail. When found Mrs. Hanson was unconscious, while Hanson himself was barely able to instruct the cowboy to ride to the nearest settlement and summon assistance. He rode to Datil, thirty miles distant, and from there a courier was sent to Magdalena for doctors.

In the meantime a conveyance was sent from Datil and the Hansons were taken there, where they now are. This is the first serious accident to occur on the trans-continental highway.

SODIUM SETS SHIP ABLAZE

Explosions Cause Vessel to Break Amidships and Sink to Bottom.

LONDON, Feb. 8.—The story of the "demon cargo" of the steamship Hardy was written into the records of the king's bench yesterday through the testimony of her captain. On a voyage from Propert with a large cargo of mineral waters, consigned to a London firm, water reached a quantity of metallic sodium, which was also a part of the cargo, setting it afire.

The captain, not being aware of the nature of the sodium, played the hose on it, with the result that two tons of it were set on fire and there was a series of explosions. Nonplussed, the captain ordered all of the cases of the sodium heaved into the sea. When this was done the force of the explosion of the sodium, in contact with the water caused several cases to jump back again aboard the ship and the vessel itself caught fire. There was another explosion in the cargo which caused the vessel to break amidships and sink. The mate was drowned, but the captain and crew were saved.

The story came out in an action for damages against the steamship company for the loss of the mineral water. The court awarded the plaintiff $5000 damages with costs, and remarked to the captain that he seemed to have had the "devil among the tailors when the water got in."

Yeggmen Show Originality in Planning Job, But Fail on Execution.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—A safe of painted cardboard, to the eye an exact reproduction of a real safe they planned to rifle, was prepared by burglars who broke into a First avenue saloon early today. The real safe stood beneath an electric light kept burning all night and in full view from the street. The artists who conceived the plan intended to substitute the cardboard strong box for the steel one and then to blow the real safe unmolested in a dark corner of the saloon. Something frightened them away before they accomplished their purpose, for the proprietor today found that after breaking in, the thieves had fled, leaving their dummy safe behind them.

SUICIDE'S WIDOW IS ON DEATHBED

News of Her Helpless Condition Caused Cogswell to End Life, Belief.

ALAMEDA, Feb. 8.—Mrs. J. B. Cogswell, wife of the man who committed suicide Thursday in a lodging house at 1521 Park street through inhaling chloroform, is dying at Middletown, Nova Scotia. A wire to this effect was received by Deputy Coroner C. H. Wover from a relative of Mrs. Cogswell, H. Schaffner who wired: "Mrs. Cogswell is dying. Can't send instructions." The "instructions" referred to an earlier wire of the deputy coroner asking for instructions as to the disposition of Cogswell's body.

Mrs. Cogswell went east several months ago. She had undergone a capital operation and failed to mend satisfactorily. It was thought the trip east and visit to her folks might have a beneficial effect. Cogswell, alone and out of work, probably had previous intimation of his wife's hopeless condition. He was in failing health himself, had recently sustained a broken arm while at work at the United Engineering Works, and was further handicapped by his advancing years, being 67 years old. Probably the receipt of word from the deathbed of his wife was the final factor which determined him to end his life.

Cogswell secured the chloroform from a Park street druggist, explaining that he wished to chloroform a dog. Acquaintances are recalling that recently he asked a number of men how chloroform operated. For lack of other instructions or arrangements the body probably will be buried here by the county.

SAVINGS BANKS IN ALAMEDA SCHOOLS

ALAMEDA, Feb. 8.—School savings banks will be instituted in the local schools next Monday, when the scheme adopted by the board of education at its last meting will be put into effect. All the teachers have been instructed to receive deposits from the pupils and these will be deposited in one of the local banks each Monday morning. Pass books will be issued to the children, in which the banks will enter the amounts of the deposit, taking up the certificates that will have been issued by the teacher for each deposit.

Superintendent of Schools Will C. Wood says that the scheme has worked out to perfection in various cities of the east and in San Francisco, Oakland and Berkeley. The system which will be inaugurated in the local schools will be the latest tried out and will occasion but little extra work on the part of the teacher in keeping the many accounts. The pupils will have the choice of banks in which his money is to be deposited, and deposits may be made with the teacher in any amount and at any time.

The plan is devised for the purpose of fostering thrift in the children, and inculcating business principles.

PROTEST GILMAN STREET OPENING

Moot Point Again Before Berkeley Commissioners Without Any Decision.

BERKELEY, Feb. 8.—The Gilman street opening problem, which has already been the origin of a recall proceedings against Commissioner E. Q. Turner, brought seventy-five determined protestants to the city council chambers last night. The proceedings were enlivened by several tilts between commissioners and lobby, in one of which participated Miss E. Von Schunck, an attorney of this city, and Commissrenel Turner.

"Commissioner Turner informed me," declared Miss Schunck, "that the assessments for this proposed work were levied arbitrarily."

"I beg your pardon, I did not," hotly retorted Turner. "I said they had been fixed on the advice of real estate men. You asked me then who the real estate men were and I told you their names were confidential."

C. E. Ayer, proponent of the recall movement against Turner, declared that the map of the proposed opening, which was displayed in the council room, was false in many particulars and that the circular which the council had issued regarding the opening was similarly false. Exception to this statement was taken by members of the council and lobby as well.

No action was taken by the council, the matter being postponed for further discussion to the meeting of next Tuesday morning.

In a petition presented by the protestants to the opening of the street they proposed the following objections:

DECLARED NO NECESSITY.

"Said work is not a necessity at this time nor will it ever be. It tends to cut up the city into small lanes and streets. Running in its proposed direction it spoils the beauty of this section of the city. In addition to our many present burdens the extra expense cannot be borne at this time. If any improvements of this character are ever made they should be so done that the whole city will benefit, namely: extend said street easterly to Berryman, thereby making a great broad street extending to the proposed inner harbor."

The following protestants signed the petition:

H. S. Thompson, George A. Sullivan, C. E. Pierce, G. A. Trumpour, L. W. Potts, Alice G. Jewell, John A. Bellis, W. Elliott Judge, Harbor Cities Realty Company, C. Z. Ellis, Mersa Macdonald, Florentine Altenberg, Truman Investment Company, E. P. Busby, Mr. and Mrs. Dorrett, A. Kleso, Fannie S. Day, A. Leuders, Mrs. L. B. Ayer, J. J. Mulvaney, Edwin W. ENGAGEMENT IS TOLD AT VALENTINE PARTY

ALAMEDA, Feb. 8.—The engagement of Miss Dorothy Kuchel and Theodore O. Leydecker was announced this afternoon at a Valentine party given by Miss Kuchel at her home on Oak street. The affair was attended by twenty-four friends of the attractive bride-elect. Dutch whist was the chief diversion of the afternoon. Miss Kuchel was assisted in receiving her guests by her mother, Mrs. J. C. Kuchel, Mrs. T. W. W. Leydecker, Miss Lynda Russ, Miss Ethel Cameron and Miss Lulu Riechel. Betrothal cards decorated with hand-painted hearts and placed at each table place told the engagement secret.

Miss Kuchel is another of the several popular Alameda society maids to announce engagements this winter. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Kuchel of 839 Oak street. She was reared in this city and educated in the Alameda schools. Leydecker is the son of Postmaster and Mrs. T. W. Leydecker and is connected with the Alameda postoffice. The wedding is to take place in the fall.

A study class has been formed to meet with Dr. Peixotto on the evening of each of her lectures in which she will discuss more fully her subjects and suggest and supervise reading. This class will be open to all members.

JURY REDUCES CHARGE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8.—Anacleto Costa, on December 16, knifed Michael Zabeda and was arrested for assault to murder. The jury reduced the charge to assault with a deadly weapon when they found him guilty and Superior Judge Dunne further showed him leniency today when he sentenced him to only one year in the county jail.

The proceeds of the affair will be devoted to a fund to be used for the better housing of women students.

FRESNO WOMAN, ONCE ALAMEDAN, IS BURIED

ALAMEDA, Feb. 8.—Mrs. Sarah Murdock Hamilton, formerly a prominent Alameda resident, was buried yesterday in Mountain View Cemetery, Oakland, her body being brought from the family home at Fresno for interment in the family plot. Mrs. Murdock and her family will be readily recalled by many residents of the east side cities. Her husband, J. H. Hamilton, owned extensive ranch interests near Fresno.

He was found drowned in a shallow slough near Fresno about 20 years ago while riding a thoroughbred horse to a stock show. Just how he met his death was never definitely determined. In his hand he grasped a broken stirrup. The arrival of his horse at home without the rider and with one stirrup missing, caused search to be made and his body was found in three feet of water. He was one of the leading stock fanciers of California in the days when thoroughbred stock received widespread attention from stockmen and ranchers in general.

CAR HITS POTATO KING.

ALAMEDA, Feb. 7.—Henry Spever, popularly known as the "Potato King," came near serious injury when his wagon was struck by car 237 of the East Alameda line at the corner of Eagle avenue and Park street. Spever was driving across the tracks when the accident occurred. The car struck the wagon with considerable force, but little damage was done and nobody was injured.

CADETS PLAN BALL.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Feb. 8.—The annual military ball of the University Cadets will be held at Harmon Gymnasium the evening of March 21. Committees are already at work on the arrangements. E. H. Clausen is general chairman of the committees, while C. L. Le Baron, captain and adjutant, will be floor manager.

WULZEN MAY RECOVER.

ALAMEDA, Feb. 8.—Although not out of danger, Richard Wulzen, who was struck down by an automobile and sustained a fractured skull in San Francisco Wednesday evening, is doing as well as can be expected, according to reports from the Alameda Sanatorium where the victim of the accident has been taken. He is expected to recover.

JAMES WILKINS MISSING.

ALAMEDA, Feb. 8.—The local authorities have been asked to locate David Wilkins, who came to California years ago and presumably settled in Pasadena. Inquiries in that city failed to locate the man and cards have been sent to this city. Wilkens' whereabouts is asked for by his uncle, also James Wilkins. The missing man hails from Maine.

OAKLAND'S DEVELOPMENT AS SET FORTH IN ANNUAL MAKES IMPRESSION

THE DESTINY OF OAKLAND.

THE OAKLAND TRIBUNE has issued its special January annual number, giving an interesting account of the wonderful progress made by the city of Oakland and its many industries during the year just passed into history. The people of Oakland are to be congratulated on the splendid showing set forth in THE TRIBUNE'S annual. Ten years ago the total assessed valuation of Oakland was $45,000,000. Today its total assessed valuation is $144,000,000. Any city that can put forth a record of increased values such as is given for the city of Oakland covering a period of ten years' progress can be certain of a most glorious destiny.

After reading the very interesting history of Oakland's progress and the great and practical plans of its leaders in civic and commercial endeavor, it is easy to understand why the citizens of that municipality prefer to preserve its splendid individuality and work out its destiny independent of its neighbor on the west side of the bay.

Oakland is making progress along modern and thoroughly substantial lines and its future is as certain as is the determination of its men and women to build it to tremendous urban greatness. Its gigantic harbor improvements are the most important for the future prosperity of Oakland. When the commerce of the world is quickened to the Pacific coast by the opening of the Panama canal, the advantage of the situation of Oakland on the mainland will undoubtedly make it, in a short time, the most important maritime city on the western shore of the United States.

PRINCIPAL TO GET OFFICIAL HEARING

Entire Matter of Transfer of Miss Baxley to Be Probed.

An official hearing is to be granted Miss Alice V. Baxley, the principal transferred from the Fruitvale School No. 3 at the last meeting of the board of education, according to the decision of Superintendent of Schools J. W. McClymonds and members of the board. The date for the hearing will probably be set this evening at the committee meeting, when the Baxley case and the matter of forming rules for the letting of school buildings will be taken up. At the hearing of Miss Baxley, any witness she may name and teachers in the school who have preferred charges of untruthfulness against her will be placed on the stand and the entire matter thoroughly sifted.

"The hearing is simply to clear Miss Baxley of any gossip which may have arisen from her transfer," declared Superintendent McClymonds today. "It was understood when the transfer was made that the board had faith in Miss Baxley, but her neighbors believe she has not had fair treatment, and we want to be fair.

"The scandal of some time ago, regarding a girl in the school and a janitor, will not be taken up. This was not Miss Baxley's fault, and she knew nothing about it at the time. We will therefore ignore it. The girl is in an institution and the janitor was dismissed. That ended the case as far as we were concerned."

POLITICAL MEETINGS EXCEPTED.

The matter of rules to govern the allowing of meetings in schoolbuildings, which caused a stormy session this week, will be taken up, and a rule to cover the wishes of the board in the matter will be made and considered at Monday's meeting. It is expected that this will allow all organizations, save regular political parties, to meet in school buildings.

The city beautiful committee, composed of school principals, which met to consider ways in which school children can aid the city beautiful movement, has turned in its report to the school superintendent. The report deals with the planting of gardens in school yards, reports on neighborhood vacant lots by the children and lectures, with practical instruction in gardening. The report will be considered at Monday night's meeting.

Director Harry Boyle will bring up for reconsideration Monday the matter of placing intermediate high school classes in the Dewey and Emerson schools. This matter, passed in the adoption of the superintendent's report last week, has many protestants, and it is to secure a hearing for these that Boyle plans to call for a reopening of the question.

PART OF WOODMEN BUILDING LEASED

Main Floor of New Structure Let for Period of Nine Years.

The entire main floor, basement and mezzanine of the new Woodmen of the World building at the northwest corner of Sixteenth and Jefferson streets has been leased to the Pacific Coast Rattan Company, which will occupy the space for its manufacturing and wholesale business. The firm, which has branches in San Francisco, Los Angeles, Portland and Seattle, does all of its manufacturing and wholesaling here, having removed to this side of the bay from San Francisco five years ago. The concern is now located at the corner of Eighth and Clay streets.

The main floor of the Woodmen building, 100 by 150 feet in size, will be occupied as a store and the basement and mezzanine will contain the manufacturing plant. Seventy weavers are employed by the firm. The lease is to run for nine years, the total rental amounting to $55,200. The transaction which was closed through the agency of the Laymance Real Estate Company, will enable the Woodmen to finance their building enterprise with ease. The structure is to be completed by June 15, and the rattan company is expected to occupy the premises July 1.

Besides the space leased, there will be in the building 79 offices, two lodge rooms and an open air ballroom.

WESTERN FUEL CO. GIVES UP BOOKS

Federal Treasury Agents Take Possession of Dock Weight Sheets.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8.—Agents of the Federal Treasury Department took possession today of the dock weight books and other records of the Western Fuel Company, which the government declares has been defrauding it of customs duties by weighing frauds. When officers of the company failed yesterday to produce the books in court, as ordered, they were informed that they could take their choice of doing so or going to jail for contempt of court. Whatever the books shall disclose will be presented to the Federal Grand Jury next Tuesday.

STEAMBOAT MAN DIES.

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., Feb. 8.—Virgil Dresser, 75 years old, one of the last of the steamboatmen of the Missouri river, and known as "Admiral" Dresser, died here last night. He came to Leavenworth in 1856. Dresser was one of the few survivors of the Civil war campaign of General Price in 1864.

MAYOR URGES TEMPERANCE.

ALBANY, Feb. 8.—Mayor J. Stitt Wilson of Berkeley has taken a hand in the local liquor fight, addressing a plea for temperance to Socialists in this city. He cites the action of Socialistic bodies in this country and abroad in denouncing the alcoholism. The Albany election is February 14, when license or no-license is the question at issue.

MAKES PROVISION FOR NEW HARBOR

Congressional Bill Carries Big Appropriation for Richmond Improvement.

RICHMOND, Feb. 8.—Advices from Congressman Joseph R. Knowland in Washington received here are to the effect that he expects the initial appropriation of $50,000 to be tacked on to the general rivers and harbors bill at the present session of Congress and that it will be passed, affording Richmond a beginning in government aid on dredging the harbor. The engineers' report is ready to be filed and the project has received the official endorsement of the War Department because of the reports of its engineering corps on this coast, of which Colonel Rees is the head.

Bonds are now in the hands of the engravers for the local issue voted here and $300,000 cash will soon be available for the commencement of work on the tunnel and inner harbor. This work can probably be started within a month or six weeks and will then be kept going steadily, making employment for many workmen.

MANY WILLING TO WORK FOR $10,000

Scores Would Be Secretaries of New Oakland Commercial Club.

The mail of Secretary A. A. Denison of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce is burdened, and he is besieged with telegrams by available secretaries from all parts of the United States, who are anxious to serve the new Commercial Club, with regard to which the information has gone abroad that it is looking for a secretary to be paid $10,000 a year.

The woods appear to be full of secretaries who would be quite willing to relinquish their present offices and emoluments to accept the office in Oakland, and enjoy the beauties of this climate at an annual stipend of $10,000.

Ad Wolgast Engages Quarters at Seal Rocks for Murphy Bout

Tommy McFarland Fails to Show Finishing Punch With Watson

EX-CHAMPION SAID TO BE SIX POUNDS OVER WEIGHT

Fans See Rattling Draw as Feature of Friday Night's Pavilion Card

By THE TIMEKEEPER

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 8.—Ad Wolgast announced today his definite acceptance of the terms of Promoter Coffroth of San Francisco for a contest with Tommy Murphy on February 22 at San Francisco. Wolgast says he is guaranteed $9000 as his share, or if he chooses, fifty per cent of the gross receipts. The fight will be a twenty-round affair. Wolgast will do some preliminary training here, but expects to go to San Francisco in the latter part of next week.

The above dispatch indicates that the Murphy-Wolgast match is cinched as reported in the TRIBUNE yesterday. Coffroth intimates that Wolgast became more sensible in his demands, while Ad says he got $500 more than the $8500 proposition he was quoting two days ago. It hardly looks reasonable, but then the matter of terms is strickly the business of the boxer and the promoter. All the fans care to know, is that the bout is a reality.

Murphy will leave Chicago today, while Wolgast's quarters have been engaged for him at the Seal rocks. It is said that the ex-champion is really six pounds over weight and may have some little difficulty in reducing on such short notice.

The only time these two lads met before was in Pittsburg, when they went six rounds before Wolgast was champion.

It was a no-decision bout, but the newspapers seen to think that Murphy ha the best of it

Mac's Throne Shaky

Tommy McFarland, newly crowned king of the four round division at San Francisco, sat on a shaky throne last night in his go with Red Watson. McFarland started off strong, flooring the auburn haired chap with lefts and rights to the body and head before the affair had gone a minute. But Tommy failed to show the old finishing act, and Watson was permitted to recuperate. At the end of the four rounds, Watson is anything was fighting the stronger of the two, and the draw decision given by Referee Eddie Hanlon was well received. The bout was sensational throughout and was a peech of a climax to a good card offered by the Richmond Athletic club at Pavilion rink.

The boys went into a clinch after sparring a bit in the first round, Watson missing a left swing but managing to land light lefts and rights to the jaw, against which McFarland attempted to cover. The new king reached out to the Watson face with swings, then rushed Watson to the ropes. As he backed away to the middle of the ring Tommy caught Watson off guard and with long swinging punches to the body, ripped a right to the point of the jaw, sending Watson spinning in a seated position to the floor. He was up before the count started and then Tommy rushed him into Watson's own corner where he whaled away at him with everything he had. Watson was badly dazed, but managed to weather the storm. Here was McFarland's golden opportunity but he failed to land the bacon. He permitted Red to stall along and though he landed fair on the nose once or twice just before the gong, Watson wasn't hurt much and as soon as the bees stopped buzzing in his noodle, he was O K. Watson looked vacant as he went to his corner, at that.

McFarland started off to end it in the second session raking his man with body blows and then shifting the attack to the jaw. They missed swings and then Red managed to hook a stiff right into the ribs. They traded left rips to tahe stomach and then Tommy began figating a little wildly, missing swings repeatedly. There was no jab and step away business in this go and each boy was trying with everything he had in the shop. Watson landed a left to the jaw at the bell and was strong at the close.

"Red" Pulls Up

The third saw Red pulling up almost even with the new monarch. McFarland hooked a right to the mouth at the start and Red threw a glancing left uppercut to the McFarland visage. Coming out of a clinch Tommy landed on the face with both hands, Red retaliating with a hard right to the Cleaver boy's jaw. Red shook up McFarland with a left to the face and after a long clinch, Watson turned over the best effort he scored during the fight with a right uppercut which sank into Tommy's tummy. Tommy broke ground rapidly after that and it was Watson's round.

The fourth was about as frantic a period as an average fan will see in his life time. They went at it hammer and tongs, landed full arm swings flush on the jaw, time and again, fighting like wild men in the clinch. Tommy fell backward through the ropes and Red helped him up. Tommy held on a bit toward the end where the pace was telling on him. When the final gong tolled there was nothing to it but a draw, and somebody will have to match the boys again to settle the question. The bout was quite a set back to McFarland after his sensational clean up of Willie Hoppe the week before.

Moore Holds O'Leary

Ray Moore upset Johnny O'Leary's confidence quite a bit in the semi-windup. O'Leary had the clever long range tactics down fine, but Moore got to working well on the inside stuff and though the tide shifted several times. Referee Frank Schuler gave his first popular decision of the night in calling it an even thing.

Willie Murray knocked out Joe Greggains in a round, after rendering Greggains helpless with kidney punches and then slugged him into a corner where a left hook turned the trick.

Ray Campbell did not show any too strong against the Montana Kid, a tough specimen and when Schuler gave the decdcision to Campbell he was strongly booed. Campbell couldn't get his right hand started.

Charlie White gave young Ketchel a boxing lesson, but Schuler called it a draw and the official was panned for that.

Romeo Hagan and Antone LaGrave slugged steadily for four rounds by which time LaGrave had established a substantial lead.

Pete Blake pulled a swing out of his back pocket, threw it overhand full length and dropped it on Young Lanum's jaw in the first and the little birds sang for Lanum. It was a spectacular knockout.

Tom Nichola beat up Young Walcott in two rounds, winning with a knockout.

Kid Berteson and Eddie Miller fought four rounds to a draw and Soldier Bender knocked out Red Murphy in two rounds after scoring a bunch of knockdowns. Eddie Hanlon alternated with Frank Schuler as referee, and had all the easy ones to pick.

Rufe Wants Match

Rufe Cameron has asked Louis Parante to put him on Friday evening the twenty-first with Charlie Miller, the big motorman of San Francisco, who was considered as a possible opponent to Gunboat Smith. Cameron feels confident that he could take the measure of the Motorman claiming that the only reason he did not put Jack Geyer away the other evening was because he had injured his right hand. The hand is healed now and Rufe is anxious to get in the game again.

Parente could do worse than put these two huskies together and let them go to it. Cameron is a willing fellow and has a punch that counts when it lands. He is a shifty boxer, too, and should give Miller an argument.

Revive Chicago Bouts

CHICAGO, Feb. 8.—Six round bouts in Chicago will be given the official sanction of Mayor Harrison if the legislature should legalize them, the mayor told friends today. At least three bills permitting boxing already have been drawn up for presentation. They differ only in the length of the contests, two providing for six and the other for ten round contests. The general lines of the Frawley bill, now in force in New York, have been followed.

Welters Fight Draw

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 8.—Tommy Howell of Philadelphia and Spike Kelly of Chicago, welterweights, fought ten rounds to a draw here. While Kelly apparently had the advantage on points, Howell was the aggressor and landed more effectively.

Although neither man was knocked down, each, at the conclusion of the fight had one eye almost closed, and the faces of both were bleeding freely.

Kenosha Bout Is Off

CHICAGO, Feb. 8.—The bout between Pal Moore of Philadelphia and Charlie White of Chicago, which was to have been staged at Kenosha next Monday night, was called off tonight. Threats of arrests for principal and promoters brought about the cancellation.

Zotte vs. Monte Attell

Stockton fans are licking their chops over a meal scheduled for Wednesday evening, February 12, when Ad Zotte meets Monte Attell for ten rounds before before the Hub City Athletic club. Lem Kegg and Bert White, brother of Herb, will box ten rounds as a special event. There will be two four round preliminaries.

White vs. McFarland

Promoter Malatesta, whose club will give the four-round bouts next Friday night, announced a double main event in addition to seven other matches that will be staged.

In one of these events Herb White of Stockton has been matched with Tommy McFarland.

In the other, Charlie Horn, Tim McGrath's heavy-weight, will be sent against "Porky" Flynn, the Boston chap who has been around here for some little time.

Petroskey vs. Berg

Manager Charles F. Grennan of the Palm Athletic club has signed Sailor Ed Petroskey and Otto Berg for a twenty round bout in the Flosden arena at Vallejo. The fight will be for the middleweight champion of the Pacific coast and will take place on the evening of March 7th. Berg last week defeated Willie Meehan, but severely injured his right hand during that scrap. Berg expects that the injured member will be healed before the coming go. Petroskey defeated Charlie Grande last Wednesday night.

Local Wolgast Bid

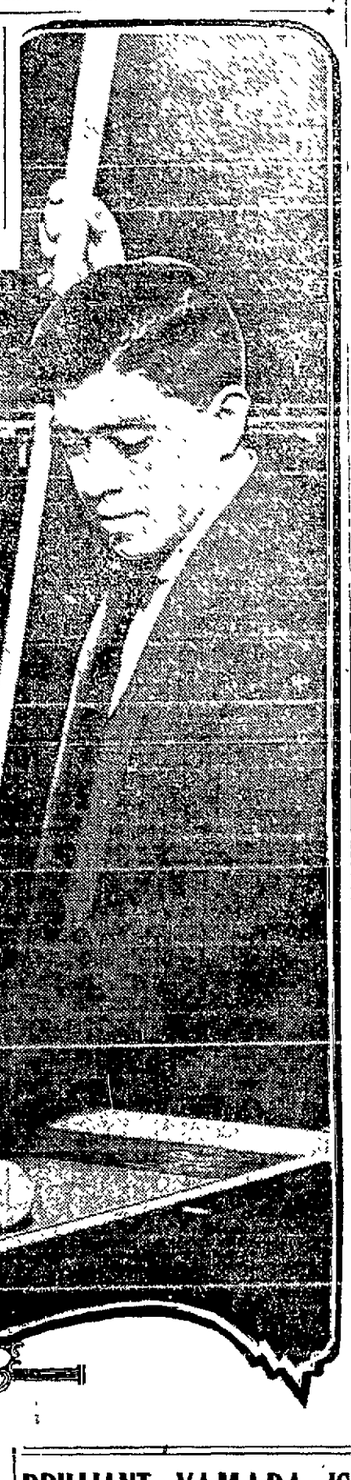

Before learning of Wolgast's tentative acceptance of Coffroth's proposal, Matchmaker Jimmie Rohan of the Oakland Wheelmen, wired him at Portland an offer of $1500 to box six rounds here with Joe Azavedo. Rohan figured that the exchampion would not mind going a short distance with a boxer like Azavedo, and would regard the match as a fair try out of his strength. Azavedo whipped McFarland and Tommy got the best of a draw verdict with Wolgast over the ten round route. Still, on Azavedo's showing the other night with Louis Rees it would look like a slaughter of the innocents to steer him up against Wolgast chopping block.

Frankie Burns feels the call of the ring again and announces that he will probably give Matchmaker Jimmie Rohan the first call for a bout in Oakland within two months. Frankie will not try the four round game.

Henry Hickey will probably box Ray Baughman for Louis Parente's next go.

TWO WONDERFUL MASTERS OF THE CUE

MANY NOTED PLAYERS IN MARYLAND-ORIGINAL LINEUP

Both the Originals and Maryland American football teams are trained to the minute for the struggle for final honors of the season. They are scheduled to play at Grove-street park at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow.

Neither team will have any excuses to offer as the men have been constantly training for the big event of the American football season.

The game will be played rain or shine. In case of rain, the fans can be comfortably protected by the covered grandstand.

The game is exciting widespread interest as the teams are the best two in the state.

THE FOOTBALL RULES TO BE UNCHANGED, SAY EXPERTS

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Football rules are almost sure to get the "rest cure" this year, according to authoritative sources. Although the intercollegiate rules committee has arranged for its annual meeting here on February 14, it is expected that its fourteen members will have little to do. The revised code adopted last winter was generally approved in reports at the recent meeting of the National Collegiate Athletic Association, and in all probability the changes in the rules, if any at all, will be along clarifying lines, with nothing new or radical.

LIVERMORE QUINTET DEFEATS Y. M. I. PLAYERS

LIVERMORE, Cal., Feb. 8.—The fast Livermore High school defeated the Y. M. I. basketball team on the C. I. court this evening by the score of 24 to 43. The stars of the game were Horton captain, Sangmaster and McKelvey, Connally played well for Y. M. I.

The lineups were:

L. H. S.	Positions	Y. M. I
Horton Capt.	Guard	Moy
Hunsacher	Guard	Larripa
Henry	Center	Regan
Sangmaster	Forwards	Connally
McKelvey	Forwards	Murray

The preliminary was a fast game between the 180 pound Livermore high school team and the All Stars, the former winning 26 to 24. Smith starred for the school. While Iverson and Gandella played well for the losers.

STANFORD PRACTICE MEET TODAY.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Feb. 8.—For the first time this semester all the varsity track men, including the hurdlers, will be seen in action in the practice meet which will be held on the oval this afternoon. In the three previous meets only a few varsity athletes were permitted to take part by Trainer "Dad" Moulton. The timber topping events will be added tomorrow, but the regulation distances in the races will be shortened. The distances in the races will be lengthened. Only half distances have been covered up in this met.

NEW SCHOOL COACH.

SAN JOSE, Feb. 8.—Cyril McGraw, a member of four of the best baseball teams ever turned out of the San Jose high school, has been retained as coach to take charge of the '13 squad, which will commence practice next week.

ESCAPED AFTER FIFTEEN YEARS.

W. P. Broyles made a successful escape after 15 years of suffering from kidney and bladder troubles. Foley Kidney Pills released him and will do just the same for others. He says "They cured a most severe backache with painful bladder irregularities, and they do all you claim for them." Refuse substitutes. Wishart's Drug Store.

BRILLIANT YAMADA IS WINNER OVER THE VETERAN

Slosson Is Outplayed in Thrilling Finish, In Which Oriental Runs 64.

Koji Yamada, the brilliant little Japanese billiardist, finished his match with George Slosson at the Wright parlors last night with a wonderful run of 64, carrying him to victory over the veteran. Yamada made the 400 points in 22 innings, Slosson making 286 points in 21 innings.

The final run of the evening by Yamada demonstrated the wonderful skill of the diminutive player, and set the large crowd of spectators wild with enthusiasm.

The two players started out with comparatively small runs, Slosson the steadier, and the Nipponese contenting himself with trying fancy shots. In the ninth inning Slosson made his highest run, 39, giving his 109 points, where Yamada had only 77.

When it came to the final inning, however, Yamada took the house by storm with a hair-raising exhibition, deftly manipulating the ivories around the table and always keeping them under control until the 400 points were made. His stroke was delicately timed, and some of the brilliant masse shots which he executed were a marvelous exhibition.

Yamada's three high runs were 64, 59, 54; Slosson's, 37, 34, 39.

WOLTER BACK IN GAME.

SAN JOSE, Feb. 8.—Entirely recovered from the injury which took him out of the game last season, Harry Wolter, the hard-hitting outfielder, will leave here shortly to join the New York Americans at their spring training camp at Bermuda. Wolter is in god condition as a result of regular workouts with amateur nines. A broken ankle stopped him early in the 1912 season, when he was a clean-up hitter for his team and one of its fastest men on the paths.

BIG POLE WINS.

CHICAGO, Feb. 8.—Stanislaus Zybszke won his wrestling watch with Raymond Caseau here tonight in straight falls. The first fall was with a double bridge in 31 minutes. The second came in 15:15 with a cross body and wrist lock. The bout was very rough and both men were severely punished.

GOTCH TO COME BACK.

CHICAGO, Feb. 8.—Frank Gotch, champion heavyweight wrestler of the world, is about to emerge from retirement. He came to Chicago today to referee a wrestling bout, and incidentally, while here he admitted that he was about ready again to answer the lure of the mat.

KANTLEHNER GETS RAISE.

SAN JOSE, Feb. 8.—Erving Kantlehner, the big southpaw pitcher of the Victoria Bees of the Northwest League, today returned a signed contract to President L. A. Wattelet of that club. Kantlehner received a flattering raise in salary.

BLEACHERS CLIMBING UP IN OAKS' NEW BALL PARK

Jess Becker Accepts Terms; Cy Parkin Is Communing With the Town Pump

(By BILLY FITZ.)

Oakland's new ball park is materializing just as fast as three gangs of skilled workmen can accomplish the job. The bleachers are already beginning to climb skyward, the double fence is nearly up, the grandstand supports are in place and all the lumber on the ground. If the weather man stands by Senator Leavitt another three weeks the greater portion of the task will have been accomplished. Twelve thousand gallons of water through six hoses and the outfield sprinkling devices were emptied on the field yesterday. The grass has started nicely, and there does not seem to be the slightest cause for apprehending that the factory will not be ready when the time comes to blow the whistle and pipe all hands to their quarters.

No father ever gave his child more paternal attention than Senator Leavitt, president of the Oakland ball club, is lavishing upon the new park. Leavitt is out there, morning and afternoon, and he would be there at night, too, if they would only equip the place with electric lights. No detail, be it ever so minute, escapes his attention. He is bound that the park will be the most perfect of its kind in the west and he will very probably realize his ambition. Certainly, he is showing the right spirit, and deserves all the success he will undoubtedly attain.

Manager Mitze received a telegram yesterday afternoon from Jess Baker, the new outfielder from the Portsmouth, Va., club, saying that the terms of his contract were satisfactory and that he would be out here on the twenty-fourth. Becker will try to keep Schirm from running away with Paterson's old job, and if the dope sheets are correct, should give the Buffalo player a hard run.

D. S. Wells, the young infielder from Marysville, has also sent word that he will be in Livermore when the training season arrives. Wells writes from Oklahome, where he is going to college. He is said to be a very fast and promising youngster, and he aspires for Gustiing's position at third. Wells, Art Guest and young Emery will be the three extra men to try for positions in the infield.

Supplies of war are already beginning to reach the front in the form of bats and gloves, Mitze grabbing a Bunny Pierce model for his receiving hand, and a half-dozen Louisville sluggers of special design being billed here by express for Elmer Zacher. Zacher does not use the fat, heavy club which distinguishes Tiedemann, Hetling and others. He clings persistently and successfully to a long, thin and comparatively light weapon, with which he has hammed more than one pill into the distant bleachers at Recreation plaza.

The irrepressible Cy Parkins has been heard from. Cy lives on a farm, near the village of Hudson, South Dakota. Cy says the population of Hudson consists of seven people and the town pump. Cy prefers to shake hands with the pump rather than the whole population put together. Parkin's contract has not arrived, but "Cy" has written to say that he expects to kick up the dust of Livermore just as soon as the bunch stampede.

Daily practice at Grove street park is contemplated by Mitze and a few of the faithful just as soon as gas has been run to the hot water heaters in the shower baths. Tyler Christian, Vinnie Ward, Martinont, Hetling, Leard and one or two others, including Jockeys Eddie and Willie Dugan and George Archibald will probably warm up at the old park.

Ted Sullivan, scout for Comiskey, will soon be in our midst with his famous lectures on baseball. He will give several at the Hotel Oakland while the Sox are stopping there, and also at the University of California. The lectures are very interesting and instructive.

Count Von Bernstoff, the German Ambassador to the United States, has been converted to baseball. He says: "It compares favorably with the English game of cricket, with this advantage: The English take two days to play a game of cricket and you Americans take only two hours for a game of baseball. That's quite typical, isn't it?"

Judge McCredie is lobbying at the Oregon state capitol, trying to line up a clear majority against the bill that has been introduced, putting a ban on Sunday amusements. Baseball is not excepted from the bill. If the bill goes through, Portland will withdraw from the league, says the Judge.

I wonder will the sporting scribes of San Francisco journey half way to the border line to meet William Reidy when the Seals' manager nears home. I wonder?

Alas, the yellow peril is with us again! "Red" Galligan, official bat boy for the Chicago cubs for ten years, may be succeeded by I. Sugimoto, who has applied for the job and whose application, according to the war correspondents, is being considered.

Klamath Falls is to have a basketball team trained to play on roller skates and this team will meet outside teams in the nearby cities in a tournament.

J. Cal Ewing would just as soon hunt ducks as sit around his office waiting for further notices of holdouts. Ewing lit out for the marshes today.

Farmer Bill Burns, who is pitching for the Minneapolis club of the American Association, is visiting in Point Richmond. He tried hard to get on with some league team in a trade but couldn't make his bosses see it that way.

Fritz Holland has concluded to retire permanently from the ring and is preparing to open a gymnasium in San Francisco. Holland broke his hand slamming Otto Berg, and now Berg has broken his hand slamming Willie Meehan.

John L. Sullivan may come to Oakland soon in the footsteps of James J. Corbett. The famous fighter is touring Calgary and the northwest, and will come down the coast visiting most of the larger cities. He expects to return east by the southern route.

Despite the rumors that Happy Hogan was going to get rid of Dolly Gray, the veteran southpaw, has received a contract from the boss gondolier and has returned it with his signature. Dolly is in Oakland, working out with some of the local celebrities at Grove street park.

"Curious Fan" asks me to tell him whether he was right in his head when he bet that Pitcher Gregg of the Portland club, now with Cleveland, does not hold a world's record for strikeouts. You win, brother, it was in 1910 that Gregg struck out 365 men in 395 innings for the entire season, an average of 8.34 strikeouts for the full number of 44 games he pitched. What's yours?

How will it sound to read this sort of paragraph:

Leard walks; Schirm sacrifices him to second; Coy's double scores Leard, Coy taking third on the throw in. Hetling singles, scoring Coy. Cook doubles to the right field fence scoring Hetling. Zacher gets a home run. Tiedemann triples and comes home on Mitze's drive down the left field foul line. Fedink is now pitching for the Gondoliers. "Quick Watson the needle!"

SUPPORT IS GIVEN HAYWARD CLUBS

Citizens Are Enthusiastic Over New Boys' Athletic Organization.

HAYWARD, Feb. 8.—The newly-formed athletic organizations, the Young Men's Athletic Club and the Boys' Club, which are to receive financial assistance from the board of trustees and the high school board, have secured a firm hold in Hayward. B. R. Robinson, assistant physical director in Oakland Y. M. C. A., has been appointed to take over the charge of the physical instruction department of the two clubs.

Robinson is leaving the Oakland Y. M. C. A. March 1 to take up duties in Hayward. He is to meet the members of the Boys' Club tonight and will deliver an illustrated lecture on one of his trips to the mountains.

Before joining the Oakland Y. M. C. A., Robinson had considerable experience in training boys at the New Century Club in West Oakland.

Ten representatives from the high school board, the Social Service Association, the Civic Center and other organizations in Hayward are to superintend the work of the clubs. This committee will meet Tuesday evening, to make arrangements for the conduct of the clubs.

IMPROVEMENT CLUB WOULD WIDEN ROAD

MELROSE, Feb. 8.—Attention has been called by the Latham Terrace Improvement Club to the alleged dangerous condition of the Foothill Boulevard between Twenty-sixth avenue and Fruitvale. The narrowness of the road in this district is said to constitute a danger to traffic.

An effort will be made to sign property owners up to give a strip of five feet to the street, so as to give room for teams to pass on either side of the electric car tracks.

HAYWARD HAS NINE FIRES DURING YEAR

HAYWARD, Feb. 8.—The annual report of Fire Chief Riggs shows that Hayward's fire department responded to nine alarms during the year. The total loss was $3065, the fire at the Occidental Hotel being the largest conflagration.

WHAT THAT 25 PER CENT INCREASE FOR YOUNG PLAYERS MEANS

Magnate Not Compelled to Pay Youngster Highest Salary During Tryout.

Two or three times a week a fan writes to know about the 25 per cent increase clause in the baseball contracts this year.

Recently, at the suggestion of the minor leagues, the commission decided that major league clubs might offer players coming from the minors 25 per cent advance over the stipends they received the previous year. They might offer that, but are not compelled to do so, but they are limited to 25 per cent. This contract is to be in force 45 days only. After that period had elapsed, a new contract must be tendered calling for whatever sum is agreeable to the magnate and player.

This was done to make it easier to unload players tried and found wanting. The minor magnates, who, of necessity, make less profit and do smaller business than the major fellows, often found a man offered in return whose salary had doubled. This jump occurred merely because the young player had spring training with a major league club and hung around a few days after the season started.

The 25 per cent provisional contract works no hardship on the youngster breaking in. If he can show anything he is in the happy position of having demonstrated his ability to his employer before putting his name to a permanent contract. Neither is it unjust to the magnate, for he is not compelled to pay a player more than he is worth during the time he ascertains the man's ability.

REAL ESTATE — REAL ESTATE

Choice Piedmont Properties

A home in Piedmont insures a quiet, dignified and exclusive atmosphere, difficult to gauge in dollars and cents, but a home-place requisite not to be overestimated.

Let us show you these Piedmont lots, all restricted and ready for building:

On Grand Avenue

$2125—50x125; a good residence site for a little more than $40 per foot.

Monticello Avenue Frontage

Close to the Key Route

$1900—77-foot frontage on Pleasant Valley avenue; seven minutes' walk to Key Route station, two hundred feet from Piedmont avenue cars; an unusually wide lot and in the center of extensive building activity.

Facing the Piedmont Hills

$1250—46x100, on Greenbank avenue, with unobstructed view of Piedmont and the foothills; other properties on the same street held at and selling for $50 per foot; this is the last lot we own on Greenbank, and it won't last long.

Our salesmen will be glad to show you these and others that we know to be worth the money. Call us up for an auto or drop in at the office.

THE REALTY SYNDICATE
1444 BROADWAY, OAKLAND.
Phone—Oakland 4027.

$100 Down

Well-built four-room bungalows on 38-foot lots north side Quigley and Porter streets, Fremont Tract, North Fruitvale. Street work, sidewalks, water, sewer, etc., all in.

These houses are modern and carefully finished and may be bought for $2500 on the extremely liberal terms of $100 cash and the balance $25 per month, including interest.

Key Route right of way and three car lines—Mills College, Liese avenue and Hopkins street branches, within three blocks. Three good grammar schools within easy walking distance.

The Fremont Tract is in a warm belt and free from heavy fogs. Has every advantage of more expensive tracts and sells as low as $15 per front foot. Carefully restricted; desirable neighbors; 30 minutes from heart of Oakland.

These terms are the lowest ever offered by us and are within the reach of almost everyone now paying rent. Automobile service at any hour. 'Phone us for appointment.

THE REALTY SYNDICATE
1444 Broadway, Oakland, Cal. Phone Oak. 4027

Forty Foot Lots, $800

Block from Dwight way cars, less than five minutes' walk of Sacramento Street Key Route and California Street Southern Pacific. Other frontages of 35 feet if desired, with southern exposures. District good, building active, stores, churches, schools close by.

A bungalow on one of these $800 lots would not cost more per month to carry than the amount you probably spend for rent.

Our Building Department is prepared to submit preliminary sketches of attractive homes, using your own ideas and keeping cost down to the amount you wish to invest. No charge for our advice or suggestions.

We give you a deed with your first payment, which we have placed at an exceedingly low figure.

Phone us—Oakland 4027, or call at the office. Autos at your service.

AUSTIN Says:

For a few days I am offering a couple of special bargains in that choice apartment section of Oakland lying between Broadway and Lake Merritt and best known as

Lakeside

A tour of inspection or a little inquiry will enlighten you as to the phenomenal development of this small part of our city into the hotel and apartment section. I offer here the best buy in Oakland today for an apartment house site and will gladly give you the particulars. The establishment of the elegant Hotel Oakland and the nearness to Lake Merritt and the center of town and other modern apartment buildings are enough to put it in first place.

It is a rare condition, but I have one other piece of property right here that can be traded for other property, city or country.

Shows the Class

SMALL RANCHES.

Very near Oakland and San Francisco. On new Oakland & Antioch Electric Ry. Cars will soon be running direct from the Key Route boats to Lafayette, Walnut Creek and Concord.

Small Ranches
Near large cities are the Money Makers.
One or two acres,
as good as twenty located fifty to one hundred miles away.

What's the use of raising anything and giving all your profits to the railroads or express companies?

Small Ranches
near San Francisco and Oakland mean
a million people as a market, at your door.

Think this over.

Always get land near large population,
Near electric and steam transportation,
With good soil conditions;
In ideal climatic and healthful locality;
With established schools, churches, etc.,
etc., where you can grow anything:
Vegetables, fruits, berries, nuts, chickens.
Just what the ever-growing population of San Francisco, Oakland, and all the bay cities must have.
Where you can live in the country, and have all the city comforts.

This is land worth while,
In a country worth while.

Call at office or write for particulars.

LIGHT TADING IS MARKET FEATURE

Changes in Price From Yesterday's Close Small and Irregular.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Trading was unusually light when the stock market opened today. The changes in prices from yesterday's close were small and irregular. American Car gained a point and Canadian Pacific ¾.

Heaviness in Southern Pacific deterred buying of the general list for a time, but a later inquiry for the copper and steel gave a better tone to the trading.

The market closed firm. Specialization was lifeless and the stock market dragged tediously today. Few opportunities were presented for profitable trading and room traders found little to do.

Amalgamated was the only special favorite that moved as much as a point. Reports that one of the large eastern trunk lines was preparing for a strike, owing to the delay in adjusting differences with the firemen on the eastern railways restricted dealings in the stocks of these roads.

The market maintained a firm tone throughout the session and such small changes as occurred were generally in the shape of advances. Bonds were irregular.

WORLD SHIPMENTS AFFECT WHEAT PIT

Reports of Continued Drought in India Meet With Discredit.

CHICAGO, Feb. 8.—Expected large world shipments had a bearish effect today on wheat. Reports from India that drought continued were ignored. Seasonable weather counted against the bulls. The opening varied from a shade lower to ⅛c up. May started at 93¾@94c, unchanged to an advance of ⅛c, and then fell to 93⅝c.

Later a rally took place owing to reports that Germany and England were preparing for decided action relative to Turkey. The close was steady, with May ⅛@¼c net higher at 93⅞@94⅛c.

Higher cables failed to hold corn. The market weakened at once when it was seen there was little demand from shorts. May opened ⅛c to ⅜c higher at 53⅞c to 54⅛c and receded to 53⅝@48⅝c.

Subsequent scarcity of offerings helped to bring about an upturn. The close was steady at 54⅛c for May, half over last night.

Moderate efforts by longs to realize turned oats to the down side. May started a shade off to a like amount up at 35c to 35⅛c, touched 35⅛@35¼c and receded to 34⅞@35c.

Despite profit-taking, provisions held steady in consequence of a light hog market. First sales ranged from a shade off to 5c higher, with May $19.67½@19.70 to $10.75 for pork, $10.5 for lard and $10.52½ to $10.5 for 5ribs.

CLOSING QUOTATIONS.

Closing prices were as follows:

Wheat—May, 94⅝@94½c; July, 92½c; September, 90⅝c.

INAUGURAL PARADE TO MAKE RECORDS

Longest and Most Interesting Pageant Is Promised in Washington.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—The inaugural parade for President-elect Wilson now promises to be one of the longest and most interesting that has ever passed through Pennsylvania avenue from the capitol to the White House. Aside from the strictly naval and military contingents, the college representation will be one of the large and varied features.

The War Department decided yesterday that it may use a portion of its appropriation for army transportation which will include the West Point cadets' trip to Washington. The cadets had feared they would have to defray their own expenses.

For a time yesterday danger of a strike of carpenters who are erecting the parade stands threatened to interrupt the work, but the trouble was averted. Employment of non-union electricians to wire the stands for lighting purposes was said to have been the cause of the contention.

President Taft already has made his arrangements to depart from Washington for Augusta, Ga., immediately after the inaugural ceremonies have been completed. Taft will make the ride down the avenue with his successor to the White House and will pass through that structure to the south portico, where he will take a White House automobile for the union station.

BOXING EXPERTS NOW ON NEW YORK FORCE

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Sheriff Harburger yesterday added to his list of deputies by appointing Norman E. Selby, Mike Donovan and Jack Goodman.

Norman Selby is "Kid McCoy." Mike Donovan is boxing instructor in the New York Athletic Club, and once exchanged wallops with Colonel Roosevelt. Jack Goodman was the "pride of the West Side," and made enough money to establish a real estate business.

"In the case of riots or primary fights or stopping anarchists, bomb throwers and midnight assassins, I am more than pleased to have such experts on my force," said the sheriff. "They are quick, aggressive, scientific, able and brave enough to meet any emergencies. They can cope with the rabble, and these three men alone, if I send them among any disturbers of the peace, can readily handle 50 men."

AMERICANS PRESENTED TO ENGLISH RULERS

LONDON, Feb. 8.—King George and Queen Mary held their first court of the season last night at Buckingahm Palace. The Americans presented were Mrs. Robert A. Gardiner of Bay Shore, L. I.; Mrs. A. H. Adams of Texas, Miss Gertrude Edwards of Texas and Miss Polly Jacobs of New York. Miss Jacobs is a niece of John L. Griffiths, the American consul-general in London.

CITIZENS ARE TO PROTEST IN BODY

100 Will Appear Before Education Board to Object to School Change.

Over 100 protesting citizens, many of them women, decided at a mass meeting Thursday night, by unanimous resolution, to present themselves in a body at the next meeting of the Board of Education to put before them their objection to the making of an intermediate school out of the Emerson school.

Dr J. F. King has found himself unable at the last meeting of the board, because of the pressure of the board's business, to present the petition signed by 600 residents of the Emerson school district, but was promised a hearing later.

The Emerson school was built for the use of the primary and grammar grades, and the petitioners will make an endeavor to have the board rescind its recent action in making it "Intermediate School No. 2," thereby forcing the younger children to remain in the old wooden building.

SLAYER DECLARES THAT HE HAD BEEN ATTACKED

NAPA, Feb 8.—Cress Carey, who is on trial here for the murder of Fred Neuenschwander, testified in his own behalf yesterday afternoon. He said in part:

"While I was dancing tag dance with Mrs Neuenschwander at the Carneros Club's masquerade ball on the night of November 23 her husband came up, jealous and angry, and said: 'Mind your own business, please!' I explained that I meant no harm, but he was still angry the next day.

"On November 26 Mrs. Neuenschwander told me to be at Hulohica bridge, near her house, that night; that she wanted to talk to me.

"I went in a buggy to the place, and did not see her there, but suddenly I was attacked by Fred Neuenschwander. I finally shot him in the head with a revolver."

The buggy which figured in the case was shown in the courtroom. Carey admitted that he has a wife.

CLUB WOMEN SELL APPLES AT BARGAIN

CHICAGO, Feb. 8.—Six million apples at bargain prices were sold today by 3000 club women in grocery stores throughout the city in a campaign to reduce the cost of living. The women received the co-operation of grocers. Mrs. Claude B. Davis distributed hundreds of apples among school children. In the stores the fruit was sold at these prices: No. 1 Baldwin, 10 pounds for 25 cents; No. 1 Grimes' golden, 10 pounds for 35 cents; Spitzberg, $1.85 the box; black willow, $1.60 the box, and bellflowers, $1.60 the box.

APPROPRIATES $50,000.

MADISON, Wis, Feb. 8.—A bill appropriating $50,00 0for a state exhibit at the Panama-Pacific exposition was introduced in the General Assembly yesterday.

SAYS NEW SYSTEM IS NOT DESIRED

Will Create Unfavorable Impression, Is Claim of Official.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh in a letter to Representative Carter Glass of the House banking and currency committee, which is investigating treasury order No. 5, criticised, on the ground that it would result in the accumulation of $200,000,000 a year in gold in the New York banks from customs receipts, declared that the new plan of handling receipts and disbursements of the government did not involve an increase in the amount of bank deposits to any appreciable extent.

"The increase will not exceed in the aggregate two or three million dollars, if it reaches that sum," wrote the Secretary.

Representative Glass called attention to an attack upon the new order by Rudolph Spreckels of California, who charged that the order was put in effect to embarrass the coming Democratic administration.

"It is exceedingly doubtful whether a change of this revolutionary character in the business methods of the treasury," said Mr. Glass, "should be put in effect in the closing days of one administration to the possible embarrassment of the succeeding administration.

"ALTERATED METHODS"

"I do not make the charge that this change has been made with a view to embarrassing the next administration, but Mr. Spreckels does make the charge and many persons will be ready to take that view of the situation. It seems to me that alteration in the business methods of the treasury department might well have been left to the administration of Mr Wilson and his Secretary of the Treasury."

After hearing from Secretary MacVeagh and Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Bailey, Representative Glass stated that the treasury officials did not take the view that the new order was designed to or would embarrass the new administration, and he expressed the hope that they were right.

ANDY BEFRIENDS SMALL NAMESAKE

Endows Lad at Ellis Island With Bill; Also Favors Brother.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Mrs Catherine Rooney's little boy thanked his stars yesterday that his name was "Andy." Young Patrick Rooney also is glad that his brother has a name the same as Andrew Carnegie's.

Carnegie visited Ellis Island to see how the United States received its immigrants. Among the hundred in the detention pens were Mrs Rooney and her sons Andy, 4 years old, was crying.

"What are you crying for?" asked the giver of libraries.

"I want to go back to County Mayo," sobbed Andy.

"What is your name?"

"Andy, sir."

"My little man, you shouldn't cry," said the ironmaster. "This is a grand country, and you shall have as fine a chance to be rich here as though you were the son of a king or an earl."

The prospect of the future wealth failed to comfort Andy, but when Carnegie handed him a $2 bill he quickly dried his tears.

Andy's younger brother, Patrick, witnessed the transaction and sidled up to the philanthropist. "I'm his brudder, Patrick," he said insinuatingly.

Carnegie smiled and drew out another bill. It was only $1, but Patrick was satisfied.

TEACHERS WANT FREE BOOKS; FORGET NAMES

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 8.—Text books are free for the asking, but the school authorities who request them must not be too modest to mention their names, said Edward Hyatt, state superintendent of public instruction. Hyatt found 33 requisitions in his office without even the name of the teacher, school, town or county from which the request came. Hyatt says one or two mistakes might not be so bad, but when 33 schools show such carelessness he cannot understand it.

VEIL HIDES FACE OF MRS. MOORE?

Widow of J. J. May Be San Mateo's Woman of Mystery.

SAN MATEO, Feb. 8.—Speeding along peninsula roads in a new automobile, a mysterious woman whose features are concealed beneath a heavy veil, has given rise to the rumor that Mrs. Lillian McCarthy Moore, widow of J. J. Moore, is back from Europe.

For three days the veiled woman has been seen. Several persons who knew Mrs. Moore declared the woman to be her. No one seems to know where the mysterious newcomer is staying.

Thomas B. Eastland, brother-in-law of Mrs Moore, says that she has not returned. His last word from her was by letter from Paris three weeks ago, he says. Mrs. Moore's attorneys in San Francisco also assert that she has not left Paris.

Mrs. Moore left for Paris shortly after Chauffeur S. R. Timothy was acquitted of the charge of murdering Mr. Moore. It was rumored that Timothy also went to Europe to join Mrs. Moore.

INNOCENT MAN IS SAVED FROM JAIL

Brought to Trial on Nine Separate Counts He Has Narrow Escape.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—William Farren regards it as a close shave that as an innocent man he is not on his way to Sing Sing prison for a life term. Brought to trial on nine counts charging robbery, assault and grand larceny, Farren was declared by seven witnesses as the man who held them up at the point of a revolver in the bath beach section of Brooklyn on the night of November 9.

If convicted he would have been liable to prison terms amounting to 84 years. Notwithstanding the certainty of the witnesses against Farren Judge Dike, in the Kings County Court yesterday, directed the jury to acquit him because four reputable citizens had sworn to an alibi.

WOULD COMPEL USE OF BALLOT

Compulsory Voting Advocated by Banquet Speaker in the South.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 8.—Compulsory voting, with severe penalties for those who refused to exercise the right of franchise, was advocated by George W. Perkins of New York last night in an address at a banquet given by the Progressive county central committee.

"In my belief," said the speaker, "we can never get to a proper and permanent solution of great governmental and economic questions until people are compelled to use the ballot when so required."

Senator Lee C. Gates, who presided, spoke briefly on the work accomplished at the recent session of the Legislature and what the Progressive majority expected to do at the second half of the session. Dr. Jessica Peixotto of Berkeley spoke on "Mothers' Pensions."

WIFE DESERTER GIVEN WORK ON CHAINGANG

STOCKTON, Feb. 8.—That wife deserters do not fare well in San Joaquin county was shown yesterday when Judge Frank Smith sentenced Fred Weir, alias Clark, a grocery clerk, aged 22 years, to serve 18 months in the chain gang for deserting his young bride of six weeks. It was one of the most humiliating sentences ever imposed in this county. It provides that young Weir must work on the county roads, and for his services the young wife will be paid an amount not to exceed $1 50 a day.

Weir was visibly affected by the sentence. He had begged to be placed on probation, declaring that he would support his wife. He even offered to put up a bond as evidence of his good intentions, but the court turned a deaf ear to his entreaties and peremptorily imposed sentence.

SUIT BARES SECRET WEDDING OF HEIRESS

CHICO, Feb. 8.—The clandestine marriage of Frank E. Stapleton of Chico to Mrs. Luella Clark-Noonan, a local heiress, in Mobile, Ala., October 13, 1910, became known yesterday when news was received that Mrs. Mary F. Clark, as guardian of her daughter, had sued Stapleton in the Superior Court of San Francisco on behalf of her daughter, who, she asserts, is mentally deranged, for an annulment of the marriage vows.

Stapleton is a saloonkeeper.

"It is news to me," said Stapleton, when interviewed. "It was out of consideration for my wife and at her request that I never told of our marriage. No papers have yet been served on me. Until recently her parents did not know we were married."

GAINSBOROUGH PICTURE IS TARGET FOR ARROWS

LONDON, Feb. 8.—"This Gainsborough portrait was used as a target by youthful archers," was the statement made yesterday by an attorney in accounting for marks of restoration on a painting the possession of which is the subject of a lawsuit. The portrait was recently sold for $42,000.

The lawyer said the picture has been hung on the walls of a rectory, and that the two sons of the rector, armed with bows and arrows, had used it as a target. The face was the bullseye. One archer made an "inner," piercing the lady's neck.

NEGRO SUSPECT IS LYNCHING VICTIM

Mob Takes Black From Mississippi Jail and Hang Him to Tree.

HOUSTON, Miss., Feb. 8.—Andrew Williams, a negro, was lynched by a mob here. Williams was suspected of having murdered Mrs. John C. Williams, wife of the deputy chancery clerk of this county, who was found dead in her home here. Robbery was believed to have been the motive. When the mob attempted to take Williams from the jail he offered desperate resistance, but was finally dragged from the building and lynched from a nearby tree.

MONTANA IN LINE FOR FAIR.

HELENA, Mont., Feb. 8.—The Senate of the Montana Legislature, sitting as a committee of the whole, reported favorably yesterday the bill appropriating $50,000 for a Montana exhibit at the Panama-Pacific exposition.
